The diplomats said Romanian Premier Ion Gheorghe Maurer reported the moves to Austrian officials during an official visit to Vienna last week.

The diplomats said Maurer gave this account:

Outcome Unknown

The outcome of these talks was not indicated.

Maurer told Austrian officials Romania is ready to mediate between the United States and North Viet Nam "whenever there is a chance of bringing the war to an end."

U.S. Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield and four other senators left Romania Sunday on their way to Saigon after talks with Romanian officials on the Viet Nam war. Mansfield told newsmen he could not reveal the substance of the talks.

There was no reaction from the State Department in Washington to the report of Romanian peace efforts.

In Brazil

In Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, Rusk said in an ABC television interview that North Viet Nam has yet to show interest in any peace talks except on the basis of its "famous four points," which the United States has declared unacceptable.

Rusk was referring to a Hanoi

Rural Manawa Hunter Dies From Wounds

Arthur Steinbach Shoots Self While Crossing Fence

Eleven hunters including a rural Manawa man, have died on the opening days of the 1965 deer season.

Arthur Steinbach, 61, became Waupaca County's first hunting fatality when he was fatally wounded when his gun discharged while he was pulling it through a fence on his farm, 2½ miles west of Symco on State 161 about 9:30 a.m. Sunday.

Steinbach's death was due to loss of blood, according to Deputy Coroner Dr. Jerry Salan who pronounced him dead at his home. Steinbach was wounded in the right elbow.

Sheriff Loran Frazier said Steinbach had been hunting in a woods on his farm and was crawling through a fence when his gun discharged. The hunter crawled to his tractor and drove one-quarter mile to the barn where he got off the tractor and crawled to his house.

Called Wife

Steinbach managed to call to his wife then collapsed on the back porch and died, Frazier said.

The body was taken to the Bauer Funeral Home at Weyauwega and will be transferred to the Booth Funeral Home where arrangements are being made.

Three shooting deaths equaled the toll for the entire nine-day season last year. Eight other hunters died of heart attacks.

A 16-year-old boy was killed near Friendship when his father's rifle discharged accidentally and a high school teacher was shot and killed by a fellow hunter even though he was clad in red from his head to his ankles.

18 Others

At least 18 other persons suffered gunshot wounds. One of them was in critical condition at a Marinette hospital.

Bombs Rock Homes Of 4 Rights Leaders

No Injuries In Blasts in Carolina

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — The homes of four Negro civil rights leaders, including the state president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, were rocked by explosions early today, but no one was injured.

Chief of Police John S. Hord said the homes of Kelly Alexander, state president of the NAACP, and of his brother, Fred Alexander, were the most seriously damaged.

Blasts also occurred at the home of Dr. Reginald Hawkins, a dentist and militant civil rights leader, and the home of Julius Chambers, a young attorney who had handled many suits in behalf of Negro groups.

Hord, who arrived in the area 30 minutes after the blasts, said that in his opinion "it was a well-organized group.

"I'll guarantee you it was people who knew what they were doing. Whoever it was knew explosives and they knew the sections and how to get in and get out quickly."

In Raleigh, Gov. Dan Moore offered Charlotte officials the "full resources of our state investigative and law enforcement agencies."

Mayor Stan Brookshire of Charlotte said: "These bombings are most unfortunate and uncalled for. Our whole city is shocked. We have worked hard to promote peaceful and constructive race relations in which the leadership of our city has joined and which has been supported by the community at large. We will do everything possible to get to the bottom of this matter."

FBI Probe

The Federal Bureau of Investigation joined the investigation of the blasts, which occurr d at the four homes on Charlotte's west side about 2:30 a.m.

"We are certainly glad that no one was hurt," Hord said. He said there had been no racial incidents in recent years in Charlotte.

Kelly Alexander said, "I could see this happening somewhere else, but not in Charlotte.

"I called my brother after it happened and he said, 'Yes, I'm ruined too.'

"Anytime four blasts happen

Deaths Increase State Highway Toll For '65 to 903

An accident Friday claimed its second highway victim early this morning and a retired Neenah policeman was killed in a two car collision at a Neenah intersection Sunday, helping to raise the state highway death toll past the 900 mark.

The toll for the year has reached 903 compared with 968 on this same date last year.

Bradwright Lee Hale, 29, 1922 S. Commercial St., died at 12:10 a.m today at Mercy Hospital of injuries received in an auto accident Friday morning which killed Norbert Leonard Stonski, 35, 415 Amherst Ave., Oshkosh. The one car accident occurred on Winnebago County Trunk A near GG.

2-Car Crash

George Goldner, 60, 922 Gardner St., Neenah, who retired from the Neenah Police Department six years ago, died in a two-car crash early Sunday at Main Street and Grean Bay Road.

Two women, including Goldner's wife, Beulah, and another passenger, Mrs. Alvin E. Thoma, 637 Cleveland St., are listed in critical condition at Theda Clark Hospital with internal injuries.

Authorities said a car being driven by Mrs. Robert Endter, 19, 403 S. Williams St., Kimberly, was involved in the collision with the car being driven by Thoma, 58. Both cars were going north on Green Bay Road.

Two passengers in the Endter car, Mrs. Tom Eisch, Wisconsin Rapids, and Mrs. Gary Eisch, Combined Locks, are in satisfactory condition with injuries they received in the accident. Mrs. Endter was treated for minor injuries and released from Theda Clark Hospital.

Thoma is listed in satisfactory condition at Theda Clark.

Authorities said the death was the second this year in Neenah and was the 17th in Winnebago County in 1965. An inquest into the death is being contemplated by Winnebago County Coroner Arthur Miller.

Hale was born Aug. 21, 1936 at Atlanta, Ga., and was employed in Chicago several years before taking employment with Standard Kollsman Co., Oshkosh, 2½ years ago.

Survivors include the widow, two sons, his parents.

Funeral services will be at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday in the Kessler Funeral Home, Neenah, and 10 a.m. in St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church with the Rev. Leo H. Ott officiating. Burial will be in St. Margaret Cemetery.

Strikers to Return To Work at Cape

WASHINGTON (AP) — Striking McDonnell Aircraft Corp. machinists agreed today to go back to work at Cape Kennedy so as not to delay a Dec. 4 space shot, federal officials said.

The agreement, however, does not affect the strike of some 17,000 machinists against the company at St. Louis, Mo. The company is the prime contractor for Gemini space activities at Cape Kennedy and producer of Phantom jet fighters used in Viet Nam.

The AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists agreed to the request of Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz and Chief Federal Mediator William E. Simkin to pull down picket lines at Cape Kennedy and go back to work there.

Union vice president Eugene Glover said the machinists at Cape Kennedy will be advised of the decision immediately and "I assume that they will return" to work.

The 17,000-member International Association of Machinists, AFL-CIO, walked off the job at McDonnell's St. Louis plant Thursday in a contract dispute.

About 200 McDonnell machinists at Cape Kennedy, Fla., went out the next day, although they had voted to accept the company's contract proposals.

Prepare Launch

The Cape Kennedy crew was preparing for next month's launching of astronauts Frank Borman and James A. Lovell on a 14-day space journey.

McDonnell sent 38 management and technical experts to the Cape to try to keep preparations on schedule.

The union says its men are underpaid and endure unfair working conditions. McDonnell President David Lewis contends the proposed contract offer of a 9-cent-an-hour increase in each of the next three years is the best offered in the aircraft industry this year.

Rusk Sees Drop In Communism In Latin America

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today that communism has receded in Latin America over the past few years

"I think there is no doubt that it has lost strength in Latin America," Rusk said in an ABC television interview.

Rusk, who last visited South American in 1962, said there are indications Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro now "realizes that his type of activity cannot succeed"

300 Viet Cong Killed

South Vietnamese Force Beats Back Red Assaults

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Vietnamese forces beat back two heavy Communist assaults on the central coast today with help from bombarding U.S. Navy ships offshore and air strikes later. U.S. and South Vietnamese officers said at least 300 of about 1,500 attackers were killed.

The South Vietnamese—defending a fort in Thach Tru village, 20 miles south of Quang Ngai and 320 miles northeast of Saigon—were outnumbered 3 to 1.

Two U.S. Army advisers were killed in an assault on an outpost on a hill about a half-mile west of the fort.

"I got the s.o.b.'s that shot them," said Staff. Sgt. Henry McNeal of Pittsburgh, Pa. He and a fourth U.S. adviser were unhurt.

Poor Weather

In launching their attack, the Communists took advantage of poor weather conditions that grounded U.S. and South Vietnamese support planes.

The attack broke before dawn and the U.S. advisers called for the bombardment from two 7th Fleet destroyers lying offshore. McNeal said the Navy shells kept the attackers down until the weather cleared later in the day. Then U.S. and South Vietnamese planes and U.S. Marine helicopters attacked with napalm bombs and rockets.

Viet Cong bodies were strewn inside the fort, in the rice paddies in front of it and on the outpost hill.

Attack planes silenced six 81mm Viet Cong mortars that were firing on the hill.

U.S. and South Vietnamese officers on the scene said at least 200 Viet Cong were killed. Associated Press correspondent George Esper said he counted more than 100 bodies.

Officials said government casualties were light, but Esper said their casualties appeared to be moderate. Many of the rangers were killed inside the fort in close-in fighting.

The Viet Cong assaulted the fort six times during an eight-hour period. They were beaten off by small arms, automatic weapons and hand grenades.

Many of the Viet Cong were wearing brown khaki shirts and short black pants. A commemoration button reading "Dien Bien Phu Battalion" was found on one of the bodies. This battalion fought in the decisive battle at Dien Bien Phu in 1954 where the Viet Minh defeated the French.

Rightist Band Captured After Rebellion Try In Dominican Republic

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — A small armed band proclaimed itself in rebellion in a central Dominican town today but was reported captured. It was said to have been led by a rightist.

The group of about 15 men, including some peasants, occupied the radio station at the town of Tamboril, a small community south of Santiago and about 70 miles north of here.

They played a tape recording announcing the creation of a "revolutionary democratic government." Reports said the group was arrested without trouble and taken to Santiago.

Two Years Ago Today

Day of John F. Kennedy Assassination Recalled

BY ARTHUR EVERETT

NEW YORK (AP) — The big presidential airliner was airborne between Fort Worth and Dallas. The time was shortly before 11 a.m. Aboard with President John F. Kennedy was his wife, Jacqueline, and the usual retinue that surrounds the nation's chief executive.

Mrs. Kennedy carried a bouquet of red roses, a momento of an overnight stop at Fort Worth.

Back in Hyannis Port, Mass., the Kennedy children awaited the return of their parents. John F. Kennedy Jr., was to celebrate his 3rd birthday on Monday. Daughter Caroline was to be 6 on the following Wednesday.

Texas was not Kennedy territory, not really. True, he had carried the Lone Star State in 1960 by 1,167,932 votes to 1,121,699 for Republican Richard M. Nixon. But now the Democratic party in Texas was split.

It was generally assumed that this trip was a fence-mending mission, a prelude, if not an opening to Kennedy's 1964 campaign for re-election.

Some of his advisers had cautioned against the visit. The political climate in Texas, they felt, was not auspicious.

However, as his big plane droned along on the short hop from Fort Worth, the President could savor a feeling of accomplishment. Bareheaded, without a coat, shaking hands that morning in the rain with a warm and friendly outdoor audience in Fort Worth, Kennedy had been moved to remark: "All this makes me very glad to be here."

Flown in advance from Washington was the President's familiar White House limousine, a dark-blue, bubble-topped convertible. The bubble top was removed for the Dallas motorcade, because the weather had turned bland.

President Kennedy as he stepped into the car with his wife, carried a soft felt hat. He also carried the speech he was to deliver to 2,500 luncheon guests at the Dallas Trade Mart.

The theme of the speech was a familiar one. As he had so often before, Kennedy envisioned a nation on the move, facing a time for courage and a time of challenge. His address was to end with a quotation from the Bible's Psalm 124: "Except the Lord keep the city, the watchman waketh but in vain."

Kennedy's motorcade moved along a roundabout 11-mile route, between thousands massed in the Dallas business district. The crowd cheered the President and there was no evidence of rancor.

"You can't say Dallas isn't friendly today," remarked Mrs. John B. Connally, riding in the presidential limousine with her husband, the governor of Texas.

Kennedy started to reply.

At that instant, 12:30 p.m., three sharp explosive cracks were heard. Some in the motorcade took them to be firecrackers.

But in the presidential car, Kennedy fell face down in the back seat with assassin Lee Harvey Oswald's bullets in his neck and the back of his head.

"Oh, no!" gasped Mrs. Kennedy, cradling her husband while his life's blood stained her pink skirt. The president's felt hat lay on the floor of the car. Between the seats were wedged three twisted and crushed roses from Mrs. Kennedy's bouquet.

The motorcade made a careening dash to Parkland Hospital, but at 1 p.m. that Friday afternoon President John Fitzgerald Kennedy, aged 46, was officially pronounced dead.

The date was Nov. 22, 1963. The 35th president of the United States had become the first White House martyr in 63 years.

Oswald Shot

Kennedy's assassin, Oswald, was himself shot to death Nov. 24, 1963, by Jack Ruby, now in the Dallas County Jail appealing a death sentence decreed in March 1964, by a jury.

Mrs. Kennedy lives quietly in New York. She occasionally is seen in public, most recently this week when she visited Princess Margaret of Great Britain, upon the latter's arrival in Manhattan.

John Kennedy Jr., will be 5 years old on Thanksgiving, and Caroline's 8th birthday falls on Nov. 27. Both are in school — John at kindergarten classes near his penthouse apartment on Fifth Avenue, Caroline at the Convent of the Sacred Heart not far away.

"We treat her like anyone else," said a spokesman at Caroline's school.

Job of Staff Director for State Education Committee Attractive

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON — If the reorganized Coordinating Committee for Higher Education can avoid a public quarrel in its preparations for recruitment, the job of staff director of the chief planning board in Wisconsin public higher education is likely to attract aspirants from around the country.

Half a dozen inquiries have already been received informally. One of the men being mentioned as interested has a background in education as well as in the political aspects of government, which has been cited as desirable in a memorandum by the state Department of Administration.

He is Arthur Peterson, a professional teacher of political science who once taught at Wisconsin State University at Eau Claire, held a seat in the Wisconsin legislature for a period after World War I, and since working on Ohio University faculties has been employed as a consultant and assistant by Ray Bliss, the former Ohio Republican chairman who now heads the Republican national committee.

Some legislators are talking about a blue ribbon citizens committee that would make a thorough going study of the Wisconsin legislative process.

The review would cover such perennial and difficult issues as compensation, advisory staff and other assistance, and possibly, the size of the legislative houses. The legislature is now at maximum size in numbers of members, with 100 members of the Assembly and 33 members of the Senate. The constitutional law provides that the legislature can apportion as it pleases, with respect to number of districts, but sets a maximum membership of 100 for the Assembly and limits the Senate to one-third of that number. Some members have discussed privately the idea of fewer districts, which might make it politically feasible to raise salaries and other emoluments.

The concentration on Atty. Gen. Bronson La Follette in the current speech schedule of Sen. Jerris Leonard of Milwaukee suggests strongly that the Republican legislator has abandoned the idea of seeking the GOP nomination for lieutenant governor and will be a candidate for the nomination for attorney general next year.

Leonard has had considerable support from influential party men who regard him as a good campaigner and who know that LaFollette will be a hard man to unhorse in the 1966 elections.

The Democratic victory in the special Marinette-Florence County legislative election last week was a sizeable propaganda coup for the party, as Republicans are admitting privately. There will probably be some hard questions asked at the next meeting of the Republican state committee about the quality of the Republican campaign in the district which had not previously elected a Democratic representative in more than 30 years.

The election of a Democrat was also a kind of testimonial to the political acumen of Lt. Gov. Lucey, who called the election on his authority as acting governor when Republican Gov. Knowles was in Europe earlier in the fall.

One of the most controversial of the bills left dangling when the legislature adjourned is the one most anxiously backed by the mercantile community of the state and would strengthen the laws against shop-lifting. Merchants are virtually unanimous in their complaints to their legislative representatives that store thefts are becoming painfully costly, but thus far they have not succeeded in persuading legislators that their request for authority to detain persons suspected of shop-lifting, with immunity from criminal or civil liability, is a justifiable method for handling their problem.

The youthful McDonald-Davis Agency of Milwaukee, target of political attacks for nearly two years because of its association with the winning Republican gubernatorial campaign last fall, is evidently thriving in spite of the hard-hitting tactics of its critics. The National Conference of State Legislative Leaders is now under the control of Democratic officials, but the Milwaukee firm has been retained again for another term as its secretariat, and at a boosted fee.

The installation of John W Reynolds as the new U.S. district judge at Milwaukee recalls the family story of the origin of the initial "W" in his name. The judge and former governor was given the name of his late father, former attorney general of the state, who enrolled at the University of Wisconsin many years ago and was advised that it was customary for new students to record full names with the registrar.

When the senior Reynolds explained that he had no middle name, the registrar insisted that everybody must have one. Reynolds then listed his middle initial as "W", for the name of the state and its university, and later bestowed it also upon his youngest son.

In average amount of aid extended, the new health assistance program made effective by the state a year ago under the federal Kerr-Mills act is now the most generous of the public assistance programs in effect. Last month the average benefit per beneficiary reached $142.

Traffic Control In Little Chute Nearly Complete

LITTLE CHUTE — The newly installed traffic control signals at Madison and Main Streets are expected to be in complete operation about the middle of the week, according to Robert Nechodom, chief of police.

Lights currently are flashing with traffic on Madison Street getting the red signal and that on Main Street the amber light. The flashing warning was maintained for a few days to help motorists become aware of the installation, noted the chief.

A representative of the state traffic safety department is to inspect the installation prior to completion of the project. When completed, traffic will flow smoothly and trip the signals during periods of little traffic, thus insuring a rapid flow of vehicles through the intersection.

Chief Nechodom advised motorists, to use caution even though signal lights were in their favor as it may take some time for motorists who have used the intersection frequently to become adjusted to the traffic controls.

Kiwanis to Learn Of Freeway Driving

LITTLE CHUTE — Art Wickern, representative of the American Automobile Association, will show a film and discuss freeway driving at a luncheon of the Kiwanis Club at 6 p.m. Tuesday at Hammen's Restaurant.

Representatives of clubs in Kaukauna and Kimberly have been invited to make this an interclub meeting. Plans will be discussed for the Dec. 7 installation of officers and reservations taken for the Nov. 29 conference for district officers.

Packers End Scoring Slump, Whip Vikings

Erase 13-10 Deficit With 4 TDs in Final Quarter; Starr Hurls for 3 Tallies

BY ART DALEY
Post-Crescent News Service

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL — The Green Bay Packers broke out of a 4-game scoring lethargy Sunday . . . with an aerial bomb that exploded a 28-point fourth quarter.

Green Bay came to Metropolitan Stadium to play . . . and score . . . but it took a 47-yard burst from Bart Starr to Boyd Dowler to turn an otherwise tight battle into a runaway 38-13 victory.

The Packers rolled up five touchdowns and a field goal to surpass their total offensive output in the last four games in which they scored only 36 points, including three TDs.

The Packers were their swashbuckling confident selves again Sunday . . . and they appeared to have caught a second wind for the rugged 4-game stretch drive ahead — against the Rams, Vikings, Colts and 49ers.

The triumph set the Packer record at 8-2 and kept them a game behind the Colts who received a sharp scare from the lowly Eagles before escaping, 34-2', for a 9-1 record. The Bays visit Los Angeles next Sunday, and the Colts play at Detroit Thanksgiving Day.

The Packers' major improvement Sunday was, obviously, the offense. Bart Starr wasn't thrown for a loss once all afternoon and this is another way of saying that the hard-pressed offensive line played exceptionally well. Starr responded with three touchdown passes, ran twice for 44 yards —one a 38-yard fourth down keeper to set up the first TD, and generally looked like the "real" Bart Starr.

The big offensive power was provided by jarrin' Jim Taylor who broke the 100-yard barrier for the first time this season. He ripped 25 times for 111 yards and his strong crashing figured in four of the five TDs.

The Starr-Dowler blast put the Bays ahead, 17-13, on the second play of the fourth quarter, but the defense went to work with a vengeance.

Recover 2 Fumbles

In the final 14 minutes the hold 'em boys—in succession, mind you—recovered two fumbles, made an interception and recovered another fumble to ruin the high-powered Viking

Xavier '5' Scores 54-45 Triumph Over Assumption

Gene Jack Hits 25 Points in Team's Second Straight Win

WISCONSIN RAPIDS — Xavier High School's Gene Jack, who managed just three free throws in the first half, broke loose after intermission with 11 baskets to spark the Hawks to a 54-45 victory over Wisconsin Rapids Assumption here Sunday night.

Jack finished with 25 points for the night in leading the "Torchy" Clark-coached Hawks to their second straight victory of the young season.

Mike Heideman and Paul Rechner chipped in with 11 and 10 points, respectively, for Xavier. Don Krumrei led Assumption with 19 markers.

Xavier jumped off to a 16-9 lead after the opening period, but after scoring only five points in the second quarter, left the floor with a slim, 21-17 intermission lead.

Jack broke the game open, hitting six baskets in the third period, including four long shots from the side. A reserve forward last season, Jack then added five more baskets in the final period, with four of them coming from long range.

Xavier's aggressive zone defense stymied Assumption throughout much of the contest.

XAVIER — (16 5 15 18—54) — Jack 11 3 1, Hurley 2 0 1, Heideman 5 1 3, Rechner 5 0 3, Heinritz 2 0 2. Totals — 25 4 10.

Orr Returns From Hospital To Score TD

By GEORGE BOWEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — For the second straight week, the drama has been focused on an injury while the Baltimore Colts continue to win in the National Football League.

A week ago there was a great hulabaloo when Gary Cuozzo came in for the 10-year veteran, John Unitas, and threw five touchdown passes to beat Minnesota.

Sunday, it was even more movie-like. Jimmy Orr, the best Colt touchdown pass catcher, left the Philadelphia game early in

Starr, Taylor Played Key Roles in Ending Drought, Says Vince

BY LEE REMMEL
Post-Crescent News Service

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL— Obviously more relaxed than he has been in some weeks, Vince Lombardi was a man utterly at peace with the world in the vicinity of 4:15 p.m. Sunday.

Holding forth in the least cluttered corner of a jubilant dressing room, whose inhabitants were quietly but unashamedly savoring a 38-13 conquest of Minnesota's explosive Vikings, the Packer headmaster beamed and fervently observed, "We've had a long drought."

Having thus consigned those dreary days to the past, Lombardi voluntarily pinpointed the

Detroit Hurt by Penalties, Fumbles In 17-10 Setback

DETROIT (AP) — "I don't know what can be done about it, but I wish we hadn't fumbled so much out there today," Detroit Lions' Coach Harry Gilmer lamented Sunday.

Gilmer mentioned fumbles — and 126 yards in penalties against the Lions — after the Chicago Bears edged the Lions 17-10 on Gale Sayers' 20-yard touchdown run early in the third quarter.

"This was a fine ball game and the fumbles hurt us," Gilmer continued. "And it seems there always are a lot of penal-

Browns Take Step Closer to Crown With 24-17 Win

DALLAS (AP) — Cleveland beat Dallas 24-17 Sunday with Jimmy Brown and Frank Ryan handling the offense, but it was the hawk-eyed pass defenders who really got the job done.

That and the decision of quarterback Don Meredith of the Cowboys to pass on first down on the Cleveland one-yard line when Dallas could have tied the game up with a touchdown. And, according to Coach Tom Landry, would have had the momentum to score some more and win.

Trouble was that Vince Costello intercepted the pass in the end zone and that saved the day.

Dallas got the ball on the Cleveland one when there was pass interference by Walter Beach of the Browns in the end zone. There were four minutes left.

The crowd of 76,251 — largest ever to see a football game in the Cotton Bowl — thought Meredith would run for the touchdown. Don Perkins, the Dallas fullback, had been having a good day and it seemed quite logical for him to take the ball into the line.

Threw Toward Clarke

But Meredith threw toward Frank Clarke in the end zone and Costello came up with the ball.

Pass interceptions were the despair of the Cowboys. Bernie Parrish intercepted a Meredith throw to set Cleveland up for the touchdown drive that actually won the game in the third period.

And after Costello's timely interruption of Meredith's train of thought, the Cowboys had still another chance before time ran out to get at least a tie.

Brown fumbled a pass on the Cleveland 40 with 1:40 remaining on the clock and Meredith

Bill Munson Has Surgery

Knee Operation May Keep Him Out for Season

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) —Los Angeles Ram quarterback Bill Munson underwent surgery Sunday night for repair of knee damage suffered earlier in the day in a game with the San Francisco 49ers.

A Ram spokesman, who flew here with Munson after the Rams' 30-27 loss, said the ligament and cartilage damage in Munson's right knee would keep him out for the rest of the season.

Munson was met at St. John's Hospital by Dr. Daniel Levinthal, who with team physician Dr. John Perry decided upon immediate surgery.

Munson injured the same knee earlier this year in a National Football League contest with the Minnesota Vikings. That time, the man who hit him was Bill Jobko, who used to play for the Rams and who works out with Munson in the nearby San Fernando Valley during the off season.

This time, the man who tackled him in San Francisco was Clark Miller, a former teammate and fraternity brother of Munson's at Utah State.

Burford Suffers Shoulder Injury

BOSTON (AP) — Kansas City's Chris Burford, one of the American Football League's top pass receivers, suffered a shoulder separation Sunday late in the fourth period of the Chiefs' 10-10 tie with the Boston Patriots.

Burford caught nine passes for 120 yards and one touchdown before he was clobbered by Boston's Ron Hall and Jay Cunningham in attempting to grab a pass from Len Dawson.

A club spokesman said the veteran end would undergo surgery in Kansas City and probably would be lost for the season.

Len, Dave Umnus Speak to FVL Gridders

Banquet Features Father-Son Coaches

BY TIM PETERMANN
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Fox Valley Lutheran High School Sunday held its first football banquet in the last eight years. It came about as a result of the team's 7-2 record, which Head Coach Dave Umnus and Athletic Director Gerhard Kaniess thought deserved special recognition.

Former FVL grid star Bill Neubauer served as the master of ceremonies. The guest speaker was Leonard Umnus, father of FVL Coach.

The senior Umnus is the head football coach at Northwestern College, of Watertown. He is the dean of college coaches in Wisconsin. Umnus' team this year took the championship of the Gateway Conference.

The speaker praised the FVL team and stressed the idea that a school "might have a good team" but there is no such thing as "the best team."

Gives Illustrations

He used illustrations from his football career. He said that he played on the University of Illinois team that won the Big Team title in 1923, but said there would be no comparison to Big Ten teams today.

He added that teams today are becoming bigger, faster, better physically conditioned, and better equipped.

The FVL principal, Pastor Harold Warnke, said that the Board of regents had just recently established a bleacher fund.

Freshmen coach Kaniess spoke about his frosh team that posted a 4-1 record.

Varsity Coach Dave Umnus mentioned that Mark Woods had been the most improved player last year and had improved even more this year. He cited his game at Horicon, in which Woods intercepted a pass deep in FVL territory and returned it 44 yards to set up an FVL score, as his best of the year.

Sheldon Schneidewend was commended on his strength and ability to move with his weight (205), especially on the sweep, which FVL used very successfully. He also was elected as co-captain for the year.

Mike Huebner was named as an important cog in the offensive line.

Elroy Conradt played only his second year of football but turned into a good defensive player.

Keith Palmbach led FVL's rush on opposing quarterbacks as an end and had his biggest day at homecoming, when he returned a fumble 26 yards for a score.

Fred Huebner was cited as being hard-nosed and aggressive. In his biggest day, at Wayland, he fell on a loose football in the end zone for an FVL score.

Scores 3 TDs

Dennis Neumann was second on the team with 10 pass catches and three TDs. Two of the latter were deciding factors in two wins.

Tom Ehlke was praised for his running ability, which broke him into the starting lineup for the first time since his freshmen year. Ehlke was second on the team in rushing with 463 yards in 82 attempts, for a 5.65 average. Ehlke's running ability helped him push across 12 PATs. Ehlke was the only one to score in every game this year.

Alan Moore was cited as having played more positions than anyone else on the team. His final spot was at linebacking, and he proved himself an alert defensive player.

Mark Dahlke was the team captain and was voted the most valuable player.

Dahlke led the team in rushing with 685 yards in 120 attempts for a 5.7 average. He was the leading scorer with 74 points. He led in pass receiving with 11 catches for 142 yards. He also led in both punt returns and kickoff returns with 89 and 155 yards respectively to give him a total of 1,071 yards for the season.

Umnus also praised the underclassmen lettermen whom he will have back next year for FVL's football entrance into the Midwest Prep Conference. They include juniors Jeff Volkman, Dave Tiedt, James Verbeten, Bob Schuelke, Eugene Schabo, Duane Forbeck, Paul Mueller and Howie Korth. The sophomores include Rodney Huebner, Dan Haase and Gerhard Schroeder.

Vince Lauds Play of Starr And Taylor

catalyst in the Pack's resounding revival on Metropolitan Stadium's spongy turf.

"The big difference was Starr (quarterback Bart) had his timing back—he hasn't had it for a couple of weeks," he said. "And Taylor's (Jim) running, of course.

"It's been our hallmark for six or seven years, the two of them, and they both had it today," Lombardi added, with pardonable satisfaction.

'An Amazing Boy'

"Defensively, I thought we did a real fine job on Tarkenton (Viking quarterback, Fran)... but, "Vince noted, almost in the same breath, "he's an amazing boy."

And the pass protection (which had been a universal target of coffee shop quarterbacks in recent weeks)? "It must have been better. I don't know—I haven't seen the figures, but I don't think he got caught all day." (which, he was assured by the fourth estate, was a correct assumption).

"I guess the yardage of the two teams was about the same. Tarkenton must of made most of theirs," Lombardi chuckled, appending with a shake of the head, "I don't know how he sees. . .he must have another set of eyes some place."

Did he consider Ray Nitschke's fourth quarter fumble recovery, which triggered the Packers' third touchdown and vaulted them into a 24-13 lead, had swung the decision Green Bay's way? "I don't know about that, but all fumble recoveries are big ones, of course."

Reminded of a "fumble" just prior to Nitschke's contribution, on which the ball had been ruled dead, Lombardi observed, "I think that official must have missed that one. . .It's the only possible explanation. He fumbled the ball back here, then ran about five yards. . .It was clearly a fumble."

Did he think his Packers, one game to the rear of the Baltimore Colts, had a chance to win the Western Division title? "Yes, I think so," was the ready reply. "We think we've got a chance."

Asked about the Bays' bristling goal-line stand in the first quarter, a spectacularly staunch series which halted the Vikings six inches short of a touchdown, Lombardi significantly noted, "There's no way of telling, but those may have been the big plays of the game. . .and they had five downs.

"I think it's a credit to our team, the fact that our offense hasn't been scoring too many points of late and we stayed in there. . .What is it now, 8-2?"

Although patently still a trifle embarrassed over his recent and brief "retirement" as head coach of the Vikings, a somewhat subdued Norm Van Brocklin was not at a loss for words—or answers. He didn't make his replies with customary authority, but there was no delay.

His athletes' fourth quarter fumbles had been prohibitively expensive, he said, observing, "we were leading them until then."

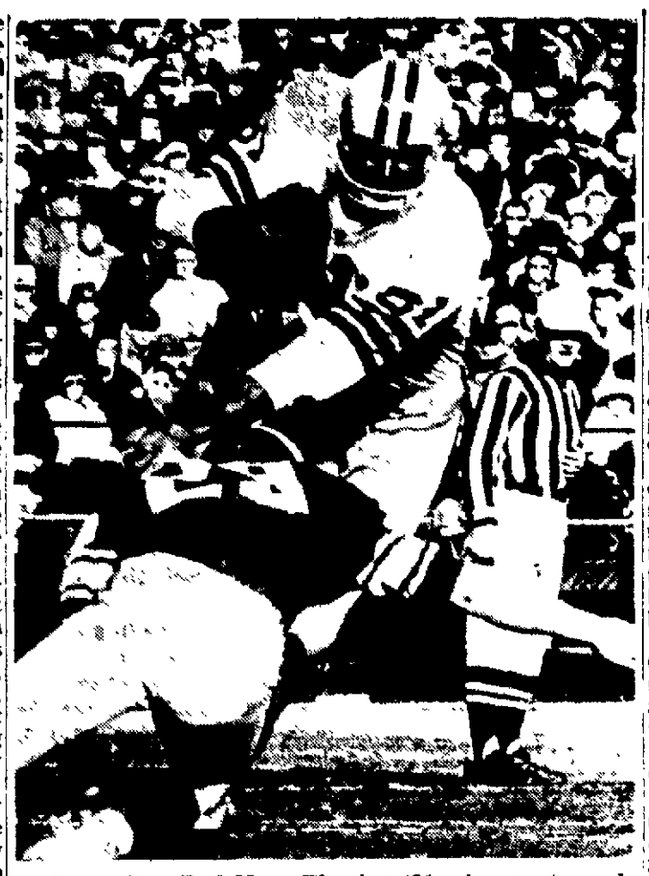
What of an earlier situation, the play which had seen Tarkenton ruled short of the goal on a fourth-and-1 situation in the first quarter? "I couldn't tell if Fran was over or not," Van Brocklin replied, quipping, "I had the worst seat in the house."

"Tarkenton, in a separate conversation, unwittingly echoed the boss' version, declaring, "I don't know whether I was over or not — (I didn't have a very good seat.")

Finds Little Fault

The "Dutchman" found little fault with either his offense or defense, which may come as something of a surprise in the face of a 38-point yield. "We moved the ball very well," he said, "until we started coughing up the ball."

The same, Van Brocklin inparted, went for his defenders.



Green Bay End Marv Fleming (81) charges toward Karl Kassulke, Minnesota defensive back, and tries to break away after taking a short pass from Bart Starr in the first period of their game Sunday. Kassulke, a former Marquette gridder, missed the tackle, and Fleming netted five yards on the play. (Post-Crescent News Service Photo)

"They were doing all right, too, until we started coughing up the ball—we'd held 'em to 10 points."

Had he been surprised to see Paul Hornung sit out for the Packers? "No, I wasn't," he said. "They've got so many good ones, it doesn't make any difference anyway."

The Packers, it was suggested in this connection, "looked like they might be waking up."

"Maybe we had a little something to do with waking 'em up," Van Brocklin said wryly.

"You know, of course, Taylor's their offense," Norm added. "He's a helluva back."

And the Packer defense—might they not be the best Green Bay has had? "They've got some great individuals—they make some great individual plays. I don't think they cover any better back there," he said, disagreeing with one scribe's theory. "It's those guys up front. Aldridge has to get better, week after week. . .and Jordan (Henry) and Davis (Willie) make the big plays."

Exhibiting a flash of the "old" Van Brocklin fire as he departed (which may portend dire things for the Dec. 5 rematch in Lambeau Field), he rapped, "But they aren't so- - - - - good they can't get walked over."

Baltimore's Rally Stops Eagles, 34-24

the second quarter with an injured shoulder.

It was announced he had gone to the hospital and he was forgotten. But he showed up in the last quarter, went into the game without even heading for the bench and on the second play caught a 22-yard touchdown pass to nail down a 34-24 victory over the Eagles.

"You'll do anything to win the championship," said Orr, who not only brushed off the injured right shoulder after a precautionary X ray at a nearby hospital but who also had a left which looked like hamburger after being stepped upon.

Orr was only one of several Colts who were knocked out of the game, either for good or for a spell and at times substitutes were replacing substitutes. The fact the replacements have been coming through "is a real big part of our success," says Coach Don Shula.

"They were dropping like flies," he said of Sunday's game with the Eagles. He pointed out the injuries go back to center Dick Szymanski before the regular season started. And the Colts have won nine of 10, and the last eight in a row to lead the Western Conference.

Szymanski broke an arm and the Colts replaced him for five games with Buzz Nutter on a trade from Pittsburgh. Half backs Lenny Moore on offense and Lenny Lyles on defense missed two games.

Two weeks ago, linebacker Don Shinnick broke an arm and he was replaced by Ted Davis. Against the Eagles, Davis was hurt in the third quarter and Jackie Burkett took over.

A week ago at Minnesota, defensive end Ordell Braase suffered a pulled groin muscle near the end of the first half. Coach Shula compensated by moving Billy Ray Smith to end and replacing him with Guy Reese at tackle.

Against the Eagles, Reese took a knock on the head early in the second quarter and was too dizzy to play any more. Smith was moved back to tackle and rookie Roy Hilton tried at end. When that didn't satisfy, Smith reverted to end and Glenn Ressler, another rookie, went in at tackle.

George Preas, 11-year-veteran, also suffered a pulled leg muscle and had to be relieved for a time by Dan Sullivan. And Tony Lorick, starting fullback, also had to sit out the second half while Jerry Hill carried on.

Looking to the next game Thursday at Detroit with only three days off, Shula said "We'll have to do it, that's all."

Just before Orr's arrival on the scene, defensive halfback Bob Boyd of the Colts literally stole another go-ahead touchdown from the Eagles.

Raymond Poage appeared to have caught his second touchdown pass from quarterback Norman Snead in the end zone, but Boyd wrestled it from him.

The Colts were on their own 30 when Orr trotted into Memorial Stadium, and a roar went up from the crowd of 60,238. It became deafening when the slightly built flanker wheeled directly onto the field.

On the first play, halfback Lenny Moore galloped 47 yards with a pass from Unitas, and on the next Orr caught the ball in his favorite right hand corner of the end zone.

Unitas signaled his return to action in a blazing fashion after sitting out last Sunday with an aching back while Gary Cuozzo filled in and pitched five touchdowns to beat Minnesota.

On the fourth play for the Colts, Unitas tossed a looper to Moore, who leaped between two defenders and went in for a touchdown covering 52 yards.

The Colts ran up a quick 14-point lead when Jerry Logan ran a pass interception back 36 yards for a touchdown, but the Eagles made a battle of it after that.

By the end of the half, the score was tied 17-17, and the Eagles went ahead 24-20 on Snead's seven-yard pass to Poage just before the end of the third quarter.

Moore, whose 20 touchdowns last season set an NFL record and who had scored only four in the first nine games this campaign, tallied his second of the game on a plunge early in the last period. Three passes by Unitas to Raymond Berry and John Mackey covering 47 yards set up the score.

Snead also threw a 16-yard touchdown pass to Pete Retzlaff in the first period, and Ollie Matson ran three yards for a touchdown in the second to keep the Eagles on the Colts' heels.

The rest of the scoring was by the field goal kickers, Lou Michaels booting two of 46 and 13 yards for the Colts and Sam Baker 37 yards for the Eagles.

threw to Bob Hayes on the 23. But the next Meredith pass went into the hands of Ross Fichtner and he ran back up to the Dallas 42. That settled it.

Meredith's passing led to all of the Dallas scoring. His throwing and Perkins' running brought a 10-yard field goal by Danny Villaneuva as Dallas took the lead in the second period.

Meredith ran for 16 yards to set up the first Dallas touchdown, a two-yard pass to Pettis Norman for the score. And Meredith's 45-yard bomb to Hayes produced the final Cowboys' touchdown.

Brown, who ran for 99 yards during the afternoon, and Ernie Green rapped the Dallas line for 20 and 24 yards, respectively, to get the Browns in their first scoring range. And when the drive was stopped by a penalty Lou Groza booted a 46-yard field goal.

Brown ran for 16 yards and took a seven-yard pass from Ryan to set up a touchdown a short time later. Ryan also had thrown a 17-yarder to Green to keep the surge moving. Brown then ran around left end and slid off three would-be tacklers for the three yards necessary for the score.

Leroy Kelly chipped in with a 67-yard punt return for a touchdown to put Cleveland ahead 17-3.

Royals Win, Tie Boston For First Place

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cincinnati won and gained ground; Boston was idle and stood still, and New York suffered a setback without even playing.

The Royals, with Jerry Lucas netting 30 points and grabbing 21 rebounds, beat Baltimore 120-114 at Indianapolis, Ind., Sunday night and moved into a first-place tie with Boston in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division.

In the only other game, Wilt Chamberlain scored 32 points and picked off 33 rebounds as Philadelphia edged Los Angeles 110-104 at Los Angeles, snapping the Lakers' six-game winning streak.

New York got some bad news from its team physician, Dr. Kazuo Yanagisawa, who said 6-foot-10 corner man Willis Reed has a bone spur in his right foot and may be forced to limit his playing time for the rest of the season.

400 Attend 'Testimonial' For Aaron

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Henry Aaron, twice National League batting champion and once its most valuable player, received a gleaming silver bowl at a testimonial dinner Sunday night and called it "the most memorable gift of my career."

"That includes all of the plaques and trophies I have received in the past," said the hard - hitting outfielder for the Atlanta - bound Milwaukee Braves.

Aaron, second in the league batting race this year, was honored by 400 persons at a banquet in the ballroom of a downtown hotel. The Mary Church Terrell Club, Inc., sponsored the testimonial dinner.

Skoronski Pleased With Line

Starr Grateful Lombardi Stuck With Him; Taylor Healed, Cites Blocking

Post-Crescent News Service

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL — "I'm real grateful to Coach Lombardi for sticking with me. . .I stunk out the joint the last couple of weeks."

The hour of vindication, at long last, had come for Bart Starr and the personable Alabaman who had been suffering in silence of late, was taking sober satisfaction in the knowledge that he and the once-faltering Packer offense had resoundingly erupted from a nagging slump here Sunday afternoon.

How had he approached the problem? Starr, who had pitched three touchdown passes in the process of coordinating the welcome, 38-13 explosion at the Minnesota Vikings' expense, said, "I tried to tell myself not to be too tight, too tense — because I know I've been pressing. . .I was nervous, though, I couldn't help it.

"I'm just grateful to the coach," he repeated with evident sincerity, "for sticking with me. He's taught me everything I know — he's made me what I am and I felt that I was letting him down."

Starr, who had not lost a yard attempting to pass in happy contrast to two previous experiences, lauded the Pack's offensive wall. "Our line did a great, great job of blocking overall," he declared, "and Jimmy (Taylor) ran exceptionally well.

"I'll tell you one thing about this bunch up here," Bart added with fervor, "They hit you — they really hit you."

Taylor, surrounded by a highly inquisitive press corps, attributed his freewheeling, 111-yard performance to confidence — and sound wheels."

"I had all the confidence in the world today that I could drive off it (the heel which had troubled him since the final game of the exhibition season). I didn't have to favor it."

Analyzing further, the Bayou Bronco pointed out, "we were coming off the ball real well. . . and the halfbacks made some key blocks on the off tackle plays. I also had good holes up the middle — I had a lot of cutback plays.

"And I thought Bart called a beautiful game," he continued. "When you have a third and 7 situation, they figure you have to pass, but Bart mixed 'em up real well."

Blocking alone hadn't produced all those yards, one Twin Cities scribe observed. Taylor grinned and replied, "I'm in good shape to meet those safetymen. . .I just hope I can stay in shape the rest of the way."

A picture of contentment, offensive Capt. Bob Skoronski confided, "We were having our doubts about our offense ourselves. After you play one bad ball game, and then two, you begin to wonder, 'are we really bad, or what is it?' We needed this one very badly — for our confidence, in the standings — for everything.

"It was our best offensive effort of the year — Jimmy ran well, we blocked well and Bart called a fine game. And, I might add, the Vikings are a good ball club, I hope — I don't know," he added with customary caution, "but I think we broke the shell, broke the ice, today. I couldn't be happier — we needed this one so badly it's unbelievable."

Ray Nitschke, an ex-fullback who had had rare opportunity to display his running talents after recovering a fougth quarter fumble, had enjoyed it hugely.

"How many yards was that, by the way?" he asked. Informed he had negotiated 18, Nitschke quipped, "is that all?"

Turning serious, he added, "I'm just happy I had the ball . . . I grabbed it off the shoulder or a helmet or something. It was kind of weird.

"I did think I had a chance to go all the way, but I was so excited about having possession," he smiled, "that scoring wasn't the thing that concerned me right then."

Another defensive hero, Doug Hart, reported with a rueful grin, "I would have traded that touchdown for an interception." Hart, who cantered 20 yards to score with a Bill Brown fumble in the fourth quarter, had reference to the spectacular "theft" he engineered during the Pack's first quarter goal line stand, only to discover that it had been nullified by an offside levy.

Estimate Deer Kill at 40,000 in Two Days

MADISON (AP)—The Wisconsin Conservation Department reported today that about 40,000 deer were killed in the first two days of the state's hunting season.

The figure included does killed in the 38 areas where a variable quota exists for the shooting of any deer under a party camp permit.

James Taylor, information director of the department, said that there were no accurate figures available to compare the first two-day kill with the corresponding period in 1964, but added that the total was down slightly from last year.

Mild temperatures, wet weather and the lack of hunting pressure contributed to the relatively small kill this year, Taylor said. He said there was little snow in most of the heavily hunted areas to aid hunters in tracking deer.

The total kill in the 1964 season was in excess of 90,000 deer. In most of the past seasons more than 50 per cent of the deer are killed in the first two days. After that deer hide in the deep swamps where it is difficult to drive them out or kill them.

Taylor said that the largest deer reported killed was a 210-pound buck, shot near Montello in Marquette County. Five bear have been reported shot.

The information director said that 265 arrests had been made in the first two days for violation of Conservation Department orders and that 215 illegally shot deer had been confiscated.

Eleven casualties — eight from heart attacks and three from accidental shootings — were reported during the first two days of shooting.

offense and set up three touchdowns.

First, Ray Nitschke recovered a fumble on the 14 and five plays later Elijah Pitts went over from the 2 and it was 24-13. Then Hank Jordan shook loose a fumble and Doug Hart scooped up the ball and ran 20 yards for a TD for 31-13. And finally Lionel Aldridge recovered a fumble at midfield and Starr drove the team 47 yards in nine plays, throwing 11 yards to Bob Long for the TD.

The defense had a high point in the first quarter—a strong goal line stand on which Fran Tarkenton was stopped inches from a touchdown on fourth down.

This was a real ding-dong test until the fourth quarter. Fred Cox kicked a 34-yard field goal after the goal line heroics and then Starr threw 15 yards to Carroll Dale to put Green Bay ahead, 7-3. Don Chandler booted a 36-yard field goal to make it 10-3 in the second quarter. Just before the half Cox kicked his second field goal, from the 27, to set the count at 10-6 at the half. The only scoring in the third quarter was Tarkenton's 27-yard aerial to Paul Flatley to put the Vikings ahead, 13-10, for the second time.

The Vikings wound up with a statistical advantage, 19-16 in first downs, 364-339 in total yards, and 70-57 in total offensive plays.

The Vikings' edge was gained in the last three minutes when Ron Vanderkelen piled up four first downs and 58 net yards in an unsuccessful drive to score. They held the ball for 11 plays.

This was to be a game of "reaction"—the Vikings due to the sudden resignation and return of Coach Van Brocklin and the Packers due to their prolonged point slump. The Vikings were tough as nails, indicating no "shock" there, and the Packers' 38 points account for their reaction.

Leading Rusher

The slippery Tarkenton was just that and he finished as the Vikings' leading ground gainer with 54 yards in eight broken-pass dashes. Tarkenton started his scampering on the Vikings' first play of the game, racing right end for 24 yards to the Packer 46. The Vikings reached the Packer nine on nine short gainers. With Phil King and Bill Brown hitting, they reached the two in two more plays. On third down Hart intercepted in the end zone but it was nullified because the Packers were offside. On the second third-down play, Brown hit to the 2-foot line. On fourth down, Tarkenton got his head and shoulders over the goal line but the ball was inches short.

Starr threw on first down from deep in the end zone and it was a beauty — 28 yards to Dowler but he fumbled and Carl Kassulke recovered on the Packer 29. Hart kayoed a pass and Cox hit a field goal from the 34 for a 3-0 Viking edge.

The Packers then drove 77 yards in eight plays for the lead TD. Taylor led off with 14 yards in two trips, but the attack reached a fourth-and-1 situation on the 46. Starr surprised by Wheeling around right end on a keeper for 38 yards to the 16 with Dowler and Dale dealing good blocks on the 25. Two plays later, Starr, after faking a handoff, threw a TD strike to Dale who had slipped away from George Rose on the 2.

After Jordan recovered a Tarkenton fumble, Kassulke intercepted a Starr pass and Walden punted, the Packers went on a 51-yard drive to a field goal. Taylor led off with 13 yards in two trips and then the big gains were Starr passes to Tom Moore for 31 yards (Moore caught three for 50) before Chandler hit from 36 yards out and a 10-3 edge.

Just before the half, Cox hit his 27-yard field goal.

After Dave Robinson hit a wobbly Tarkenton pass (Aldridge hit his arm) and Chandler punted, the Vikings went on an 80-yard TD drive in eight plays. Tarkenton led off with a 31-yard pass to Flatley and after Bill Barnes and Brown gained on the ground, Tarkenton broke away to his left and hit Flatley with a perfect strike in the corner of the end zone. That made it, 13-10.

The Packers started a push on the last play of the third period. Taylor hit for seven off left tackle and then 13 in the same spot to the Viking 47. Starr uncorked his bomb and the ball, traveling a good 55 yards, dropped into Dowler's mitts on the five and he ran home in front of Ed Sharockman and Larry Vargo. The Packers were in front, 17-13.

Brown then fumbled in the middle of the line and Nitschke grabbed the "wild" ball on the 32 and returned 18 yards. From the 14, Taylor hit for 5, 2, 4 and 1 yards to the 2 from where Pitts banged in.

On second on the 21, Jordan broke through and caught Brown from behind and the ball went flying. Hart picked it up on the 20 and ran home for a 31-13 lead.

Joe Namath, the New York Jets $400,000 quarterback, stood in the dressing room peeling the tape off his knee brace as club owner Sonny Werblin leaned over and whispered:

"Joe, I'm ready to re-negotiate."

Namath and Werblin smiled — but no one laughed.

For Namath had just finished his first four-touchdown day ever — in high school, college or pro ball — and continued his rapid development by passing the Jets to a 41-14 victory over the Houston Oilers Sunday.

The triumph, their fourth in a row, moved the Jets into second place in the Eastern Division of the American Football League. But more significant was the fact that Namath had his best day as a pro and led the Jets to these notable achievements:

—Namath himself tied Dick Wood's record for most touchdown passes in a single game.

Completed 17 of 26

—Namath, who completed 17 of 26 passes for 221 yards before being relieved at the start of the fourth quarter, engineered an offense that gained a club record 522 yards over-all.

—Matt Snell gained 135 yards in 19 carries and Bill Mathis 126 in 14 tries as the team set a rushing high of 284.

—The Jets have won four in a row for the first time in the team's six-year history.

"It's just from growing up," said Coach Weeb Ewbank in explaining Namath's development as the No. 1 quarterback in the last three games. "He's studying hard. He's learning patterns. He's making the right decision on whether to run Snell or Mathis."

ties called in the tight games when two teams are playing their hearts out."

Bears' Owner-Coach George Halas, obviously delighted with the second triumph this season over "our No. 1 enemy," likewise had a word or two about the penalties. The Bears were assessed 73 yards.

"It looked like they were growing dandelions out there at times," Halas said of the officials' gold flags.

Tommy Watkins returned the opening kickoff 94 yards to the Chicago six to set up the Lions' first score. Amos Marsh went in from the three.

The Bears turned a Bobby Smith fumble and a poor Pat Studstill punt into 10 points in the second quarter.

Arnett scored from 24 yards out on the first play after Mike Reilly recovered for the Bears and Roger Leclerc kicked a 18-yard field goal after Studstill's punt from the end zone went out of bounds on the Detroit 30.

Wayne Walker kicked a 37-yard field goal wih less than two minutes remaining in the half for what proved to be the Lions' final points.

Lynch Stars in Giants' Victory

Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Dick Lynch is listed as a cornerback, but he handled the ball so often Sunday it was difficult to tell if he was playing offense or defense.

The ball-hawking New Yorker not only scored one touchdown for the Giants and set up another, he even tallied two points for the St. Louis Cardinals.

"The coaches have been telling us all week to go after the ball," he explained.

He and the New York defense accomplished that mission so thoroughly they moved into a second place tie with St. Louis in the Eastern Division by beating the Cardinals 28-15 in the National Football League duel.

The Giant victory also all but eliminated the once highly rated, but now sagging, Cardinals from title consideration. The Cardinals, who have lost four of their last five games, are tied with the Giants at 5-5. Three games behind Cleveland with four contests remaining.

Lynch, leading a persistent and opportunistic New York defense, began probably his finest day in nine NFL seasons on an unusual note.

He pounced on a loose ball in the New York end zone after teammate Jerry Hillebrand had intercepted a pass by reserve St. Louis quarterback Buddy Humphrey at the two and fumbled. Lynch thus gave the Cardinals a two-point safety, instead of seven points on a touchdown.

Intercepts Pass

But he helped get those back before halftime when he intercepted another Humphrey pass and raced 23 yards to the St. Louis 15. Earl Morrall tossed five yards to Homer Jones moments later for a touchdown and a 7-5 lead.

With the Cardinals threatening in the third period, Hillebrand recovered a fumble at the St. Louis 20 and Morrall followed with a toss to a leaping Joe Morrison in the end zone.

St. Louis came back again, only to again find Lynch in the right spot at the right time — for the Giants. He scooped up a fumble and scurried 60 yards for the clincher.

"I don't run those fumbles back too often," he joked.

Davis' Field Goal With 6 Seconds Remaining Gives 49ers 30-27 Win

By JACK STEVENSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Tommy Davis booted a 23-yard field goal with six seconds left in the game to give the San Francisco 49ers a 30-27 victory over the Los Angeles Rams Sunday after they had trailed by two touchdowns with less than seven minutes to go.

In a stirring comeback, quarterback John Brodie fired scoring passes of eight yards to Ken Willard and 14 to Dave Parks.

The second touchdown deadlocked the count at 27-27 with three minutes, 27 seconds left. Then the 49er defense held and the Rams were forced to punt.

San Francisco had its final chance starting at its own 49. Seven plays later, the 49ers called on Davis, who earlier had kicked field goals from 50 and 39 yards out.

While 39,253 spectators cheered, Davis split the uprights to bring his club its fifth victory of the year and hand the Rams their eighth defeat.

In addition to losing the National Football League game, the Rams lost their starting quarterback, Bill Munson, who suffered a knee injury late in the second quarter. He probably is out for the season.

Roman Gabriel came on and put the Rams ahead 10-7 at halftime with a three-yard bootleg run for a touchdown.

Gabriel also threw a 40-foot touchdown pass to Jack Snow in the third period, and Bruce Gossett kicked a 31-yard field goal in the fourth, giving the Rams a 27-13 lead. Then the 49ers started their comeback.

Jim Johnson intercepted a Gabriel pass at the San Francisco 47 and returned to the Ram 32. An interference penalty moved the ball to the 10, and two plays later Brodie hit Willard for the score.

The next time San Francisco had the ball, the 49ers moved 70 yards in nine plays. Some 66 of these yards were on six Brodie passes, the last going 15 yards to Parks in the end zone.

Davis kicked his third conversion, and it appeared the game would wind up in a 27-27 tie. But the 49ers had one more chance, and Davis made it good.

In a high scoring second quarter, the Rams cashed a 17-yard Gossett field goal and a 10-yard touchdown pass from Munson to Tommy McDonald before Gabriel ran in for his touchdown.

Last Chance for Floyd

Clay, Patterson Duel Tonight

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Floyd Patterson, who made fistic history several times in his erratic career, gets what has to be his last chance at boxing's most prized crown when he takes on heavyweight champion Cassius Clay tonight.

The onetime boy wonder of the ring, knocked out by Sonny Liston in the first round here 28 months ago, is a 3-1 underdog to the all-conquering 23-year-old Clay at Convention Center in a 15-rounder that very few believe will go more than a few rounds.

Patterson, two-time holder of the title and the youngest ever to win at a 21, will be pitting the dynamite of his leaping left hook against the speed and power of the taller and heavier defender.

The consesus is that if the 30-year-old 6-foot New Yorker doesn't nail the 6-foot-3 Clay early with a jarring hook, he will crumble from the jolting jabs and flashing, two-hand combinations of the Louisville Lip.

Clay, cocky and confident as a Las Vegas night club comic with a 10-year contract, had a couple of parting words to newsmen Sunday:

"Come early," he said.

"If I take him out in one round, people will say it's a fix," said Clay, or Muhammad Ali, as he prefers to be called. "If I give him a hard beating and knock him out in the seventh or eighth round, people gonna say I'm cruel."

The betting is 5-6 and take your pick—even money in man-to-man odds — that the fight won't go more than five rounds.

It will be broadcast by ABC radio and telecast by closed circuit to more than 200 outlets in the United States and Canada. It also will be beamed via Early Bird satellite to early-morning viewers in theaters in the British Isles.

Starting time for the title fight will be about 7:30 p.m. or 10:30 p.m., EST.

Where does your family stand financially?

Valuable new booklet helps you keep closer track of your personal finances...shows how to take an annual "inventory."

Do you know how much you're worth financially? Perhaps more important, is your over-all financial picture improving from year to year? If you're not sure, there's an easy way to find out; it's all explained in a new booklet called "Where Does Your Family Stand Financially?" now available from New York Life.

This valuable booklet, written by a team of experts in the field of family financial planning, shows you just how to total your economic worth...how you can actually draw up an annual balance sheet, the way businesses do. With sample charts to guide you, you'll find it's simple to keep closer tabs on your income, assets and expenditures. And by making a regular once-a-year check-up, you can see how your family "fortune" is faring; you'll be in a better position to improve your financial situation and take steps toward reaching your long-term goals.

A copy is yours for the asking. If you want to find out where you stand financially—and where you're heading—you'll want to read "Where Does Your Family Stand Financially?". For your free copy, just clip the coupon or ask your New York Life Agent.

In planning your financial security, you'll find he's a very good man to know.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X B
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Lesson in English

BY W. L. GORDON

Words Often Misused: Do not say, "Tom came near winning the contest." Say, "Tom almost won the contest."

Often Mispronounced: Pro rata. Pronounce pro-ray-ta, accent on second syllable; and not "pro-ratt-a."

Synonyms: Docile, amenable, compliant, gentle, obedient, pliable, tame, teachable, yielding, tractable.

Word Study: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Today's word, deference, courteous regard for another's wishes. "He treated the elderly man with deference."

Look and Learn

BY A. C. GORDON

1 How many different languages are spoken in the world today?

2 How many cubic inches of air enter a person's lungs with each normal breath?

3 Who was the first U.S. President to have Secret Service protection?

4. What is the total daily consumption of coffee by Americans today?

5 What is the largest animal that ever existed on earth or in its waters?

Answers

1 Approximately 6,000 — although a mere seven of these are spoken by half the human race

2 From 20 to 30 cubic inches

3 Theodore Roosevelt, in 1906.

4 About 429 million cups per day.

5. The whale.

Another Special for Perry Como

BY TV SCOUT

8-9 (Channels 4-5) — Perry Como's Music Hall is as comfortable as a plush, well-worn barber chair, and definitely not for long hairs. Perry, relaxed and at ease as ever, with guests Gertrude Berg, Bobby Vinton and the Lennon Sisters, leads the way for a musical tour. First stop is Manhattan and a cue for "Autumn in New York." (Color)

6:30-7 (Channels 4-5) — If you find Dave Clark Irresistible, then Hullabaloo is your cup of rock 'n' roll. He hosts the proceedings and joins his Five in a medley of their top hits. Besides the Britishers, other swingers include Dione Warwick, the Brothers Four, Joanie Sommers and Lola Falana. (Color)

7:30-8 (Channels 2-7-12)—The Lucy Show is especially enticing for fans of its star, Lucille Ball, and Ann Sothern, who is back as the Countess Framboise. Inspired by a James Bond movie (so long and exciting Lucy ate four bags of popcorn), the girls take a stab at being secret agents. (Color)

7:30-8 (Channels 4-5) — Dr. Kildare begins a four-parter with "Fathers and Daughters," a tear jerker that is only distinguished by its cast of guest players. Fred Astaire stars as an ailing heart patient who still has a firm grip on a pool cue. Laura Devon is present as his daughter, an erudite missionary nun suffering from leukemia. Spring Byington is springy as a Mother Superior, an 'old school chum of Dr. Gillespie since the War of 1812." (Color)

7:30-8 (Channels 11-6-9) — Greed is still the most important word on The Legend of Jesse James as the brothers hide out with an old friend (Douglas Kennedy) whose wife (Edith Atwater) is in a big hurry to strike it rich.

8-8:30 (Channels 11-6-9) — A Man Called Shenandoah again gets a rough going over. First Robert Horton is ambushed by a trio of screaming Indians who kill his horse (four footers have a poor lot in this series) but leave his head unscalped. After they've gone, he finds a locket on one of the dead braves and oh, my gosh the pictures inside are of him!

9-10 (Channels 4-5-7) — Run For Your Life has one of its better episodes, helped considerably by some dandy photography. The opening is especially suspenseful as Ben Gazzara whizzes through the clouds with lovely, but frightened Ina Balin, in a lesson of sail planing. (Color)

9-10 (Channels 2-12) — The Steve Lawrence Show combines opera stars with pop singers with a great deal of audacity to turn out a session which is more hokey than it could have been. Guests are the Metropolitan Opera's Robert Merrill and Jan Peerce and that "What's New Pussycat?" singer, Tom Jones. (Color)

9-10 (Channels 11-6-9) — The Trials of Ben Casey continue as Allyn Joslyn convinces Vincent Edwards that he join his daughter (Linda Marsh) to select artists and doctors for his new foundation of grants.

These Are the Four Members of the Loewenguth Quartet appearing next Monday night in Harper Hall of Lawrence Music-Drama Center. Their program opens the annual Lawrence Chamber Music Series of five concerts for which all the tickets have been sold this season.

String Quartet Opens Chamber Music Series

Loewenguth Four Plays to Full House

Next Monday; Harper Concerts Sold Out

The Loewenguth String Quartet, riding the crest of a 36-year history in the concert field, opens the 1965-66 Lawrence University Chamber Music Series at 8 p.m. Monday, Nov. 29, in Harper Hall, Lawrence Music-Drama Center.

Tickets for this concert and for the remaining four programs of the Lawrence series have been sold out.

The Loewenguth Quartet, one of the world's oldest, was founded in 1929 by its first violinist, Alfred Loewenguth. Its members reside in Paris where they base their operations as teachers, soloists and chamber players.

The current tour is their 11th in the United States and Canada. Besides playing concerts in every one of the Western European countries, the group has toured in South America, Japan, South Africa, much of Scandinavia and Eastern Europe. The artists record for the Deutsche Grammophon and Philips companies.

The Loewenguth's repertory includes all of the Beethoven quartets, most of the important quartets of Mozart, Haydn and Schubert, and all of those by Brahms, Schumann, Faure, Debussy, Ravel, Franck and Roussel. A great number of contemporary works are represented by such composers at Bartok, Stravinsky, Honegger, Milhaud, Florent Schmitt, Jean Francaiz and Jacques Ibert.

Its program here includes quartets of Dalayrac, Haydn, Bartok and Beethoven.

Unlike many touring groups who choose historic instruments by the likes of Amati, Guarneri and Stradivari, the Loewenguth Quartet plays a set by the contemporary Parisian luthier, Millant. The builder holds the Cremona and The Hague prizes of 1949, the Bournemouth prize of 1951, and the Liege prize of 1954.

Two Loewenguths are among the quartet, Alfred, the aforementioned first violinist, and cellist Roger Loewenguth, a brother.

Alfred was graduated from the National Conservatory of Music, Paris, at 18. He was awarded First Prize in his class, and immediately set out on a career as quartetist, teacher and soloist. He has played in the Casals Festival and the Paris Concerts Lamoureux, and forms a sonata duo with pianist Francoise Doreau. He is founder-conductor of a Paris children's orchestra, and founder-president of the Paris Friends of Chamber Music.

Roger won the National Conservatory's First Prize upon his graduation in 1940. He joined the quartet during the war years, replacing Pierre Basseux, who was taken prisoner by Germany. In 1946 he went to the Orchestre de la Suisse Romande as second soloist, and a few years later rejoined the quartet. He is professor at the Conservatory of Annecy.

Second violinist Jacques Gotkovsky was a pupil of Lucien Capet. He has been a member of the Marius Casadesus Quartet, and the Hewitt Quartet, the Pasdeloup Orchestra and the Societe des Instruments Anciens. He is professor at the National School of Music, Calais.

Violist Roger Roche was graduated from the Paris Conservatory where he won the First Prize in his class. His entire career has been devoted to the Loewenguth Quartet.

MONTPELIER, Vt. (AP) — Moonlight in Vermont will get some artificial aid if the motor vehicle commissioner, James E. Malloy, has his way.

Malloy wants to erase a law allowing hay wagons and logging sleds on the roads at night without a lighted lantern in back. The law dates to a time when kerosene lamps could have started a fire. A tail light should be required, Malloy said, even on hay rides.

Asthma Formula Prescribed Most By Doctors—Available Now Without Prescription
Stops Attacks in Minutes . . . Relief Lasts for Hours!
New York, N.Y. (Special)—The asthma formula prescribed more than any other by doctors for their private patients is now available to asthma sufferers without prescription.
Medical tests proved this formula stops asthma attacks in minutes and gives hours of freedom from recurrence of painful asthma spasms.
This formula is so effective that it is the physicians' leading asthma prescription—so safe when used as directed that now it can be sold—without prescription in most states—in tiny tablets called Primatene®. These Primatene Tablets open bronchial tubes, loosen congestion, relieve taut nervous tension. All without painful injections.
The secret is—Primatene combines 3 medicines (in full prescription strength) found most effective in combination for asthma distress.
So look forward to sleep at night, and freedom from asthma spasms

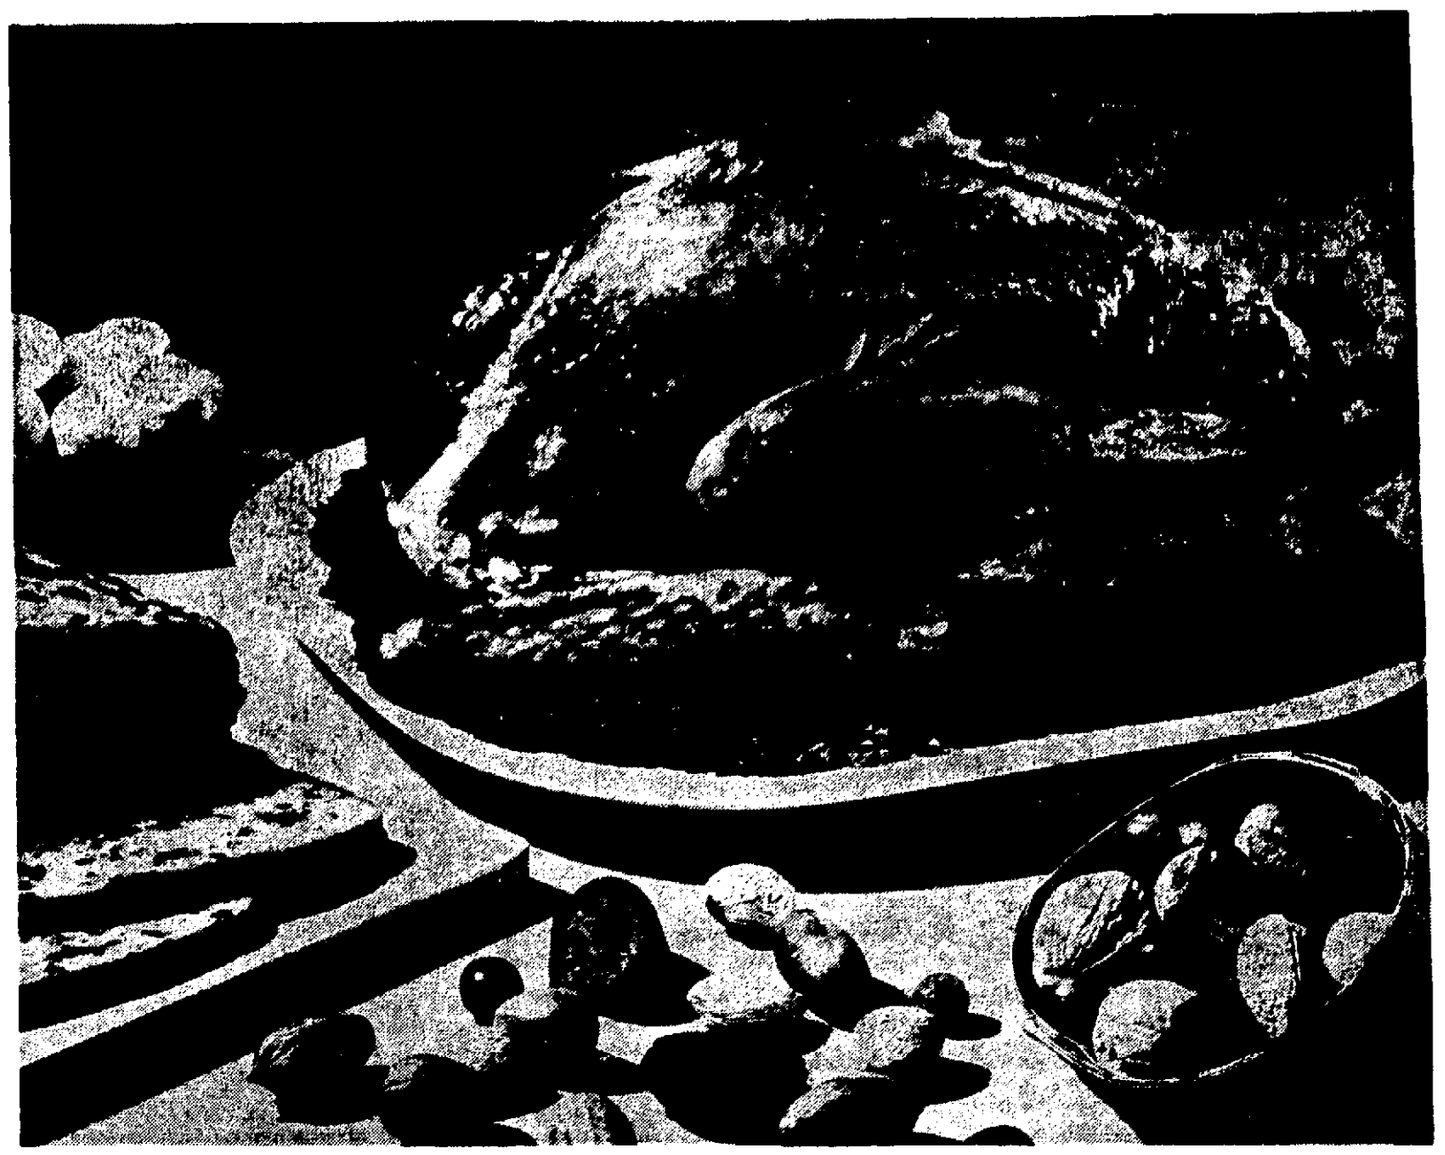
Turkey Talk



By Lillian Mackesy POST-CRESCENT FOOD EDITOR

The Pilgrim fathers of 1621 and later pioneers would hardly recognize the plump, tender turkey which graces our Thanksgiving tables today. Yet, those wild turkeys of the first Thanksgiving board in Plymouth were destined to become the great American symbol of gratitude for the blessings of the plentiful harvest. And so it remains today.

The importance of turkey in the early American diet is brought out in the frequent mention of the bird in the journals of the times. One naturalist, William Wood, in writing about Massachusetts in about 1630, said this, "the turkey is a very large bird, of a blacke colour, yet white in flesh; much bigger than our English Turkey. He hath the use of his long legs so ready, that he he runne as fast as a dogge, and flye as well as a Goose; of these sometimes there will be forty, threescore, and a hundred in a flocke, sometimes more and sometimes lesse. . . ."

As pioneer families moved westward, the turkey flocks became less available in settled communities. A November issue of Harper's Weekly in 1868 acknowledged that every householder had an important duty for Thanksgiving . . . to bag the turkey for the family feast. The popular magazine explained how to go about the business of catching the wild turkey by trapping it.

Stupid Bird

"A wild turkey trap is a simple contrivance, only requiring a few poles, laid together like a small loghouse, with plenty of wide chinks, the roof composed of logs just too heavy for the turkey to push through. In the center of the floor is a hole to which a passage leads outside. Along this corn, acorns, nuts are strewn, to lead the turkeys on."

Once inside, the turkeys never thought of trying to return the way they came, explained the article, but instead tried to peck their way out through the wide chinks "until the proprietor visits the establishment to go through the ceremony of wringing their necks."

Early American turkeys were wild, wiry birds. They were tough and sinewy because they had to fly to survive. The domestic birds now raised in the United States are far different from the wild ancestor who strutted for the Pilgrims in Massachusetts.

Turkey raising has become a scientific business in the United States and Wisconsin shares well in the industry with an annual $17 million production. Turkeys have become a year-round food, coming to market in sizes that vary from a four-pound bird to a husky family size of 38 to 40 pounds.

Gala Stuffings For Holiday Bird

There seems to be no end to variety of dressings for that holiday bird, but one rule is important. A splendid bird deserves a splendid stuffing that's made with care. If a basic bread dressing is used, buy the bread a few days ahead of time so that it will be firm when ready for use. A simple way to prepare bread for stuffing is to place a cake rack over a bowl and rub the bread through it. These coarse crumbs are just about the right texture for an excellent dressing.

Avoid packing cavities too full since stuffing expands while the turkey is roasting. If more dressing is desired than the bird will hold, place the extra in an aluminum foil packet and cook along with the turkey or other fowl or meat during the last hour of roasting.

Don't overlook the packaged herb-seasoned stuffings available. Easy to make and quickly prepared, this dressing also has great variety. Here are a few examples:

MUSHROOM: Prepare one package of herb-seasoned dressing according to directions, add one cup drained, sliced, cooked or canned mushrooms.

OYSTER: Prepare stuffing, then add one cup drained, chopped, fresh or frozen oysters.

GIBLET: Simmer turkey giblets with a celery stalk, one small onion and parsley sprig until tender. Drain and chop giblets; add to prepared stuffing.

CHESTNUT: Prepare stuffing, again according to directions, and then add one cup sliced, canned water chestnuts.

APPLE: After preparing stuffing, add one and one-half cups chopped apples. (It's best to peel apples unless those with extremely tender skins are used.)

DATE PEANUT STUFFING

1 cup fresh dates, pitted
6 cups soft bread cubes
½ cup melted butter
1 teaspoon celery salt
1 cup chopped salted peanuts
½ cup chopped onion
½ cup broth or bouillon

Cut dates lengthwise with scissors. Lightly brown bread in butter with celery salt, stirring constantly. Remove from heat; add dates, chopped peanuts, onion and broth. Stir to moisten. Stuff turkey, chicken or rolled breast of veal.

Headlines To Footnotes

by Lena Kray

Princess Margaret and her husband, Lord Snowdon, are making a stir where ever they go on their tour of America.

Because of strict rules of protocol (the Princess cannot be asked a question), the press has devoted much of its words to what she is wearing.

Her gowns, suits, dresses, coats and hats have all been done by British designers. It appears she has set out to dispel the notion that British women are all tweeds and brown oxfords. Special displays on British imports and clothes by British designers have been set up in stores the royal couple has visited.

Not Doing It

If the Princess is here to help sell America on her country's clothes, her success is questionable. It has been duly noted that she wears seamed stockings. One day, during her visit in Arizona, she was described as looking quite matronly in a cotton housedress, head scarf and flat shoes.

Her wardrobe for the trip is by Norman Hartnell and Belinda Bellville. It is said that she spent $20,000 to $28,000 at Hartnell alone, at wholesale prices. The daytime dresses are simple with 'very short' skirts (by Margaret's standards this means they hit the knee).

The London Bureau of Women's Wear Daily says, "While the Earl of Snowdon has succeeded in leading Margaret into the 20th century socially, he hasn't been able to streamline her fashion image."

Those who know her say she is a genuinely interested person who is a bright conversationalist.

Margaret's hairdresser, accompanying her on her American trip, brought many hairpieces. She is wearing her hair in a small-headed precise look —her hats are off-the-face styles. Her new hairdo was unveiled just before this trip. It's off-the-face and high in front and back.

People possessing coveted invitations to any of the numerous parties being given for the royal couple have practiced the royal "ma'am" and curtseys. Not all of the partygoers have remembered these little niceties of protocol. Some have just omitted the curtsey seeing no point in it at all.

An interesting note about Britain's royal family is the amazing amount of recognition they have given the Beatles. Queen Elizabeth II presented them with Member of the Order of the British Empire medals a few weeks ago in a ceremony at Buckingham Palace. It was reported that they captured the palace, charmed the Queen and in turn were "mothered" by Her Majesty!

Princess Margaret premiered the group's movie, "Help", Aug. 29.

Silver Cross Hostess

Luncheon Planned For All KD Circles

Plans for a luncheon to be attended by members of all King's Daughters Circles were discussed when the Silver Cross Circle met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. James Lueck, 519 N. Sampson St. Silver Cross Circle will be hostess at this first all-circle event, to be held in April. Mrs. Karl Manthey and Mrs. Richard Allen are co-chairmen.

Circle members also voted to join in sponsorship of an opera to be staged by the Occasional Opera Group Feb. 10, 11, and 12 in Stansbury Theater. Mrs. Harley Splitt is Silver Cross chairman.

Mrs. Don C. Smith, chairman of the Dec. 18 Silver Tinsel Ball, reported on plans for the event. An all-day decoration workshop is planned Dec. 1 at the home of Mrs. John Harkins.

King's Daughters Council reports were given by Mrs. George Petersen and Mrs. William Pfankuch. Mrs. William Chandler had charge of the talent auction.

Co-hostesses were Mrs. Harley Splitt and Mrs. Clifford Washburn.

Miss Tremmel Guest of Honor Bridal Shower

HORTONVILLE — Miss Karen Tremmel was guest of honor Nov. 9 at a miscellaneous bridal shower at the home of her sister, Mrs. Melvin Griesbach, 2119 N. Viola St., Appleton. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Leon Parker, Mrs. Randall Morack and Miss Debra Morack.

Miss Tremmel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tremmel, route 1, Hortonville, will be married to Nyal Magadanz Thanksgiving day at St. Patrick Catholic Church, Stephensville. Mr. Magadanz is the son of Mrs. Patrick Magadanz, 340 S. Nash, Hortonville.

Catholic Women's Role Told at Deanery Meeting

MENASHA — The Oshkosh deanery of the Green Bay Diocesan Council met Wednesday at St. Patrick Catholic Church.

In speaking of the Christian Family Movement, the Rev. Robert Vandenberg, assistant pastor of St. Therese Catholic Church, Appleton, noted that, "it is an Apostolic movement by married couples. The work program is to observe, judge and act. It covers all phases of life from the home to the world".

Mrs. Donald Schano, who spoke on Family Spirituality, stated that "teaching and leading the children in personal prayer brings about a family oneness."

Woman's Role

"Today's Catholic woman lives for her family but her fulfillment is not in her family alone. She must be a molder of mankind, must keep tuned to a changing world, and must be concerned with needs of community and world," suggested Mrs. Anthony Schlise, Forestville, who spoke on "Understanding the Importance of Our Catholic Influence in a Secular World."

Displays and materials were shown on foreign relief by Mrs. George Jensen; libraries and literature, Mrs. O. B. Zimmerman; organization and development, Mrs. Eugne Lerza; Papal Volunteers, Mrs. A. J. Schmitt; spiritual development, Mrs. Schano; vocations, Mrs. Rose Muraski; youth, Miss Irene Lewis, and social action, Mrs. C. Jarvis Miller.

The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Elmer Halaychik, president of the Oshkosh Deanery.

The St. Patrick Sanctuary Society, with Mrs. Ray Fink as chairman, was hostess for the event.

N. Viet Nam Attack Method Controlled, LeMay Admits

Officers Irritated by Restrictions In Size, Ordinance Set by Civilians

BY FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Curtis E. LeMay says there was a checkrein on the way targets in North Viet Nam could be attacked.

LeMay, retired Air Force chief of staff, was asked by The Associated Press whether there have been restraints on U.S. pilots operating against North Viet Nam.

"When I left active duty, there were some restrictions on the number of airplanes that could be used on a mission and also on types of ordnance that could be delivered," LeMay replied.

Asked for comment, the Defense Department said, "We do not discuss tactics followed in carrying out combat air operations over North Viet Nam."

LeMay retired Feb. 1, just prior to the first air strike against North Viet Nam.

He said: "I am not familiar with the activity since I retired."

Senior Officers Irritated

The founder of the Strategic Air Command did not say who imposed the restrictions.

However, since the air attacks started last Feb. 7 a number of senior Air Force and Navy officers have spoken privately — and with irritation — about the limits they said were established by top civilian officials.

Many of these curbs since have been relaxed and much greater leeway is allowed military commanders.

The number of missions to be flown into the North in a given period is subject to approval in Washington.

Military targets in and around Hanoi and its port city of Haiphong are still off limits to U.S. bombers.

LeMay's statement put on the record for the first time what other officers have said in less open fashion.

Squadron Commander

At one stage in the early months of the bombing, one top officer said that, in effect, President Johnson was functioning almost like a squadron commander and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara as an executive officer. This officer said the President and McNamara approved or disapproved specific targets to be hit; that top civilian officials determined the way the targets were to be attacked, the size of the attacking force, and the type of bombs and rockets to be used.

Defenders of this policy have said it was necessary because the bombings have a political as well as a military purpose, that the intent is to limit damage as much as possible to military targets and thus demonstrate to the Communists that the United States does not want to destroy North Viet Nam.

During his 35 years of military service LeMay achieved a reputation as a leader in development of doctrine and practice in air warfare. He has accepted a job with a California electronics firm.

Step up Attacks

In the exclusive interview, LeMay underscored and elaborated on what he has said previously about the air war against North Viet Nam.

"What I propose is stepping up the attacks and making it progressively more expensive for the North Vietnamese to continue the war in the South," LeMay said.

"I don't advocate complete devastation of the North (although we have the capability of doing this if necessary). I do not advocate attacking the people: rather, they should be warned away from targets.

"I do advocate attacking more important targets such as air fields with MIGs on them, power plants, oil storage, industrial targets, ports, etc."

LeMay said there is "a real danger" that the Chinese Communists "might find it attractive to escalate their support (for North Viet Nam's aggression) slowly, hoping to prolong the war, increase our losses, and thereby weaken our will and support here at home."

He said "I am not advocating" any preventive air strikes against Communist China's atomic installations.

However, the general did not rule out the possibility of such strikes, saying that "if this were the solution arrived at, and if the strikes were directed by the President, the Air Force could do the job."

Flowers Rest On Grave of Dead President

Second Anniversary Of Assassination of Kennedy Observed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Flowers of remembrance rested on President John F. Kennedy's hillside grave today on the second anniversary of his assassination. Across the nation, Americans remembered.

The president's widow was expected to send flowers to his grave, as she did on the first anniversary. Other members of the Kennedy family were expected to kneel at the white picket fence surrounding the grave in Arlington National Cemetery across the Potomac River from the capital.

President Johnson directed Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach to lay a presidential wreath on the grave. Johnson was with Kennedy in Dallas when the young chief executive was gunned down by an assassin's bullets.

Path to Grave

On the eve of the anniversary, thousands walked up the long pathway to the grave.

A group from El Paso, Tex., brought a wreath.

A girl brought a vase of white chrysanthemums and gave them to a soldier standing guard. He placed them inside the picket fence.

Memorial services were scheduled in several cities today.

The President and Mrs. Johnson were to attend noon services at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Fredericksburg, Tex., in a peaceful rural setting about 15 miles from their ranch.

In Dallas, the Rev. Oscar Huber, the priest who gave the last rites to the late president, today offers a dedicatory prayer at the John F. Kennedy Living Center, a home for exceptional youths.

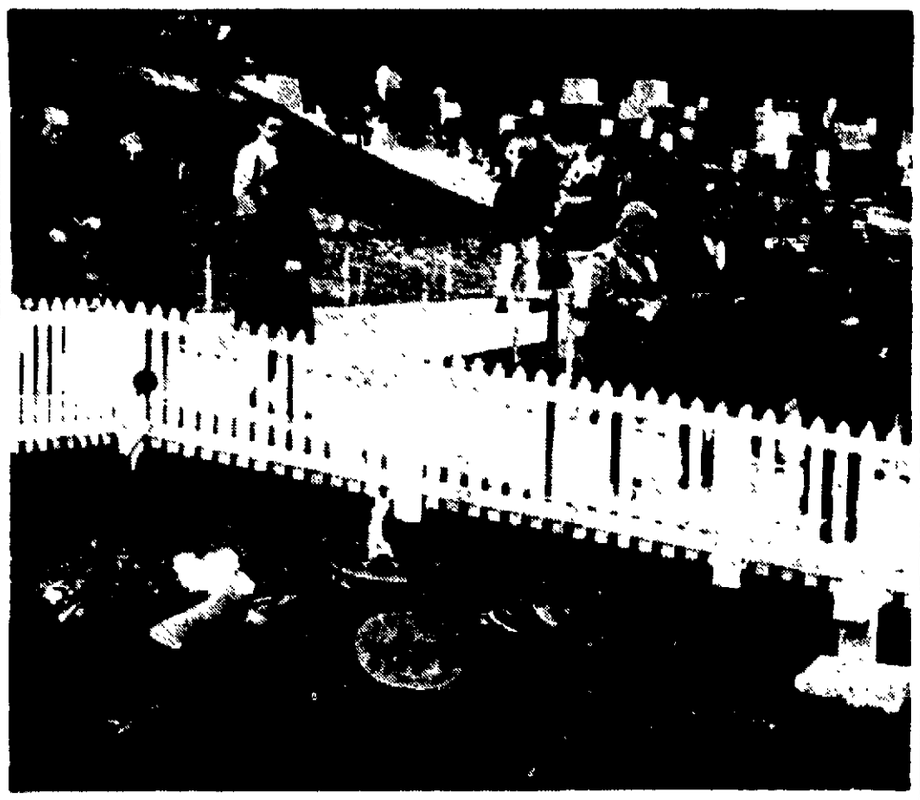
Also in Dallas, various church services were scheduled for today, including a memorial Mass at the Sacred Heart Cathedral.

A wreath was to be placed at the assassination site at the west edge of downtown Dallas by the Democratic Clubs of Dallas County.

In Spokane, Wash., Sunday, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., delivered the dedicatory address at the new $1.1-million John F. Kennedy Pavilion at Gonzaga University.

The assassination of his brother, said Sen. Kennedy, forced "a clearer kind of thinking about the kind of people . . . we want to be" and "far from disrupting our country, kept it strong."

Massachusetts Gov. John A. Volpe has proclaimed this week as John F. Kennedy Memorial Week.



A Long Line of Visitors moves toward and past the grave site of John F. Kennedy in Arlington Cemetery late Sunday, the eve of the second anniversary of the former president's assassination. The eternal light glows in the ring of military caps atop evergreen boughs on the grave. (AP Wirephoto)

Employment Guides Detailed

Women Cannot be Denied Work Because of Sex, Job Act States

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government detailed today some of its ideas about the employment of women. The basic theme: women can't be denied a job solely because they are women.

The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission set forth seven major guidelines to show employers how it will enforce the ban on sex discrimination which was included in the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

Commission interpretations are subject to court challenge, and currently apply only to employers of 100 or more workers.

The employe limit drops to 75 next July 2, to 50 on the same day in 1967 and finally to 25 on July 2, 1968.

In general, the commission said its interpretations won't conflict with state laws intended to protect women against exploitation and hazard.

But it said many state laws now are outdated, and legislatures should take a fresh look at them.

The commission said it won't accept such discrimination excuses as men do a better job than women, that women quit their jobs sooner, that co-workers, clients or customers prefer men or that separate facilities would have to be provided for women.

The guidelines include several previously stated. Among them are ones affecting married women and job advertising.

The commission said married females can't be banned unless there is a similar embargo on married males. It did say there might be some exceptions, but made no effort to pinpoint them.

Essential Discrimination

With reference to advertising, the commission said no sex preference may be noted unless it is absolutely essential. A woman, it noted, obviously couldn't qualify as an actor.

It suggested that classified ads could be labeled "Jobs of Interest — Male," or "Jobs of Interest — Female." But the ad itself then must state that all comers are welcome.

Other guidelines:

There can be no use of separate promotion or seniority systems based on sex.

Employment agencies share responsibility with employer clients in filling jobs on the basis of ability, not sex.

Standards of equal pay for equal work will be applied to women as well as men.

Pre - employment inquiries may ask for the applicant's sex if the information is for a non-discriminatory purpose.

Johnson Relaxing on Ranch After Jaunt to San Antonio

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson relaxed at his ranch today following a whirlwind political trip to San Antonio where he waded into a crowd to shake hands, give autographs and kiss children.

The excursion was in behalf of Democratic Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez of Texas.

The President told a shopping center crowd composed primarily of Mexican-Americans they had a right to be proud to have Mexican blood in their veins.

In addition to lauding Gonzalez as one of his best supporters in the House, Johnson praised Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex.

Yarborough, who was present, has been feuding with Gov. John Connally, a close Johnson ally.

After the speech Johnson walked out into the crowd. Twenty minutes later he left the square and walked behind the buildings where hundreds were gathered behind barriers and in the yards of neighboring homes.

Striding briskly through the gate of one of these, he sat down at a wooden yard table to chat with Sebastian Saldana, 43, a Kelly Air Force Base employe and the father of seven.

Quickly they were joined by Gonzalez, Yarborough, and Cantinflas, the Mexican comic who had spent the previous night at the Johnson ranch and had accompanied the President to San Antonio.

Today, the President and Mrs. Johnson were to attend a memorial service at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Fredericksburg in memory of President John F. Kennedy.

Passenger Suspect In Yarmouth Fire

'Adult Problem Child' Under Scrutiny in Blaze That Killed 89

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A 36-year-old man described as an "adult problem child" with a record of mental illness is under official scrutiny in connection with the fiery sinking of the Yarmouth Castle cruise ship that took 89 lives, the Miami Herald reports.

The disclosure came on the eve of a Coast Guard inquiry into the disaster Nov. 13 when the Yarmouth Castle went down 120 miles east of Miami en route to Nassau.

The "adult problem child," a passenger on the ship, was not named by the Herald and the newspaper did not specify who was making the investigation. However, the paper reported that two fires of undetermined origin broke out during the last two years in an enterprise operated by the man's family.

The Coast Guard inquiry in Miami under the chairmanship of Rear Adm. Louis Thayer begins today and is expected to last as long as three weeks.

Urge New Agreement

In another development, Rep. Edward A. Garmatz, D-Md., urged a new safety of life at sea agreement to replace the present international accord. The Yarmouth Castle was registered under the flag of Panama.

Garmatz, acting chairman of the House Merchant Marine Committee, said he told Secretary of State Dean Rusk by letter that if foreign governments do not agree to a new convention the United States should denounce the current one and withdraw from the international consultative organization which drew it up.

A new agreement, he said, should close any loopholes under which present bare-minimum standard vessels can trade in and out of the United States.

The toll rose Sunday with the death of Nathan Barkin, 56, Miami Beach—one of five seriously burned—in a Miami hospital.

Pepper Proves Effective Weapon In Jail Break

LADYSMITH (AP)— Authorities were seeking two fugitives who escaped from the modern Rusk County Jail with a handful of pepper as their only weapon.

Don Sillman, 25, and Larry LaVern, 22, both of Bruce, fled Saturday night. Authorities said a steel plate had been removed from electrical controls on their cell door and the wiring short-circuited.

They said the inmates then hurled pepper they had hoarded into the face of a jailer bringing them their supper and fled through the outer door that the jailer had unlocked.

Greatest Player May Need Help

Benito Garozzo, considered by many experts to be the best bridge player in the world, plans to visit the United States this winter to display fine Italian jewelry and to play some bridge. If you see him in action, don't expect miracles; he can play only one side of the table.

When today's hand was dealt Garozzo had already played several rubbers of a friendly match against my wife and me and had discovered that we hadn't come seven thousand miles to underbid. If he picked the right opening lead he would have a chance to defeat the contract.

Opening lead — ♡ 9

Garozzo sensed, Heaven knows how, that hearts was the right suit, and he made the best expert lead — the nine of hearts. This rode around to my jack, after which the opponents were in position to take three heart tricks whenever they got in. The only trouble was that Garozzo's partner read the lead as the "top of nothing," in which case the ace of hearts would be in my hand.

Bad Guess

I led a spade to the king and returned a club to the king. Now I had to guess which of the black suits would break favorably. I guessed wrong, by cashing the ace of spades before leading a spade to dummy's queen.

When I returned another club from dummy, East stepped up with the ace. He could then defeat the contract by leading a low heart, since Garozzo would take the ace of hearts and cash a spade before returning his other heart.

What saved my bacon was the fact that Garozzo was too good for his own partner. East thought that I had the ace of hearts and that his partner had the ace of diamonds. Acting on this impression, East returned a diamond and I went up with the ace and took ten tricks before the mice got at them.

"Never mind," I consoled Garozzo, who was disappointed at the outcome, "I won't tell anybody about this hand. I'll just put it in my column."

Daily question

Partner opens with 2 NT (22 to 24 points), and the next player passes. You hold: S K Q 6 2, H Q 8 6 5, D J 7 4, C 7 3. What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid three clubs, the Stayman Convention. This asks partner to bid a major suit of four or more cards if he has one. Otherwise, he bids three diamonds. Game in a major will probably be a trifle safer than game at notrump.

Festive Hors d'Oeuvres, Petit Cafe

An appetizing beginning for Thanksgiving dinner are these tiny cups of rich coffee accompanied by Moulded Pate and other hors d'oeuvres.

A special touch which lends a festive air to holidays is the petit cafe at cocktail time. This "small coffee" or demitasse is "tres" continental and makes good sense as a go-along with the beautiful array of appetizers.

Today, there are many persons who would prefer coffee to cocktails and the petit cafe is an excellent substitute. It is, of course, simply coffee brewed half again as strong as usual. It's served with sugar, but no cream, in dainty demitasse cups.

Almost any kind of appetizer goes well with petit cafe. Excellent examples are a beautiful and delicious Molded Pate, along with little Smoky Bowknots (Smoky cocktail sausages in pastry wrappings) and a delicious dip for raw cauliflowerettes, carrot curls and celery strips.

Here are the recipes:

MOLDED PATE

- 2 cups finely chopped onions
- 1 cup butter or margarine
- 2 pounds chicken livers
- 1 cup coffee beverage
- 2 teaspoons salt
- ¼ teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
- ½ cup brandy
- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatine
- ½ cup water

Cook onions in butter over low heat until soft but not brown. Add chicken livers, coffee, salt and pepper. Cover, cook over low heat 30 minutes. Cool. Stir in brandy. Blend about one-fourth at a time in electric blender until smooth, or put through food mill or sieve. Soften gelatin in cold water; dissolve over hot water. Add to paste mixture; mix well. Pack in buttered four-cup mold. Chill thoroughly. Unmold. Serve with crackers.

DIP DIJON FOR RAW VEGETABLES

- 12 ounces chive cream cheese
- 2 teaspoons Dijon mustard
- 1 tablespoon prepared horseradish
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- Few drops Tabasco
- ⅓ cup mayonnaise

Blend chive cream cheese with remaining ingredients. Makes about two cups.

LITTLE SMOKY BOWKNOTS

Roll pie pastry one-eighth inch thick. Cut in strips six inches long and half-inch wide. Tie each strip around a little cocktail sausage. Bake at 425 degrees for 18 to 20 minutes or until pastry is golden brown.

Turkeys today may be purchased fresh or frozen, whole or in parts. There are boneless turkey rolls. . .there are precooked turkeys, turkey steaks or smoked turkeys. Turkeys may be bought frozen and prestuffed, all ready for popping into the oven.

The National Turkey Federation reminds homemakers that the larger the turkey, the higher proportion to meat and bone, thus making the roasting turkey the best buy.

Rinse the bird with cold water, drain and pat dry. Rub cavity and outside of turkey generously with salt and monosodium glutamate. If the turkey is to be stuffed, omit the salt. Stuff wishbone cavity lightly with dressing, then skewer neck to the body, push drumsticks under band of skin near the tail or tie them to tail.

Place turkey on rack in shallow roasting pan, breast side up. Brush skin with fat. If roast meat thermometer is to be used, insert it so that bulb is in center of inside thigh muscle or thickest part of breast meat; be sure bulb does not touch bone. Place in preheated 325 degree oven. If desired, brush occasionally with melted butter or margarine, especially any dry areas. When turkey is two-thirds done, cut cord or band of skin.

About 45 minutes before turkey is to be done, it may be brushed generously and frequently with barbecue sauce. Roast length of time is determined on timetable in any cookbook or until meat thermometer registers 185 degrees.

Following are several recipes for turkey variations.

ROAST TURKEY QUARTERS

Choose either light or dark meat. Rub cavity of cut side with salt. Skewer skin to meat along cut edges. Tie or skewer leg to tail (on hindquarter) or wing to breast (on forequarter). Place turkey skin side up in a shallow pan and brush with butter or margarine. Roast at 325 degrees, 25 to 30 minutes per pound, basting occasionally with pan drippings or additional melted butter.

ROAST STUFFED TURKEY HALF

Sprinkle cavity of cut side with salt. Tie leg to tail and skewer wing to breast. Place turkey, skin side up in shallow roasting pan. Brush with melted butter or margarine. Roast at 325 degrees, 20 to 25 minutes per pound. About one hour before turkey is done, lift out of pan. Mound about six cups of favorite stuffing on sheet of heavy-duty aluminum foil. Place turkey over stufing and continue roasting until turkey is done.

ROAST TURKEY BREAST

Sprinkle with salt, pepper, paprika. Roast in shallow pan at 325 degrees for 1½ hours or until fork tender. Baste with butter or margarine.

TENDER TURKEY STEAKS

Melt ½ tablespoon butter for each turkey steak in hot skillet. Use ½ teaspoon monosodium glutamate per pound, sprinkling over both sides of steak before placing in skillet. Add frozen or thawed steaks, cover, and cook over medium heat for 10 minutes. Turn, season, and continue cooking, for 10 minutes longer. Serve immediately with wedges of lemon.

GOLDEN BRAISED TURKEY WINGS

- 3 large or 6 small turkey wings
- ¾ cup flour
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- 1½ teaspoons monosodium glutamate
- ¾ teaspoon paprika
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- ⅓ cup hot fat
- ½ cup hot water

Wash turkey wings, separate pieces at joints and discard wing tip; pat remaining pieces dry. Combine flour, salt, monosodium glutamate, paprika and pepper in paper sack. Shake turkey pieces in seasoned flour. Brown thoroughly in hot fat in skillet. Add water, cover, and cook over low heat for two hours, adding more water if necessary. Recipe makes six servings.

SEAMS TO ME — Trimmed Pillowcases

By Patricia Scott

I don't know of any woman who wouldn't appreciate beautifully trimmed pillowcases for Christmas.

I bought six pillowcases in both white and colors and trimmed them at reasonable cost, but they look rather expensive. I'll give you the color combinations I used: however, you can co-ordinate them in any way you prefer.

A: one white case: 1¼ yards each of the following· fuchsia bias skirt facing, pink bias tape; white eyelet beading

Cover the hem seam of the case with the skirt facing, stitching at both edges of facing Center the eyelet beading on the facing. Stitch close to both edges of beading. Thread the bias tape through the beading and hand-tack to hold Always start the facing at the seam of the case and end by overlapping the original end, turning the last edge under so no raw edges are exposed. Do the same with beading and bias tape.

B: One white case: 2 1-3 yards of rickrack regular size in aqua; 1¼ yards of matching aqua bias tape; 1¼ yards of gold metallic middy braid.

Cover hem seam on case, stitching bias tape at both edges. Sew rickrack on either side of tape with the points touching the tape. Stitch rickrack with one row of stitching down center Stitch gold middy braid down center of tape.

C one blue case, 2¼ yards of white lace edging; 1¼ yards of embroidered woven tape with blue motif

Stitch lace in a straight line one-half inch on one side of the hem seam Stitch one edge of woven tape over this Slip the remaining strip of lace under the other free tape edge and stitch through both tape and lace to finish Your trim now looks like embroidery trim with lace edging

D· one blue case; 2½ yards of Venice lace.

Pin lace in scallops to hem of case, going from hem seam to just ¼ inch above hem edge Clip flowerettes from lace remaining. Tack in groups of three in each scallop.

E. one mint green case; 2 yards of tatting lace edge; one yard of pima bias tape in yellow; green embroidery floss.

Apply lace and tape as on case "C", with this exception: Leave a 2-inch space at center of one side of case. In this space, apply a 3-inch vertical strip of lace and tape as shown Finish ends by turning under and stitching. Over this vertical strip of tape hand-embroider initials

F one white case, 2½ yards of floral bias trim. Mark an evenly spaced wavy line along the pillow edge Make a row of machine stitching inside this marked line Now cut on the wavy line Bind edge with bias trim Leave one-half inch space and top-stitch bias trim above the bound edge, following the same wavy pattern

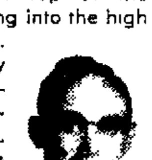
LIGHT AND AIRY



Reminiscent of the "Gibson Girl," curls now tumble forward from the top of the crown, spreading into the high temple area. Light and airy curls are providing the needed dimension. As for the types of curls used—almost anything goes. They can be small, soft—and feathery or large full ones — provided the overall effect is one of light airiness Regarding length, there's a leeway there, too Some women require a little longer than fashionable length on their neck. Others look chic and younger by keeping their tresses short and off the nape.

Creative Cookery with Leftovers

One of the great arts of creative cookery long has been overlooked. That's the art of using leftovers with flair . . . particularly turkey leftovers now that Thanksgiving Day is upon us. However, since turkey today has become a year-round favorite because of its ready availability, the wise homemaker will serve it often and learn how to cope with the leftovers.

At holiday time, leftovers are half the fun of eating in most households. But there always arrives that moment when the refrigerator raiders call it quits and there still are a few legs or a wing left or those bits and pieces which sometimes tax the homemaker's ingenuity. Actually, the big bird should be good to the very last bone every time it's served. That's what makes it an economical buy as well as a delicious feast meat with the bonus of creative leftover dishes.

The family will give three hearty cheers if any of these dishes are tried. One is a hearty gumbo with the leftover turkey, skin and bones simmered to make the basic ingredient for Seafood Gumbo. Turkey Noodle Soup is made by simmering the leftover carcass with vegetables, tomato sauce and noodles. The third suggestion is Turkey Tetrazzini . . . again simmered bits and pieces of turkey . . . with the result a superb dish.

Here are the recipes:

TURKEY SEAFOOD GUMBO

- Left-over turkey equivalent in bone and meat to 2 wings and 1 leg
- ½ cup cooking oil or fresh drippings
- 2 pounds sliced okra, fresh or frozen
- 1 cup chopped onion
- 1 cup chopped celery and celery tops
- 6 cups water
- 2 cups canned tomatoes
- 3 garlic cloves, chopped
- 1 bay leaf
- 1 teaspoon crushed thyme
- ¼ teaspoon cayenne pepper
- 1 tablespoon plus 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 pint oysters with their liquid
- 3 cans (4½ ounces each) shrimp, drained, rinsed
- ¼ cup minced fresh parsley
- 4 cups cooked rice

Wash all traces of dressing from turkey bones and meat and set aside. Heat oil or drippings in a heavy-bottom pot and fry okra over high heat, stirring constantly, until it appears free of its gelatinous substance. Add the onion and celery and continue cooking until okra is dry and other vegetables nearly tender. Place turkey in the pot; add water, tomatoes, and seasonings. Cover closely and simmer about one and one-half hours. Remove the turkey bones and, if desired, any skin or gristle observed in the gumbo. Stir in oysters and liquid and cook three to four minutes or until oyster edges curl. Add shrimp and heat again. Stir in parsley and serve at once over mounds of fluffy rice. Recipe makes about eight servings.

TURKEY NOODLE SOUP

- 1 turkey carcass, cut in small pieces
- Water to cover
- 1 cup sliced celery
- 1 onion, sliced
- 1 cup sliced carrots
- 2 (8 oz.) cans tomato sauce
- Salt to taste
- 8 ounces medium noodles

Place cut-up turkey carcass in large kettle and cover with water. Cover kettle and simmer one and one-half hours. Skim surface to remove excess fat. Add vegetables, tomato sauce and salt. Simmer 15 minutes. Add noodles and simmer 15 more minutes.

TURKEY TETRAZZINI

- 4 ounces thin spaghetti
- 1 medium onion
- 6 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 cup diced celery
- 6 tablespoons flour
- 3 cups milk
- 3 envelopes golden seasoning and broth
- 2 cups diced cooked turkey
- 1 cup canned sliced mushrooms
- ¾ cup sliced pitted ripe olives
- 3 tablespoons grated parmesan cheese

Cook spaghetti according to package directions. Drain well. Peel onion; slice thinly. Melt butter in a large skillet. Add onion and celery to butter and cook until tender but not browned. Remove from heat. Stir in flour. Gradually, stir in milk. Return to heat and cook, stirring constantly until sauce has thickened. Add golden seasoning and broth and mix well. Add one cup seasoned cream sauce to drained cooked spaghetti. Add remaining cream sauce to turkey, mushrooms, and olives; mix well.

In casserole, put sauced spaghetti around outer edge. Fill center with turkey mixture. Sprinkle top with grated cheese. Bake for 20 minutes in 350-degree oven. Recipe makes four to six servings.

Turkey - Seafood Gumbo, above, a deliciously rich soup a la Creole, is made from the tag end of the turkey in a sort of good-to-the-last-scrap philosophy. It's an excellent dish.

Leftover turkey bones are simmered with vegetables, tomato sauce and noodles for the wonderful Turkey Soup at the right.

At the upper right, Turkey Tetrazzini uses up all the bits and pieces of the bird, combines them with a sprinkling of packaged seasoning and broth, plus the other ingredients of the famous Italian dish.

Tuesday Party for Snowdons A Swishy Late Supper, Dance

While most of us will probably never have to plan a party for a real princess, there are social occasions in all of our lives that couldn't be more important if the guests of honor were Princess Margaret and the Earl of Snowdon. In any case, most Americans readily admit to a fascination with royal protocol. What makes it more exciting, in the case of the current royal visit, is the unique combination of protocol and American informality that surrounds the Snowdons' U. S. tour. The epitome of this Anglo-American style of party-giving will be spotlighted Tuesday, when hostess Sharman Douglas fetes Princess Margaret and Lord Snowdon at New York's elegant Four Seasons restaurant with a "typical American kitchen party."

According to Four Seasons' director, Stuart Levin, who has been planning all aspects of the gala supper dance for the past four weeks, "The black-tie evening will combine dancing on the lucite-covered pool with the trooping of the guests through the Four Seasons kitchens where an elaborate but typically American buffet will be served."

How did Mr. Levin design this 200-guest affair to make it the climax of the royal couple's visit? "Miss Douglas and I met several times first to arrange and rearrange the menu. We wanted to include the Princess' favorite dishes," he points out. "To maintain the informal but elegant motif we selected a number of cold items—four different salads, then cold salmon and a mousse of chicken livers, a variety of sea food—from iced shrimp to baby lobsters, mussels, oysters and clam with green onions and truffles.

"The hot entrees were the problem. Since it is a supper we eliminated the heavier dishes, and since it is to be more informally American, we excluded many international dishes with exotic sauces." Mr. Levin smiles, "I think that Miss Douglas' last-minute esuggestion to add tiny hamburgers will be as memorably American to Snowdon as a Texas barbecue at the President's ranch."

He pointed out that the entrees will also include fresh trout, omelettes grand mere, creamed chicken hash on sour bread toast, grilled Canadian bacon (in recognition of north-of-the-border subjects?, and country fried potatoes.

The most festive aspect of the meal will undoubtedly be the Crepes Suzette, which will be flamed at the individual tables in the restaurant's pool dining room.

After the menu Miss Douglas and Mr. Levin next decided that the decor of the elegant room would be transformed to the autumn atmosphere of the approaching American holiday, Thanksgiving. Full-size beech trees and yellow and russet mums will be used throughout the room and to bank the raised dance floor over the pool. Individual horns of plenty, filled with fruits and flowers, will grace the tables each of which will be aglow with burnt orange votive candles set on russet satin ribbons.

As for music, Peter Duchin and his orchestra, a favorite of the royal couple, were invited to play for dancing.

Following the protocol preestablished for the entire royal visit, there will be no curtseying nor will there be a receiving line for the 200 guests, all of whom are asked to be present by 10:30 p.m., at which time two cocktail areas will be serving. Princess Margaret and Lord Snowdon will arrive at 11, and the kitchen buffet will begin at midnight.

How long will the festivities go on? Only the royal couple can tell, and it's a certainty that the closing time is one thing that is not pre-determined. The Princess and Lord Snowdon are known to enjoy dancing parties too well to plan an early goodnight, and according to strict protocol the guests should not leave before the Princess does.

Director Levin met with the British Embassy for additional briefings as to the specific protocol for this visit. Mr. Levin is a frequent visitor to the various embassies and he maintains a card file of notes under such listing as Denmark, Ethiopia, Iran, Monaco, and so on. "Sometimes," he says, "we begin to feel like a United Nations for gourmets."

Among the little details he made certain to check, in addition to the couple's favorite menu items, are their preferred drinks. "We have been advised that Princess Margaret prefers gin and tonic with lemon and that Lord Snowdon enjoys scotch and ginger ale. We have also been told that the Princess would like to be addressed simply as 'Ma'am,' rather than 'Your Highness,' " explains Mr. Levin.

How It's Done

Asked for the recipes for some of Princess Margaret's favorite dishes on the party menu, Mr. Levin obliged with The Four Seasons' famous mousse of chicken livers, omelette grand mere, and almond savaroise.

Mousse of Chicken Livers

- 2½ pound chicken livers
- ½ pound sweet butter
- 1½ ounces sweet sherry
- 2 large onions, sliced
- 3 eggs, hard cooked
- salt and freshly ground black pepper

Saute chicken livers and onions, separately, in the butter. Put through fine blade of meat grinder, along with the eggs. Add sherry and salt and pepper to taste. Blend at low speed in blender until mixture is smooth.

May be garnished with the chopped, hard cooked eggs and chopped scallions. Serves 18-20

OMELETTE GRAND MERE

- 1 tablespoon melted mutter
- 3 eggs
- dash tabasco
- 1 teaspoon parsley, chopped
- 2 tablespoons bacon, fried crisp
- pinch salt
- 1 teaspoon chives, chopped
- 2 tablespoons gruyere, freshly grated

Heat omelette pan. Add butter and bacon to hot pan. While they heat, beat salt, tabasco, chives and parsley into the eggs. Add the egg mixture and stir. When the omelette has set, place the cheese in the center of it, fold it and turn it out onto a warm plate Serve at once Note: Do not fry the bacon in the omelette pan, as it will ruin the pan. Serves one

ALMOND SAVOROISE

- 1 quart milk
- 3 ounces almond paste
- 1 ounce gelatin
- ½ quart whipped cream
- green almonds
- 6 ounces sugar
- 2 ounces finely ground almonds
- ½ cup boiling water
- 1 ounce yellow Chartruese

Combine the milk, sugar, almond paste and ground almonds, and bring to a boil. Remove from heat and allow to cool. Dissolve the gelatin in the boiling water and add to the cold mixture. When the mixture has become thick fold in the whipped cream and Chartreuse. Pour into a mold and chill, until firm. When ready to serve remove from the mold and garnish with green almonds.

Your Problems

Young Couple's Bad Manners Called for Instant Correction

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Last night my husband and I joined another couple for dinner at a very good restaurant. A teenage couple and their baby were at the next table.

Midway through our meal I was horrified to see the young mother unbutton her blouse and proceed to breast feed her child right there in the dining room.

Two boys, about 14 and 15 years old, were seated at the next table with their parents. They didn't take their eyes off the nursing mother. Their parents finally changed seats with the boys so they would not be facing the "floor show."

I expressed the opinion that nursing a child in public was in very poor taste. No one at our table felt as strongly as I did. Am I old-fashioned, crazy or what?—All Alone

Dear All: You are not alone. I'm with you. The person in charge of the dining room should have shown the mother to the ladies lounge. People who don't know better need to be told.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A recent column about fathers preferring male offspring to females goaded me into writing my first letter to Ann Landers.

Why do so many people assume that fathers want sons and not daughters? This theme has been driven into the ground on TV, in the movies, in jokes, novels and daily conversations—and it just isn't true. Many families yearn to have a girl and they get boys, boys, boys, and more boys. But we never hear about them.

My husband tells me that very few men care one way or the other. He says the "I want a son" routine is a little game the boys play. Any psychiatrist will tell you that the father-daughter bond is stronger than the father-son bond. Fathers may respect their sons but they adore their daughters.—Mother Of Both

Dear Mother: I've received a bale of mail on this subject and one little poem keeps cropping up—about 3,000 times. I'd like to pass it along.

"A son is a son until he takes a wife."

"A daughter is a daughter all of her life."

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I was widowed when I was in my late twenties.

I have been married to my second husband for 18 years. They have been the happiest 18 years of my life.

About a year ago an interesting and lively couple with three children bought the home next door. The woman is attractive and 15 years younger than I am. (I am 50.)

At first I thought I might be imagining things but now I'm sure the neighbor woman is trying to throw me at her husband because she is interested in mine. She sets up situations so her husband and I will be alone and she tries to get my husband to help her mix drinks in the other room. Last night she said, presumably kidding, "If you ever get tired of Bob send him to me and take Harold."

Should I play dumb and continue to be friendly or would it be best to chop the friendship at once?—J.A.G.W.

Dear J.A.G.W.: Even without the problem you describe it's always best to be on a lukewarm invitation-only basis with your neighbors. Under the circumstances, however, I strongly recommend a subtle cooling and finally a permanent freeze.

Breast Discharges May Mean Serious Trouble

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Mrs. E.P.D. wrote of a greenish fluid from her breasts. She has had the problem eight months. I have had this same thing for 12 years. You advised her to see a doctor.

I know how worried Mrs. E.P.D. is; I've been worried since my early 30's. Perhaps someone can help. — Mrs. G.H.

Breast discharges should be taken seriously, since some of them are a sign of grave trouble. Others are not.

Since you have had yours for 12 years, it must be the benign or innocent type. Please stop being fearful.

What causes such discharges? You doubtless know that there can be a leaking of milk after a woman has stopped nursing a baby. This is whitish.

Later, ordinarily at 40 or so but sometimes earlier, a gray or greenish discharge may appear from the nipple. This seldom leaks out, but can be expressed by gentle pressure. Again, the color may be yellowish, and stain underclothing.

This discharges are of innocent origin. That is to say, they do not represent serious danger. The breast, of course, is composed of many small secreting glands. Some of these may become sealed. They become cysts. Fluid from the cysts can leak out, or be expressed. Then you have the type of discharge you describe.

The flow which should cause instant concern is a dark brown or bloody color. This may (not always will) mean cancer, and must have immediate treatment.

In such cases, a mass or lump usually can be detected. A Pap test of the fluid can be performed to see if malignant cells exist. If a mass is present, it should be removed for microscopic examination — just the mass, not the entire breast, unless it shows malignancy.

For the greenish or yellowish discharges, once examination has disclosed no lump, and a Pap test shows no malignancy, one can feel secure that nothing ominous has developed.

A checkup once or twice a year is a precaution. (It's a good idea anyway.) But there is no cause for alarm.

As for preventing the discharge, I can offer no effective method, except to hope that it will cease spontaneously.

My urging that Mrs. E.P.D. see her physician concerning the discharge is not in expectation that this small seepage necessarily can be halted, but to make sure that a more serious condition (cancer) does not underly it.

Dear Dr. Molner: My daughter is 16 and hasn't begun her periods. I have taken her to the doctor for a physical but he could find nothing wrong. I am concerned. What should I do now? — Mrs. C. S.

There is a very considerable difference in the time for equally healthy girls. Under the circumstances my advice is (a) stop being concerned; (b) wait another year. The problem may well have solved itself by that time. While the average age for periods to start is earlier, it is by no means uncommon for some delay as in this case.

Note to L. E. with the itch and the "yellow pillow": It is obvious that you have some sort of dermatitis, or skin ailment. The quickest, surest, and in the long run cheapest solution will be to go to a dermatologist (skin specialist). Seeing him may even mean the difference between keeping or losing your hair.

Hemorrhoids can be cured! If troubled with fissures, fistulas, itching and other rectal problems, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Post-Crescent, Appleton, Wis., 54910, requesting a copy of the booklet, "The Real Cure For Hemorrhoids," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Freeman Claims No Wheat Shortage Likely

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman is assuring the nation there is no need for concern over this country's declining stocks of wheat.

The secretary told a farm outlook conference that "if the need arose, for example, we could double the nation's wheat production in two years — with most of the increase in the first year."

Production to Start At Carnes Corporation After Union Challenge

VERONA (AP) — The Carnes Corp. planned to resume production today after a strike ended when workers challenged their representation by the International Association of Machinists.

Picket lines were withdrawn Friday night and Carnes general manager R. W. Krogstad said Machinists Local 1406 business agent Vernon E. Zittlow of Madison notified him employes had filed a decertification petition with the National Labor Relations Board.

The union called the strike 10 days ago. The ventilating equipment firm employs 350 workers.

Four Reasons Given for Price Hike Crackdown

BY SYLVIA PORTER

In 10 of the past 10 years, the cost of living in the U.S. has risen — and these years have included two business recessions as well as today's unprecedentedly prolonged expansion.

In 28 of the past 31 years, our cost of living has climbed — and this period has spanned cold peace and high unemployment as well as global war and acute labor shortages.

Going back almost a century, the odds have been about 9½ out of 10 that the dollar earned and saved by each generation would lose buying power because of price rises.

Why, then, the current outcry by government officials and the mounting concern among private economists and financiers about price hikes now — considering that after 57 months of accelerating economic upturn, price rises would appear only "normal."?

Strict Terms

The reasons are: the timing of the rises; their degree; their psychological impact; the national goal of sustaining our prolonged prosperity.

To view the unfortunate aluminum - administration squabble strictly in terms of the aluminum industry is to miss the long-term import of the development. What's at stake goes far beyond this single industry's justification for a price rise or the administration's crackdown. To explain:

(1) The Timing. Actually, had the aluminum companies been strong enough to hike prices earlier in this expansion — even well above today's levels — the increase would have been welcomed as a sign of a healthy comeback in the industry.

But November 1965 is late in this expansion. Rising demands for products across-the-board have eaten into backlogs. Many industries are now operating at or very near capacity. Unemployment among key workers has fallen to a near minimum. Shortages of skilled and semi-skilled workers have again emerged and are lowering efficiency.

Classic Formulas

These are the classic formulas for inflation—demand "pulling" up prices, costs "pushing" up prices. (The bafflegab definitions are "demand-pull" and "cost-push" inflation.)

Comparative moderation in price and wage increases, in business inventory accumulation and in consumer borrowing have been at the heart of our prosperity. To break the moderate pattern at this time is to threaten prosperity's life.

(2) The Extent. Were the current price increases as scattered as in the past, there would be little worry. But the pace and the extent of the increases have been mounting. If a spiral re-emerges, our competitive position in the world's markets would be undermined at a time when we must boost our exports of goods to help balance our international accounts. Our foreign creditors might be freightened about our dollar's integrity and step up their demands for gold. Stability in consumer and ousiness buying practices would be endangered. The Federal Reserve System would step hard on the credit brakes with the deliberate objective of slowing the upturn.

Fundamental Aim

(3) Psychological Impact. The crackdown happened to be on aluminum but the fundamental aim is, of course, to warn other industries against posting broad price boosts which would fan out and influence the prices of hundreds or thousands of items at this time. A basic objective is obviously to avert another era of leap-frogging of prices-wages and wages-prices that would set into motion forces which almost surely would bring the 1961-66 upturn to an end.

(4) National Goal. No informed observer even looks for absolute price or wage stability in a dynamic society—particularly in one starting to bump against capacity as ours is.

All that responsible authorities in public or private life urge are reasonable limits on the price-wage increases and an understanding of the crucial subtleties of timing, degree and psychology. To mock these is to gamble with the prosperity providing our profits, jobs and paychecks.

C of C Forum Is on New Technology

Research Chemist to Demonstrate Development at Appleton Parley

The second Appleton Area Chamber of Commerce—Service Club Forum Dec. 6 will feature a program on "Tomorrow's Technology Today."

Miss Marjorie Lyon, senior research chemist at National Cash Register Co., Dayton, Ohio, will discuss various research projects being conducted by the firm's research and development laboratories.

Miss Lyon's presentation at the noon luncheon at the Conway Hotel will deal with three major areas of research and development. In the field of materials and components under investigation, she will talk about and show examples of thin magnetic films, spray deposition and integrated circuity.

In the area of chemical research, Miss Lyon will discuss the history and future of chemical research at NCR.

The third area of Miss Lyon's presentation will deal with chemical memories, self-adjusting eye glasses, chemical printing and NCR's micro image systems.

Miss Lyon joined the firm in 1951 as a chemist. She received her bachelors degree in chemistry from Adelphi University, Long Island, N.Y. and her masters degree from Syracuse University.

Miss Marjorie Lyon

She had worked on the development of NCR paper and holds several patents in the area of dye stuffs. Miss Lyon has also worked in research and development of encapsulation, photochromics and their application.

John B. Torinus, first vice president of the Chamber and editor of The Post-Crescent, will preside over the meeting, which is traditionally observed as "Vice President's Day."

The Rev. Marvin A. Schilling, pastor, First Methodist Church, will give the invocation.

Political Writer Dies at Madison

Llewellyn Roberts Born in New London, Educated in Oshkosh

MADISON (AP) — Llewellyn G. Roberts, 44, political writer for the Wisconsin State Journal for the past 10 years, died Sunday.

Roberts suffered a heart attack Thursday night while talking with friends and fellow newspapermen at a restaurant near the newspaper. He was taken to Methodist Hospital and never regained consciousness. He had suffered a previous heart attack in 1959.

Roberts was born in New London and attended schools in Oshkosh, including Oshkosh High School, where he was graduated Jan. 26, 1939. He was the second of three brothers to attend OHS, all of whom were very active in school activities.

Roberts' mother, the late Mrs. Ina C. Roberts, had been a teacher at Oshkosh High School.

After graduation Roberts applied for college but shortly entered the Navy, where he served during World War II. He entered the University of Wisconsin after discharge and was graduated in 1948.

At Oshkosh High School, Roberts was on the student council for three years, president of the National Honor Society, editor of the yearbook and orator of his graduating class.

Llewellyn Roberts

Roberts, who covered the state Capitol, joined the State Journal in 1953 after working for the Freeport, Ill., Journal-Standard.

Roberts is survived by his widow and four children and a brother, Theodore, of Appleton.

Private family memorial services will be held.

Deer Stolen From Yard Of Kaukauna Resident

KAUKAUNA — Donald Erdmann, 634 Lincoln Ave., reported to police the theft of a deer from his backyard sometime between 7:30 p.m. Saturday and 1:30 a.m. Sunday.

Erdmann told police he had hung the eight-point buck which he shot earlier Saturday in the tree and left for the evening.

Strike Enters Third Week at Paper Firm

COMBINED LOCKS — The strike at the Combined Locks Paper Co. entered its third week today. No new bargaining sessions have been scheduled.

The contract expired Aug. 1. Wages, fringe benefits and the pension plan are items unresolved.

Approximately 350 hourly-paid employes are involved in the strike and some office workers have been laid off due to lack of work.

Appleton Boys Caught Shoplifting in Stores

Three Appleton youngsters, two of them 11 years old and one 10, were turned over to Juvenile authorities after they were caught shoplifting at the H. C. Prange Store, 126 W. College Ave., Saturday.

The trio reportedly took several small toy cars and motors for the cars, with a total value of about $7 from Prange's, and a box of pins and a ring from S.S. Kresge Co., 110 W. College Ave.

A City Looks to the Future . . . II

Appleton Studies All Paths To Finance Needed Projects

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

If every man, woman and child in Appleton would turn over $640 to the city tomorrow, it would be a miraculous solution for carrying out a six-year multi-million dollar capital improvement program.

But this will never come to pass, so the municipal government will have to explore all practical avenues to finance on a long and short-term basis the projects which will eventually have to materialize.

Harland Bartholomew and Associates of St. Louis, the city's planning consultants, have made it very clear how monies can be raised to underwrite an estimated $32 million worth of improvements between now and 1971 without throwing Appleton's financial structure out of whack.

Basically, projects can be financed from general taxes, special assessments, revenue bonds and general obligation bonds. Recommendations have been made to guide the city in an orderly fashion so that it can derive the most from its investment dollar.

Fall in Place

However, before any capital improvement program can be tackled it is up to the local governing body (common council) and the general public to say whether or not a comprehensive plan and capital program should be adopted as "the bible for the future", subject to review and updating on a periodic basis.

Once the community gives the go-sign, then much of the advance planning can start and things will automatically fall in place, providing there is leadership from city hall and a cross-section of the citizenry.

While Appleton has a $32 million price tag on its capital improvement program, it should be remembered all will not be tagged to the community's bonded indebtedness. In fact, the plan calls for floating $17 million in general obligation bonds over the next six years while obtaining additional revenues elsewhere.

Revenue bonds are becoming increasingly popular and can be issued for the proposed Lake Winnebago pipeline and future parking ramp construction.

Credit Not Pledged

Since water and parking provide revenues (rates are set and users pay accordingly) are sufficient to amortize the bond issue, the city's credit is not pledged and the bonds are not subject to the legal debt limitations applying to general obligation bonds.

And it should also be remembered that street and other types of construction call for special assessments, with the city recouping a good percentage of its investment.

However, consultants have come up with a financing angle seldom used in Wisconsin although statutes permit it. Instead of floating general obligation bond issues for major street and other utility construction projects which produce special assessments, Appleton officials have been advised to issue Series B bonds.

These bonds are short-term and are not charged against the city's general debt.

"The method of issuing Series B bonds is better suited to the needs of a rapidly growing community faced with the necessity of financing many capital improvements. Such is the case in Appleton," consultants said.

Age-Old Habit

At the same time city officials were urged to discontinue an age-old habit of bonding for normal recurring projects rather than including the appropriations in year-to-year budgets. Budgeting tends to raise the tax rate but at the same time takes the pressure off the bonded indebtedness.

Bonding should be done, financial experts emphasize, when the specific project requires it—not merely for keeping the tax rate from going up a dollar or two.

For example, if the city sells bonds worth $1 million and agrees to repay the loan over a 20-year period, it pays $50,000 annually in principle. The interest payment alone on the life of the loan is $367,500 at a 3.5 per cent interest rate. This represents 36 per cent of the original loan.

With emphasis on budgeting, rather than bonding for recurring projects, the capital improvement program recommends increases in annual paving, sanitary sewer and

Capacity Audience Approves Comedy

'Barefoot in Park' Scores as First Variety Theatre Offering

Post-Crescent Sunday Editor

The traffic was heavy on the streets around Appleton High School auditorium Sunday evening as Variety Theatre, in association with the Appleton Gallery of Arts, presented its first attraction of the 1965-66 season, Neil Simon's effervescent Broadway comedy, "Barefoot in the Park."

The traffic was also heavy on the stage of Appleton High School auditorium as director Harvey Mendlinsky, following in the path blazed by the amazingly resourceful Mike Nichols, sent his energetic cast leaping, dashing and grimacing through the verbal hoops set up by the ever-inventive Mr. Simon.

It was, in sum, a busy, hectic, laugh-filled evening, as a near-capacity audience roared its approval of this deceptively simple charade, the gag-studded story of the first few weeks in the marriage of a girl who "jumps into life," and an attractive but practical lawyer who "looks first" before boarding the Staten Island ferry at midnight, or taking his shoes off for a stroll through Central Park.

Thread of Character

"Barefoot in the Park" is one of those rare scripts that hangs its farcical lines and situations on a slender but sturdy thread of character, and a a result, it strikes the average theatergoer as not only amusing but reasonably true to life. The figures hurling themselves about the stage are, despite all their frenetic activity, recognizable as human beings, and the humor has been drawn from the shared experiences of our common existence.

As the well-matched, though temperamentally contrasting couple, Joel Crothers and Joan McCall must have set some kind of mileage record as they bounded back and forth across Oliver Smith's wonderfully dilapidated apartment set.

Crothers, a veteran television actor who also, the program tells us, happens to be a Summa Cum Laude graduate of Harvard, proved a skillful and attractive farceur whose rapport with the other cast members was one of the keys to the play's success.

Miss McCall, a graduate of Kentucky' Berea College, was equally energetic though considerably less persuasive as the impulsive wife. Her voice has

Appleton Share of State Sales Tax Credit to be $529,074

Credit Will Lower Rate by $3.67, $5.11 in Two Portions of City

Appleton will receive $529,074 as its share of the state's sales tax credit to be used for lowering property taxes.

Official word of the 1965 allocation was received today from the Wisconsin Department of Taxation.

City Finance Director Henry Schreve said the refund amounted to $60,228 more this year than in 1964.

But more important and of concern to the city's more than 15,000 taxpayers was the disclosure that the refund credit will help lower the rate here by $3.67 per $1,000 assessed valuation.

For those property owners in the second precinct of the Ninth Ward Calumet County, the refund amounts to $5.11 which can be applied to lower the rate.

Recently, the common council adopted a budget calling for a gross rate of $52.15 per $1,000 assessed valuation. When subtracting the credit refund, it leaves the city with a net rate of $48.48—up $1.92 from this year.

However, because the Calumet County levy was increased this year, those residents in the Ninth Ward's second precinct have a gross rate of $52.93. When applying the $5.21 credit refund they end up with a net rate of $45.18—an increase of $2.64.

When taking the net rate of $48.48 for Appleton, it means a person owning a home assessed at $10,000 will pay $19.20 more in property taxes in 1966 than he did this year.

Those residing in the Calumet County sector with a $10,000 valuation will have their tax payment increased by $26.40.

Of the total refund certified for Appleton, $503,639 was for the portion in Outagamie County, and the remaining $25,435 to the area in Calumet County.

"I had anticipated the total refund would be up a fractional amount," Schreve said. "However, it wasn't anticipated the Calumet County credit would be down."

Center Swamp Hunt for Hunter Unnecessary

Milwaukee Man Walks Out as Searchers Organize

A large-scale search was called off before it started this morning when a Milwaukee deer hunter walked out of the woods after being lost in Center Swamp over night.

Outagamie County Sheriff's Department officers identified the man as Clifford Boettcher, 31.

Initial search for Boettcher began Sunday evening after a county traffic patrolman saw a 1962 Rambler parked at the edge of the swamp, just off County Trunk A, about four miles northwest of Appleton.

In checking, it was found that the car, which was locked, was listed to Marlene Scheerer, also of Milwaukee. When notified, she told authorities she loaned the car to Boettcher who told her he was taking it north on a deer hunting trip and would return Monday evening. He said he was going to hunt Sunday and Monday in the Appleton area.

Empty Gun Case

There was an empty gun case in the car when it was found.

Authorities went to the swamp about 10 p.m., after it was determined that Boettcher apparently was lost.

They fired guns and firecrackers, beamed lights into the air and sounded sirens until about 1 a.m. and then called off the attempt to locate Boettcher until this morning when search parties could effectively comb the large swamp.

When Sheriff Calvin Spice and others arrived to start the search about 9 a.m. today, they were told by a witness that Boettcher walked out of the woods shortly before and drove away in the car.

Authorities theorize that Boettcher ran into other hunters in the woods and was "steered back" to his vehicle.

YMCA Begins Annual Sale

Youths Sell Candy To Earn Their Way To Summer Camp

The "earn your way to camp" candy sale, sponsored annually by the Appleton YMCA, began Saturday and will last until Feb. 28, according to Thomas Klenz, YMCA youth and camp director.

Any boy between the ages of 7 and 17 can participate in the sale regardless of whether he is a YMCA member.

Each dollar box of mints sold gives the salesman 50 cents toward any of the "Y" camp activities. The money is placed in an account for the salesmen and he has three years in which to use it for camp.

Complete Program

Anyone interested should stop at the YMCA youth office and pick up a permission slip to be signed by parents.

A complete summer camping program for boys and girls is offered by the "Y".

Younger children can attend the day camp, while those over nine can attend the new Waubee Lake Camp at Lakewood. It will offer five sessions for boys, three for the girls and two for the family.

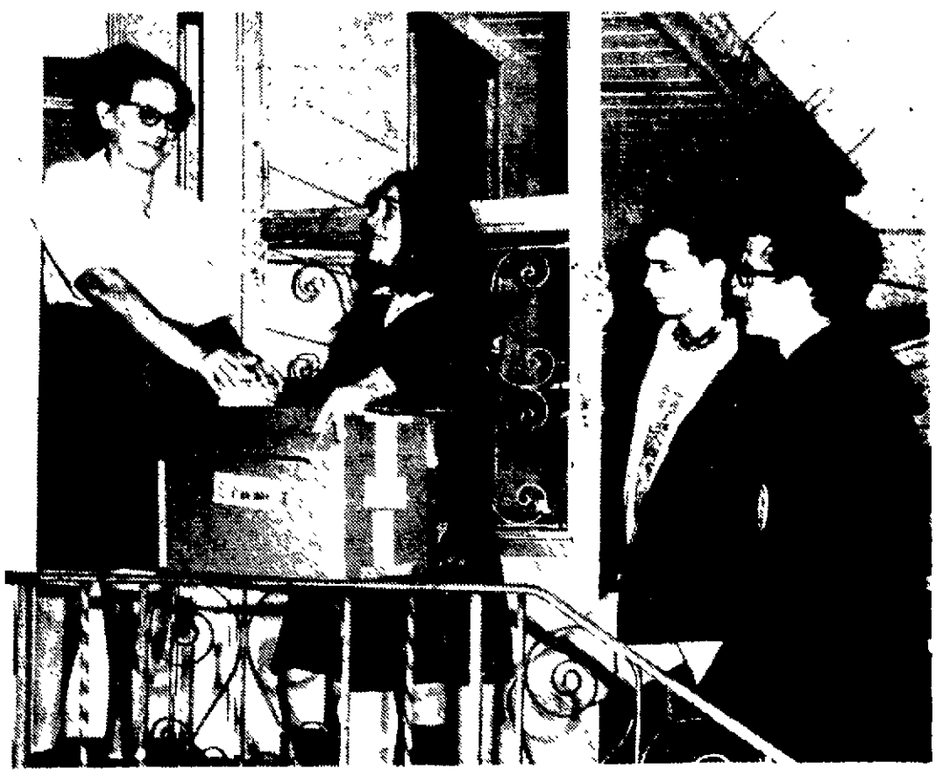
Two canoe trips to Canada, for high school boys and girls, also are planned.

Neenah Woman Given 30-Day Sentence for Ignoring Trial Date

OSHKOSH — Adrienne Budgick, 22, 740A S. Park Ave., Neenah, today was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail for contempt of court by Winnebago County Judge James V. Sitter.

She was charged with petty theft on May 21 after she and two other women allegedly were involved in theft of cosmetics from a Menasha variety store. The other two women pleaded guilty when they were arraigned May 26.

Judge Sitter imposed the sentence because she had not appeared when she was set for trial on July 23 and several times after that. She was scheduled to appear Nov. 19 but when she failed to show up Judge Sitter issued a bench warrant for her arrest. During the 30 days a new trial date will be set.



About 200 Xavier High School seniors participated in the door-to-door solicitation for canned goods and other food stuffs to add to the Thanksgiving baskets which will be distributed to needy families. Mrs. J. G. Hebler, left, added to the team basket of Karen McDermott, James Jankowski and John Clemons. The Key Club will buy turkeys and perishables for the baskets with funds raised through a candy sale. The Appleton Apostolate will aid in the distribution. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Consecration Services Were conducted at the new St. James Methodist Church Sunday. The $140,000 structure is located at W. Capitol Drive and N. Oneida Street. From left, are Fred Hill, co-chairman of the building council, the Rev. James L. Vahey, pastor; the Rev. R. T. Alton, bishop of the Wisconsin Area Methodist Church and featured speaker; the Rev. Kenneth Engelman, chairman, Board of Missions, Watertown; and Mrs. Hugh Hessler, president, Women's Society of Christian Service. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Police Question Teen-Ager on Auto Theft, Find Other Loot

Questioning of a 15-year-old Appleton youth about a car stolen in the city Friday has led to the clearing up of several other thefts, including that of another car.

The youth implicated a 16-year-old companion, Appleton police said.

The youths were referred to juvenile authorities Saturday after police investigated the theft of a car owned by Gary VandenHeuvel, 2924 E. Wisconsin Ave. The man said his car was stolen from a parking place on S. Locust Street about 3 p.m. Friday.

The car later was found by the owner near Appleton High School. A rifle, valued at $150, was taken from the trunk, the owner said.

Police were given a lead by a citizen and picked up the 15-year-old for questioning. He then told authorities that he and his companion had stolen several other items recently.

Included in their loot, some of which was recovered in a shed near one of the boy's home and some of which was kept in their high school lockers, included a walkie talkie, two pairs of shoes, a crow and squirrel caller and a pair of stockings.

Other items included a set of 22 calibre pistols, two boxes of 22 shells, a box of 30-30 shells, a pony tail wig, a bottle of "buck scent", five vests valued at $10.90 each, a transistor radio, cigarettes, and a flashlight.

The items were taken from several Appleton business places.

The youths also admitted taking the rifle from the trunk of the VandenHeuvel car. The gun was recovered.

Menasha Couple Granted Divorce

OSHKOSH — County Judge Herbert J. Mueller granted Donald A. Moderson, 40, Menasha, a divorce from Hildegard Moderson, 30, Menasha, Friday on his charge of cruel and inhuman treatment. The couple was married May 27, 1953, and separated July 16, 1960.

The wife was awarded custody of the two minor children and he is to pay $20 a week support and $5 a week alimony. A property settlement also was arranged.

$104 Stolen From Bar In Downtown Appleton

About $104 was taken in a burglary early Sunday at The Colony Bar, 610 W. College Ave.

The burglary was discovered at 4:30 a.m. Sunday, Appleton police said. They said entry was gained by breaking a window in a rear door and pulling a latch.

The money was taken from a cigar box and a cash register, according to police.

3 Lawrence Seniors Given Mace Honors

Kasten, Glidden, Cusic Tapped for Society Membership

Lawrence University seniors Vance Kasten, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kasten, 1308 W. Harris St.; David Glidden, Batavia, Ill., and David Cusic, Riverside, Ill., were tapped for membership in Mace honorary society for men following elections last weekend.

Kasten, a philosophy major with a 2.758 cumulative grade average, is a counselor of freshman men at Brokaw Hall and co-host at Colman Hall. He is editor of "Survey," a journal of the social sciences published by students; a staff member at WLFM; a member of the Religion-in-Life steering board, and a member of Lantern.

Glidden, a classics major, is a member of Eta Sigma Phi honorary classics fraternity and has served as a member of the President's committee; of honor council; the Plantz Hall council, and as a counselor. He was chairman of the Religion-in-Life conference and is a member of Canterbury Club. Recipient of last year's Phi Beta Kappa scholarship award, Glidden has a 3.0 cumulative grade average.

A government major with a 2.656 cumulative grade average, Cusic has been a counselor and has served as an Inter-Fraternity Council representative. He has served as vice president of Beta Theta Pi fraternity; chairman of the Student Senate's polling committee and as a member of the homecoming committee. He is a member of Judicial Board and is art editor of the "Lawrentian," the student newspaper.

Menasha Break-in

MENASHA — A cigarette machine in a laundramat adjoining Prosser Beer Depot, 126 Water St., was broken into Saturday evening and $40 worth of cigarettes and coins were taken, according to Menasha police.

Aldermen To Award Contracts

NEENAH — Utility contracts will be awarded tonight at a council meeting adjourned from Nov. 17 for this purpose.

Bids opened today at a 4:15 p.m. public works meeting will be awarded.

Bids are for storm and sanitary sewers on Cedar Street from Belmont Court to Laudan Boulevard, a storm sewer on Adams Street from Western Avenue to Plummer Court. The bids will also be for a 16 inch transmission water main on the same Cedar Street location and on Laudan Boulevard from S. Park Avenue to Cecil Street.

The council may amend the city ordinance to allow the increase for boarding dogs at the Animal Welfare League.

The public protection committee agreed to ask the council to approve a 50 cent increase for keeping dogs at the league shelter. If approved the cost per calendar day will be $1.

After a meeting with representatives of the league the public protection committee agreed on the increase. This is in compliance with the charges now being collected by the league. The league is operating as a city agent under a verbal agreement. The meeting was held to find a solution for signing a contract which theoretically has been in existence since June 17.

Milwaukee Man Named Attorney Forum Speaker

NEENAH — Daie L. Sorden, of the Milwaukee law firm of Quarles, Herriott and Clemons, will speak at the annual attorney's forum and dinner sponsored by the Trust Department of the National Manufacturers Bank at 4:30 p.m. Dec. 7 at the North Shore Golf Club.

Sorden's topic will be "The New Wisconsin Income Tax Simplification Law: Principles and Practice."

Former Vice President 97

Garner Looks Forward To Marking 100th Year

UVALDE, Tex. (AP) — Former Vice President John Nance Garner celebrated his 97th birthday today with a brand new hat and a wish to be 100.

National and state officials gathered in this small South Texas town to honor the only man who ever served successively as speaker of the U.S. House and presiding officer of the U.S. Senate. Others sent birthday wishes by mail and wire.

Garner made his birthday wishes known late Sunday in an emotional visit with his son, Tully Garner, 67, prominent Uvalde businessman.

"Son, I believe you want me to reach 100 as much as I do," said the elder Garner.

"I want it even more, dad," Tulley said.

The former vice president's birthday presents began arriving as he talked to his son and a few visitors beneath the giant oak trees encircling the modest white house where Garner now lives.

Tully brought a new light tan hat and a billfold. The Uvalde mayor sent a tie. Another old friend brought a pair of warm socks.

Garner had to be reminded to go inside when dusk began to fall.

"These oak trees and me are partners," the bushy-browed Garner told visitors. "I have been sitting under this one old tree seems like maybe 70 years, and I bet it will last another 70 if I can last that long. That's all I've got to do, now, is sit here under these old trees."

He reached out a hand and strained his weakening eyes to see each newcomer.

"You are as welcome here as these old oak trees," he said.

Cactus Jack, as he was known during much of his 46 years as a public official, bowed out of politics in 1940 when he caught a train to Texas and never returned to Washington.

He began his political career with election as Uvalde County judge when Grover Cleveland was president. He served two terms in the Texas Legislature and was elected to Congress in 1902. He served in the U.S House 30 years and was elected speaker in 1931. In 1932, he lost a bid for the Democratic presidential nomination, but was picked as Franklin D. Roosevelt's running mate.

After two terms as vice president, he and Roosevelt broke up the partnership and Garner returned to Texas.

District Deputy To Make Official Elks Lodge Visit

MENASHA — District Deputy James F. Hendricks, Manitowoc, will inspect the Neenah-Menasha Elks Lodge No. 676 Wednesday night in his official visit to the Twin City fraternal group.

A class of 16 candidates will be initiated into the lodge at 8:15 p.m ceremonies. Hendricks will outline the grand lodge program during his talk after initiation.

Officers and trustees of the lodge will meet with the grand lodge officials at 5:15 p.m. Dinner will be served at 7 p.m.

Interest Rates Boosted by Neenah Bank

4 Per Cent to be Paid on Savings, Christmas Clubs

NEENAH — Interest rates on savings accounts, including Christmas Club accounts, have been boosted to four per cent by the National Manufacturers Bank of Neenah.

S. N. Pickard, bank president, announced the increase and cited a countrywide trend toward higher interest rates as the principal reason for the move.

The bank is the first financial institution in the Twin Cities to announce the change. Subscribers to the Christmas Club at the bank for 1966 will receive interest payments on their savings for the first time in history.

The previous rate of interest on regular savings accounts was three per cent.

Pickard stated that the new interest rates will be an encouragement for local citizens "to keep their savings funds in the community for use in the further development and growth of the area."

Copper Takes Sharp Loss

Early Aerospace, Electronics Gains Erased in Decline

NEW YORK (AP) — Copper and selected issues took sharp losses in a declining stock market early this afternoon. Trading was moderately active.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 1.3 at 352.7 with industrials off 3.2, rails up .1 and utilities off .1.

Coppers retreated on a broad front as a result of the rollback of the copper price increase.

Early gains by some of the aerospace, electronics and other issues were erased as losses spread out to other sections of the list.

Motors and steels declined after holding fairly even most of the morning. The trend was generally lowr eamong chemicals, oils and tobaccos.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 6.40 at 946.32.

5-Point Drop

Kennecott plummeted more than 5 points in reaction to the copper price recession. American Smelting lost more than 2, Phelps Dodge nearly 2, Anaconda more than a point, International Nickel a fraction.

Profits were taken in some of the recent fast steppers. Fairchild Camera lost nearly 4, Magnavox more than 2.

Polaroid slipped about 3½, Xerox 2, IBM, U.S. Smelting and Control Data a point or more.

National Biscuit declined a fraction and Cocoa Cola was off nearly a point following news that merger discussions between them had been dropped.

Prices were mixed in active trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Conflict Over Expressway Is Resolved

MENASHA — A conflict over the right-of-way of the proposed Fox Cities Expressway through the Geo. Banta Co. property has been resolved by the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission.

The $50 million, 25-mile expressway received another boost when the commission decided to extend the grade separation over the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railway Co. tracks on Midway Road to provide communications between two pieces of property owned by the Geo. Banta Co.

Last August, George Banta Jr., president of the company, told the commission the proposed expressway would cut across land the firm owns north of its present facilities. Although no definite plans for expansion have been set by the company, officials hope to use the land for new plants in the future.

A sub-committee of the planning commission toured the plant site last week and recommended the action.

Eugene Franchett, commission director, said the grade separation would be extended up to 500 feet to provide access between the two properties. The elevation of the highway would be between 23 and 25 feet over the property, and would not hinder the firm's expansion plans at its Midway Road plant.

A section of the proposed expressway would run midway between County Trunk P and Midway Road in the area west of State 47.

Youths Held on Drug Count After Drinking Scandal

DARIEN, Conn., (AP) — Nine young persons, including Michael J. Smith, a key figure in a teen-age drinking scandal that shook this fashionable city a year ago, are free on bond today on narcotics charges.

Smith, 20, and eight friends were arrested Sunday in a pre-dawn police raid on Smith's apartment. Eight were charged with violating the state narcotics act, and freed on bonds of $3,000 to $5,000.

The other, a 15-year-old girl, whose name was withheld, was released in custody of her parents and will be referred to juvenile authorities.

Police said a "quantity of a substance believed to be marihuana" was found in the apartment shared by Smith and Jack White, 19.

Thirteen months ago, four socially prominent Darien couples and several other adults were arrested on charges of serving liquor to minors at private parties.

Percy Urged To Seek Governorship

CHICAGO (AP) — Another major Illinois Republican has added his voice to those urging Charles H. Percy, defeated 1964 gubernatorial candidate, to run for the U.S. Senate.

State Treasurer William J. Scott Saturday publicly threw his support behind the 46-year-old chairman of Bell & Howell Co., maker of photographic equipment.

Scott, who opposed Percy in the GOP gubernatorial primary, said the Republican party must "unite for victory in 1966. . . if for nao other reason than to preserve our competitive two party system."

C of C Secretary Resigns Office

Drive Underway at Kaukauna in Effort To Raise Membership

KAUKAUNA — Miss Mary Margaret DeClercq, executive secretary of the chamber of commerce for the past three years, has announced her resignation effective Jan. 1, according to Norbert Rhinerson, president.

Miss DeClercq originally was hired as part-time secretary. Demands of the position have resulted in her working full time at a part-time salary.

Rhinerson said that to insure a Chamber or Commerce operation, dues must be increased, services reduced or membership increased.

The latter being the most feasible, Rhinerson has asked for additional memberships, noting there are 220 non-member business and professional men in the city qualified, but not members of the Chamber of Commerce.

Rhinerson has mailed pledge cards to members and potential members to promote 1966 membership.

Study Needed Of All Paths Of Financing

storm sewer work appropriations.

The impact the six-year plan would have on the tax rate has also been projected, taking into consideration that Appleton's assessed valuation has been climbing close to $5 million a year and should continue to do so.

Projected Raises

In 1966 the capital improvement program would result in a $1.55 increase in the tax rate. In 1967 the increase would be $2.77 and in 1968, $3.22. Thw 1969 boost would amount to $3.77 and then in 1970 and 1971 leveling off to $3.60 and $3.50, respectively.

When it comes to bonding programs, Appleton should be at 80 per cent of its legal bonding limit by 1971, according to projections. Consultants say this will not affect the city's financial rating but the thought of boosting indebtedness that high tends to make municipal officials uneasy.

It is interesting to note that after reviewing Appleton's financial past with a fine-tooth comb, consultants say the cost of general city government has actually decreased since 1960. However, skyrocketing school costs have raised tax rates appreciably, a general trend through the country.

On the revenue side of the ledger, Appleton has things going for it, according to a summary covering 1960 through 1964. During this period the city's revenue jumped $9.5 million, an increase of 140 per cent over 1960.

Different Amount

"The trend of increasing revenues is certainly compatible with that of other cities, but the amount is quite different," the report says.

"Very few cities have had population increases of the magnitude experienced in Appleton which is primarily responsible for the tremendous gain," consultants observed.

While tax rate increases and continued bonding are generally viewed with alarm, the men responsible for charting the best interests and future needs of Appleton contend the projects listed in the capital improvement program are necessary to the progress of the city.

Consultants are the first to admit they aren't about to tell the people what to do; they merely advise. This leaves the fate of the proposed capital improvement program in the hands of Appletonians who can either take it or leave it, bearing in mind the consequences usually associated with a negative approach to positive prospects.

Hunting Partner's Gun Discharges, Man Shot in Foot

Robert A. Janssen, 31, of Milwaukee, was shot in the right foot when his hunting partner's gun discharged while the two men were talking Sunday morning in the Town of Bloomfield in Waushara County.

Janssen was treated at Waupaca Riverside Hospital and then transferred to Appleton Memorial Hospital. The accident was investigated by Conservation Warden Rex Oatman.

A-C Donates Pressurized Surgery Room

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The first pressure tank operating room in Wisconsin has been built by the Allis - Chalmers Mfg. Co., and donated to St. Luke's Hospital of Milwaukee.

The $82,000 steel cylinder custom designed and built by Allis-Chalmers for special clinical use, was trucked from the firm's West Allis plant to the hospital today and lowered into a new underground building.

The 10-ton hyperbaric facility —its interior pressure can be varied according to need—will be valuable for treatment of various infections, certain crushing injuries, carbon monoxide poisoning and some cardiac and respiratory conditions, said Dr. Carl Zenz, director of medical and hygiene services for Allis-Chalmers.

Dr. Zenz said the chamber's ability to provide different atmospheric pressures will increase the surgical work time for extended periods not otherwise possible under normal atmospheric conditions.

This is the 14th such facility in the nation and the first in Wisconsin. There are about 23 of this type in the world, Dr. Zenz added.

Man Gets 60 Days On Driving Count

James J. Brooks, 22, Milwaukee, was sentenced to 60 days in county jail this morning after he pleaded guilty in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 of operating a motor vehicle after his driver's license had been revoked.

Brooks, arrested Saturday by a Wisconsin state patrolman on U.S. 41 in the Town of Vandenbroek, also was fined $35 and costs, with an alternative 14 day jail sentence, when he pleaded guilty of speeding 74 miles in a 55 zone.

Santa Claus at Valley Fair Mall

Santa Claus, who arrived Saturday at Valley Fair Shopping Center, will be in his headquarters in the central mall Monday through Saturday to visit with Fox Valley youngsters.

Beginning today, Santa will chat with youngsters from 4 to 8 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 1 to 5 p.m. on Saturday.

A mail box for letters to Santa has been installed in the mall.

Kimberly Parish Will Join Clothing Drive

KIMBERLY — The members of Holy Name Heart of Jesus Catholic parish will participate in the Bishop's Thanksgiving clothing drive this week with parishioners to bring items to the school hall anytime during the week.

Holy Name has been the leading parish in the Green Bay diocese for donations in the past several years. Volunteer labor will sort and package items for shipment later this week.

Kaukauna Youth Hurt In One-Car Accident

KAUKAUNA — Robert Weigman, 18, 255 E. Second St., suffered mouth, nose and face lacerations when the car he was driving north on Maria street, about 12:45 a.m. today left the road and struck a tree.

Short Circuit in Lamp Causes Fire At Kaukauna Home

KAUKAUNA — Extensive damage was reported to a bedroom of a home owned by Gordon VanHandel, 808 Metoxen Ave., about 12:15 p.m. Saturday when a short circuit in the cord of a wall lamp resulted in a fire.

Bedding and curtains were burned and walls and ceilings charred. Extensive smoke damage was also reported throughout the home.

Some water damage was reported as firemen pumped 200 gallons of water onto the fire before bringing it under control.

Firemen spent about an hour at the scene.

Fond du Lac Man Fined $150 for Misconduct

OSHKOSH — Donald K Sweet, 20, Fond du Lac, was fined $150 and costs Monday in Winnebago County Court Branch 3 after pleading guilty to disorderly conduct.

Sweet was arrested by Menasha Police Saturday on Manitowoc Street after they were called to an apartment where Sweet was wielding a knife. Police said they had to use handcuffs in arresting Sweet.

Grease Fire Reported

A grease fire in an oven at the Michael Krablean home, 1015½ N. Oneida St., brought out Appleton firemen at 7:22 p.m. Sunday. Damage was minor, firemen said.

Blast Levels Building at Hortonville

HORTONVILLE — A liquid petroleum gas explosion destroyed the cement block combination milk house, pump house and granary at the Gerald Hoier farm on U.S. 45 inside the village limits about 9:45 p.m. Sunday. There was no fire, although Hortonville volunteer firemen were called as a precautionary measure.

A gas heater was located in the 20 by 20-foot building, situated close to the barn. Officials theorized that gas accumulated from a leak and exploded when the water pump kicked in, blowing out the walls of the structure. Fire Chief Lawrence Moder had no estimate of the loss.

'Barefoot in Park' Scores High Approval

Vibrant Woman

Cast as Corie's widowed (we assume) mother is veteran film actress Lynn Bari, seen on local television the morning of the performance as a silent screen vamp in "Abbott and Costello Meet the Keystone Cops." Miss Bari, still an attractive and vibrant woman, demonstrated that she has more then enough talent to bridge the gap between ingenue and mature roles. Her scenes with Crothers were particularly delightful.

Woody Romoff, a flamboyant veteran with a Shakespearian style, had great fun with the colorful part of Victor Velasco, an impoverished sportsman and gourmet who occupies the flat above the newlyweds in the landlord's "middle income prison camp."

In lesser roles Allan North was ingratiating as the Telephone Man, and Don Fenwick, the company's stage manager, scored briefly as the Delivery Man.

It's a bit late in the day to predict success for "Barefoot in the Park"—it's already had it, in spades. But one can look ahead with considerable optimism to the balance of the Variety Theatre season, which provides for evenings with Phyllis Diller, Pearl Bailey and Pete Fountain early in the New Year.

Correction

A story in Friday's paper stated that John Bushman, 36, 308 E. Taft St., pleaded guilty of disorderly conduct Nov. 12 and was fined $25 and costs. Actually, he pleaded no contest and was found guilty by the court. An earlier story did correctly state his plea.

Foundation Asks For 'Artmobiles'

RACINE (AP) — The Wisconsin Arts Foundation and Council is proposing traveling "artmobiles" to bring cultural exhibits to communities throughout the state.

The organization's day - long conference here Saturday also called for publication of a directory of arts facilities and creation of a central information center. Julius Bloom, executive director of Carnegie Hall in New York, told the conference, "Culture is breaking out in so many places today that we have trouble trying to grasp all that is happening."

Outagamie Authorities Check Theft of Liquor, Food From Skyway Bar

Outagamie County authorities are investigating a burglary and theft early Sunday at the Skyway Bar, four miles west of Shiocton on State 54.

The break-in, discovered about 8 a.m. Sunday, occurred sometime after 1 a.m., authorities said. Entry was made by breaking a pane of glass in a door.

Reported taken were three boxes of cigars, nine cartons of beer, 10 bottles of liquor and about two dozen bags of food items including pretzels and potato chips. Although there was money in the cash register and in a jar behind the bar, no money was reported taken.

Appleton Youth Fined For Stealing Jacket

An Appleton youth who stole a jacket from Treasure Island one day after he was hired at the store, was fined $50 and costs on a theft charge this morning in Outagamie County Court Branch 2.

The complaint against William Thiel, 18, 1935 N. Oneida St., was filed by Outagamie County sheriff's investigators who said the coat was taken from the store Nov. 18.

Thiel pleaded guilty.

File Petition on Condemning Oshkosh Land

Diamond Match Co. Property Sought for Buildings, Field

OSHKOSH — A petition for condemnation of six parcels of land owned by the Kaiser Buildings in Oshkosh has been filed in Circuit Court of Judge Arnold J. Cane by the state attorney general's office.

The petition states the land is needed for use by the Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh for residence hall, food service facility and athletic fields.

A jurisdictional offer by the State Board of Regents has been rejected by the owners so the state attorney general's office is asking the court to assign the matter to the county condemnation commissioners for proceedings to determine the amount of just compensation. The land involved is the former Diamond Match Co. and adjoining property.

The petition states that other parties which have an interest of record in these parcels of property are Commodity Storage Corp., K-Way Industries Corp. of Oshkosh, Chicago and North Western Railway Co., Oshkosh Motor Truck, Inc., Kimberly-Clark Corp., and Badger Electric Supply Co. of Oshkosh.

The county condemnation commissioners are James P. Coughlin of Winneconne, Louis H. Haase and Gaylord C. Loehning of Neenah, Hibbard H. Engler and Paul Redemann of Oshkosh and A. H. Moeser of Larsen.

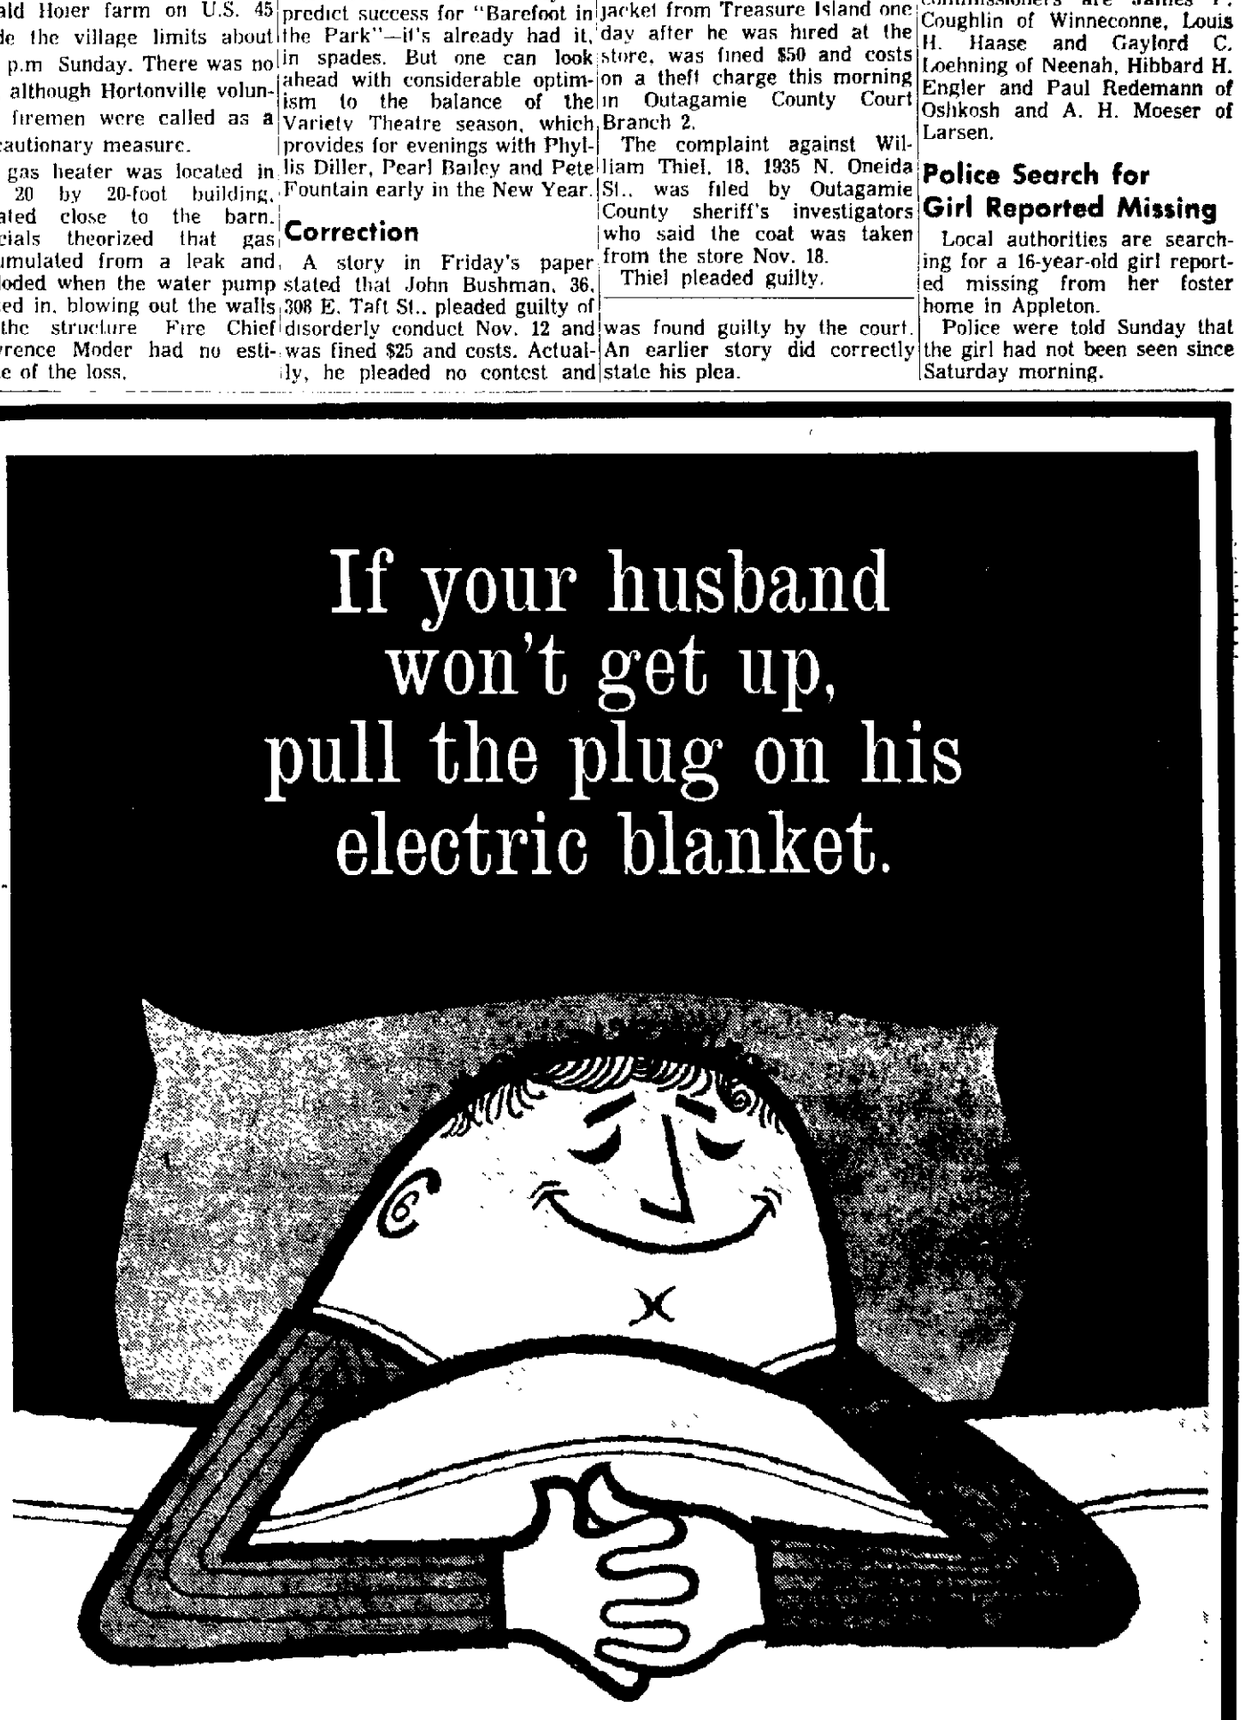
If your husband won't get up, pull the plug on his electric blanket.



Sometimes it's the only way. People with electric blankets just don't want to get out of bed on cold, wintry mornings. But they can't wait to crawl into a toasty pre-warmed bed at night. Dialed to just the temperature they like. A feather-light electric blanket keeps them warm without being buried alive under ordinary blankets. (Too bad they can't stay awake to enjoy it.) If your husband doesn't have an electric blanket, get him one today. But make him promise he'll get up and go to work tomorrow. Or you'll pull the plug.

New Strength Hits Economy In Final Quarter

Aluminum Situation Likely to Add to Final Weeks' Tempo

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The economy is picking up new strength at the halfway mark in the final quarter of the year.

And the hullaballoo over aluminum prices — even the temporary breakdown of electric power in the industrial Northeast — is likely to add to the tempo on the final weeks of the year — if for no other reason than the rush to catch up after the disruption and uncertainty of the first two weeks of November.

The statistics of the economy seem sure to be fatter at year-end — both in dollar volume — influenced by rising prices — and in unit volume.

Suplies Tighten

Copper prices are going up as supplies tighten. Part of the push behind prices in this metal is from political uproar in production centers in South America and central Africa, forcing world prices higher. Much of the rise in the United States is due to increasing demand for metal.

Steel production is taking a tentative step upward again. It had been lagging since a labor settlement early in September ended fear of a strike. This sent customers to living off of stockpiles built up as a precaution.

Auto production is booming, and so are sales of the new models. Most people see this as assurance that public confidence in good times ahead is strong — and that consumer spending still is free wheeling.

Greatest Activity

This should assure record retail sales in the weeks just ahead. It's the season of greatest activity for most merchants.

And personal income totals continue to rise. High employment and higher wage scales are helping. There's also a boost from such sidelines as stock dividends. Payments are at a record so far this year. And the first yearend extras signal a record outflow of cash from corporate coffers to shareowners.

Rising prices here and there will give a misleading glow to some of the statistics reckoned in dollars. This inflation, so far mild, colors the reports of the economy in general. But the big boost still is in the actual unit volume — the rising total of goods, the increased number of persons at work.

Livestock Co-Op To Move Office To Baraboo

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Equity Cooperative Live-stock Sales Association, Wisconsin's largest livestock sales agency, said Sunday it would move its main office from Milwaukee to Baraboo Jan. 1.

The association operates nine auction markets in Wisconsin at Altoona, Bonduel, Coon Valley, Johnson Creek, Reedsville, Richland Center, Ripon, Sparta and Stratford.

The main office has operated in Milwaukee for 43 years. It was established in 1922 as commission agency and had its office across the street from the Milwaukee stockyards since 1937. The organization now considers its Milwaukee quarters inadequate.

UAW Claims Attempt at Better Service

AMC Files Unfair Practices Suit On At-Large Board

KENOSHA (AP) — Richard Thiel, president of Local 72 of the United Auto Workers, said Sunday the union was merely attempting to improve its service to members by changing a nine - year old agreement with American Motors Corp.

AMC filed an unfair labor practice complaint against the local Saturday with the National Labor Relations Board because the union had declared all 15 of its executive board members to be at-large representatives in the Kenosha plant. Previously, each member represented workers in a specific area.

Thiel said the written contract was silent as far as executive member representation of workers and areas was concerned. He added that the company was "trying to disgrace board members by alluding to overtime payments."

The company said the change permits board members "to roam the plant any time, day or night, without limitation and with full pay, including overtime premium payment for any hours the individual chooses to be in the plant."

Thiel said the union would be happy to answer the charge before the NLRB.

Four Killed When Plane Crashes on Flight From Game

CHICAGO HEIGHTS, Ill. (AP)—Four men returning from the Chicago Bears football game in Detroit were killed Sunday night when their rented plane crashed south of Chicago Heights.

The four, all employes of the Ford Motor Co. stamping plant in Chicago Heights, were en route from Detroit to Frankfort (Ill.) Airport when their plane crashed 15 miles short of the destination.

Officials said the men were returning from Detroit, where they had watched the Bears-Detroit Lions football game Sunday afternoon.

The victims were Steve J. Gicei of Chicago Heights, the pilot; George A. Clark of Dyer, Ind.; James T. Quick of Park Forest; and John R. Horiski of Homewood

The Cessna 172 four-seater crashed during a dense fog. It went down near a city dump, but did not catch fire. The wreckage was found by search parties an hour after the accident.

Racine Man Victim Of Shotgun Slaying

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Police were to seek a murder warrant today in the shotgun slaying of a Racine man

Bobby Waters, 32, was struck in the face and chest by a 12-gauge shotgun blast fired through a window Sunday as he walked onto the porch of his father-in-law's home here, police said. Waters' estranged wife witnessed the shooting, the detectives added.

Nuclear Weapon Move Concerns New York City

NEW YORK (AP) — Reports that the Defense Department might be moving nuclear weapons through the city at night has caused some apprehension among officials.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner showed his concern Sunday when he released a report from his Technical Advisory Committee on Radiation.

"Upon several recent occasions," the report said, "the Fire Department has been requested to escort truck convoys reportedly carrying nuclear weapons through the city at night."

Such shipments could be going to nearby military bases or to piers for shipment overseas.

The report said repeated inquiries to the Department of Defense had been fruitless, "probably because of security reasons."

Romanians Act as Go-Between in Try At Viet Nam Truce

Austrian Sources Report Actions Through Bucharest

VIENNA, Austria, (AP) — Romania's Communist leaders are acting as go-betweens for another Viet Nam peace effort, Austrian diplomats say.

The Austrian sources said Romanian efforts to achieve peace talks began last June after North Viet Nam put out peace feelers through Bucharest.

The diplomats said Romanian Premier Ion Gheorghe Maurer reported the moves to Austrian officials during an official visit to Vienna last week.

The diplomats said Maurer gave this account:

Outcome Unknown

The outcome of these talks was not indicated.

Maurer told Austrian officials Romania is ready to mediate between the United States and North Viet Nam "whenever there is a chance of bringing the war to an end."

U.S. Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield and four other senators left Romania Sunday on their way to Saigon after talks with Romanian officials on the Viet Nam war. Mansfield told newsmen he could not reveal the substance of the talks.

There was no reaction from the State Department in Washington to the report of Romanian peace efforts.

Following grafs for use at 6:30 a.m. EST.

In Brazil

In Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, Rusk said in an ABC television interview that North Viet Nam has yet to show interest in any peace talks except on the basis of its "famous four points," which the United States has declared unacceptable.

Rusk was referring to a Hanoi

Man Gives Up In Kidnaping In Washington

Three Charged; All but $5,000 of Ransom Recovered

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — The third man sought in connection with the kidnaping of Charles Hyde III surrendered here early today.

He is James Edward Evans, a 31-year-old father named as an accomplice in the kidnaping by its admitted mastermind.

Sheriff's officers said Evans turned himself in to Chief Criminal Deputy George Janovich. He was immediately whisked into an interrogation session with officers.

They would not say where Evans had been. They reported, however, he had just driven into Tacoma.

Received Call

Detective Capt. Ernest Keck of the Pierce County sheriff's office disclosed Sunday he had received a telephone call Saturday night, presumably from California. Evans has a brother in Hayward, Calif.

Keck said Evans told him he understood he was wanted and was returning to Tacoma, where he has a wife and several small children.

The Hyde boy, a slender, studious 13-year-old, was abducted Wednesday morning as he walked to a school bus stop. He was released unharmed nine hours later after his father, president of a wholesale grocery firm, paid $45,000 ransom.

All but $5,000 of the money was recovered over the weekend.

Big Break

The big break in the case came early Saturday when Tilford Baker, 34 ,a lanky Tacoma carpenter, turned himself in at the Pierce County sheriff's office.

"Baker said he did the planning — he masterminded the thing," said Janovich.

Rural Manawa Hunter Dies From Wounds

Arthur Steinbach Dies While Waiting For Doctor at Home

Eleven hunters including a rural Manawa man, have died on the opening days of the 1965 deer season.

Arthur Steinbach, 61, became Waupaca County's first hunting fatality when he was fatally wounded when his gun discharged while he was pulling it through a fence on his farm, 2½ miles west of Symco on State 161 about 9:30 a.m. Sunday.

Steinbach's death was due to loss of blood, according to Deputy Coroner Dr. Jerry Salan who pronounced him dead at his home. Steinbach was wounded in the right elbow.

Sheriff Loran Frazier said Steinbach had been hunting in a woods on his farm and was crawling through a fence when his gun discharged. The hunter crawled to his tractor and drove one-quarter mile to the barn where he got off the tractor and crawled to his house.

Called Wife

Steinbach managed to call to his wife then collapsed on the back porch and died, Frazier said.

The body was taken to the Bauer Funeral Home at Weyauwega and will be transferred to the Booth Funeral Home where arrangements are being made.

Three shooting deaths equaled the toll for the entire nine-day season last year. Eight other hunters died of heart attacks.

A 16-year-old boy was killed near Friendship when his father's rifle discharged accidentally and a high school teacher was shot and killed by a fellow hunter even though he was clad in red from his head to his ankles.

18 Others

McDonnell Talks Enter Fourth Day

WASHINGTON (AP) — Negotiators move into their fourth round of talks today in an effort to break a McDonnell Aircraft strike that could delay the Dec. 4 launching of Gemini 7.

A conference presided over by the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service broke up after midnight. There was no report on whether any progress had been made.

The 17,000-member International Association of Machinists, AFL-CIO, walked off the job at McDonnell's St. Louis plant Thursday in a contract dispute.

About 200 McDonnell machinists at Cape Kennedy, Fla., went out the next day, although they had voted to accept the company's contract proposals.

Prepare Launch

The Cape Kennedy crew was preparing for next month's launching of astronauts Frank Borman and James A. Lovell on a 14-day space journey.

McDonnell sent 38 management and technical experts to the Cape to try to keep preparations on schedule.

Thus far, they are succeeding, but the National Aeronautics and Space Administration was making no promise on how long a postponement could be avoided.

The union says its men are underpaid and endure unfair working conditions. McDonnell President David Lewis contends the proposed contract offer of a 9-cent-an-hour increase in each of the next three years is the best offered in the aircraft industry this year.

Phantom Jets

McDonnell, a major defense contractor, is doing key work in the Gemini and Phantom jet fighter plane programs.

The union says McDonnell gets the government jobs because it can underbid other firms whose wage rates are almost $1 higher.

The union says the average pay is $2.77 an hour; the company says $2.98.

No Injuries In Blasts in Carolina

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — The homes of four Negro civil rights leaders, including the state president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, were rocked by explosions early today, but no one was injured.

Chief of Police John S. Hord said the homes of Kelly Alexander, state president of the NAACP, and of his brother, Fred Alexander, were the most seriously damaged.

Blasts also occurred at the home of Dr. Reginald Hawkins, a dentist and militant civil rights leader, and the home of Julius Chambers, a young attorney who had handled many suits in behalf of Negro groups.

Hord, who arrived in the area 30 minutes after the blasts, said that in his opinion "it was a well-organized group.

"I'll guarantee you it was people who knew what they were doing. Whoever it was knew explosives and they knew the sections and how to get in and get out quickly."

In Raleigh, Gov. Dan Moore offered Charlotte officials the "full resources of our state investigative and law enforcement agencies."

Mayor Stan Brookshire of Charlotte said: "These bombings are most unfortunate and uncalled for. Our whole city is shocked. We have worked hard to promote peaceful and constructive race relations in which the leadership of our city has joined and which has been supported by the community at large. We will do everything possible to get to the bottom of this matter."

FBI Probe

The Federal Bureau of Investigation joined the investigation of the blasts, which occurred at the four homes on Charlotte's west side about 2:30 a.m.

"We are certainly glad that no one was hurt," Hord said. He said there had been no racial incidents in recent years in Charlotte.

Kelly Alexander said, "I could see this happening somewhere else, but not in Charlotte.

"I called my brother after it happened and he said, 'Yes, I'm ruined too.'

"Anytime four blasts happen

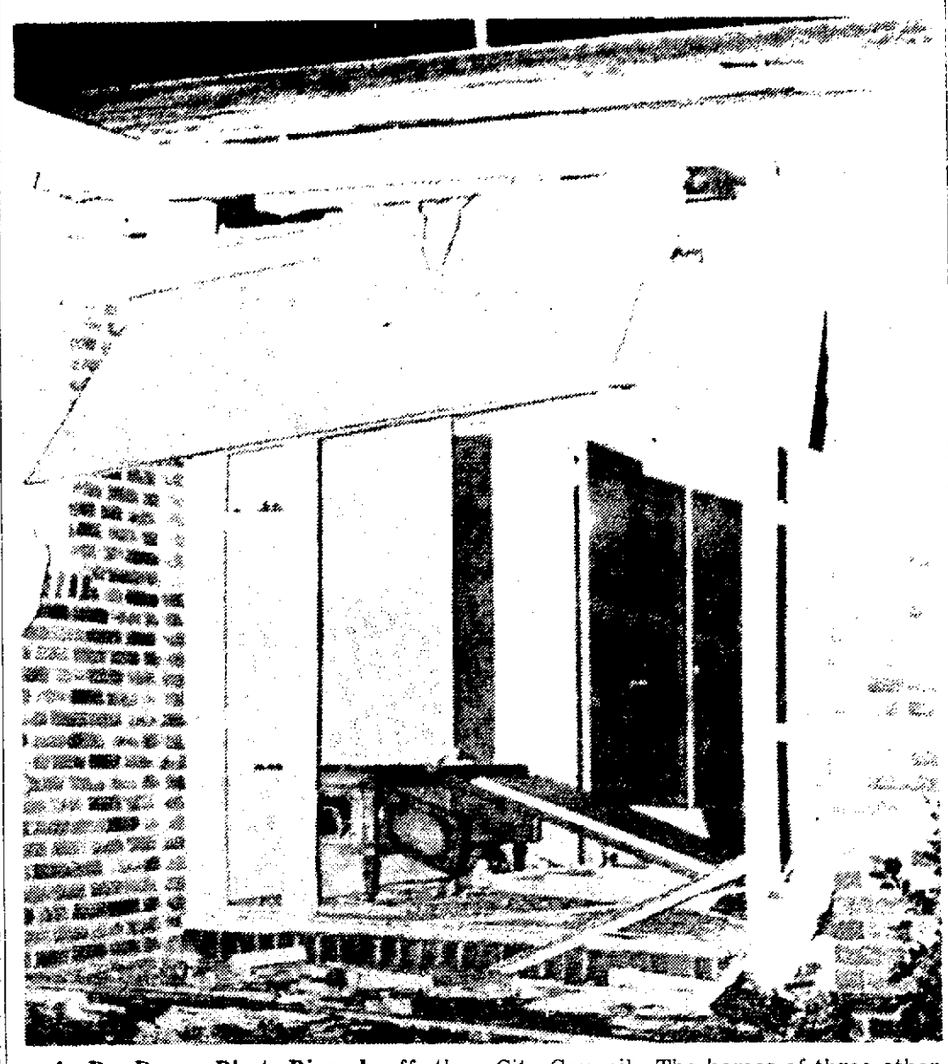
Rusk Sees Drop In Communism In Latin America

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today that communism has receded in Latin America over the past few years.

"I think there is no doubt that it has lost strength in Latin America," Rusk said in an ABC television interview.

Rusk, who last visited South American in 1962, said there are indications Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro now "realizes that his type of activity cannot succeed."



A Pre-Dawn Blast Ripped off the front door and severely damaged the home of Fred Alexander, a Negro leader and member of the Charlotte, N. C., City Council. The homes of three other Negro leaders, including Alexander's brother, Kelly, also were damaged by explosions early today. (AP Wirephoto)

300 Viet Cong Killed

South Vietnamese Force Beats Back Red Assaults

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Vietnamese forces beat back two heavy Communist assaults on the central coast today with help from bombarding U.S. Navy ships offshore and air strikes later. U.S. and South Vietnamese officers said at least 300 of about 1,500 attackers were killed.

The South Vietnamese—defending a fort in Thach Tru village, 20 miles south of Quang Ngai and 320 miles northeast of Saigon—were outnumbered 3 to 1.

Two U.S. Army advisers were killed in an assault on an outpost on a hill about a half-mile west of the fort.

"I got the s.o.b.'s that shot them," said Staff. Sgt. Henry McNeal of Pittsburgh, Pa. He and a fourth U.S. adviser were unhurt.

Poor Weather

In launching their attack, the Communists took advantage of poor weather conditions that grounded U.S. and South Vietnamese support planes.

The attack broke before dawn and the U.S. advisers called for the bombardment from two 7th Fleet destroyers lying offshore. McNeal said the Navy shells kept the attackers down until the weather cleared later in the day. Then U.S. and South Vietnamese planes and U.S. Marine helicopters attacked with napalm bombs and rockets.

Viet Cong bodies were strewn inside the fort, in the rice paddies in front of it and on the outpost hill.

Attack planes silenced six 81mm Viet Cong mortars that were firing on the hill.

U.S. and South Vietnamese officers on the scene said at least 200 Viet Cong were killed. Associated Press correspondent George Esper said he counted more than 100 bodies.

Officials said government casualties were light, but Esper said their casualties appeared to be moderate. Many of the rangers were killed inside the fort in close-in fighting.

The Viet Cong assaulted the fort six times during an eight-hour period. They were beaten off by small arms, automatic weapons and hand grenades.

Many of the Viet Cong were wearing brown khaki shirts and short black pants. A commemoration button reading "Dien Bien Phu Battalion" was found on one of the bodies. This battalion fought in the decisive battle at Dien Bien Phu in 1954 where the Viet Minh defeated the French.

Rightist Band Captured After Rebellion Try In Dominican Republic

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — A small armed band proclaimed itself in rebellion in a central Dominican town today but was reported captured. It was said to have been led by a rightist.

The group of about 15 men, including some peasants, occupied the radio station at the town of Tamboril, a small community south of Santiago and about 70 miles north of here.

They played a tape recording announcing the creation of a "revolutionary democratic government." Reports said the group was arrested without trouble and taken to Santiago.

Deaths Increase State Highway Toll For '65 to 903

An accident Friday claimed its second highway victim early this morning and a retired Neenah policeman was killed in a two car collision at a Neenah intersection Sunday, helping to raise the state highway death toll past the 900 mark.

The toll for the year has reached 903 compared with 968 on this same date last year.

Bradwright Lee Hale, 29, 1922 S. Commercial St., died at 12:10 a.m. today at Mercy Hospital of injuries received in an auto accident Friday morning which killed Norbert Leonard Stoinski, 35, 415 Amherst Ave., Oshkosh. The one car accident occurred on Winnebago County Trunk A near GG.

2-Car Crash

George Goldner, 60, 922 Gardner St., Neenah, who retired from the Neenah Police Department six years ago, died in a two-car crash early Sunday at Main Street and Grean Bay Road.

Two women, including Goldner's wife, Beulah, and another passenger, Mrs. Alvin E. Thoma, 637 Cleveland St., are listed in critical condition at Theda Clark Hospital with internal injuries.

Authorities said a car being driven by Mrs. Robert Endter, 19, 403 S. Williams St., Kimberly, was involved in the collision with the car being driven by Thoma, 58. Both cars were going north on Green Bay Road.

Two passengers in the Endter car, Mrs. Tom Eisch, Wisconsin Rapids, and Mrs. Gary Eisch, Combined Locks, are in satisfactory condition with injuries they received in the accident. Mrs. Endter was treated for minor injuries and released from Theda Clark Hospital.

Thoma is listed in satisfactory condition at Theda Clark.

Authorities said the death was the second this year in Neenah and was the 17th in Winnebago County in 1965. An inquest into the death is being contemplated by Winnebago County Coroner Arthur Miller.

Hale was born Aug. 21, 1936 at Atlanta, Ga., and was employed in Chicago several years before taking employment with Standard Kollsman Co., Oshkosh, 2½ years ago.

Survivors include the widow, two sons, his parents.

Funeral services will be at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday in the Kessler Funeral Home, Neenah, and 10 a.m. in St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church with the Rev. Leo H. Ott officiating. Burial will be in St. Margaret Cemetery.

Two Years Ago Today

BY ARTHUR EVERETT

NEW YORK (AP) — The big presidential airliner was airborne between Fort Worth and Dallas. The time was shortly before 11 a.m. Aboard with President John F. Kennedy was his wife, Jacqueline, and the usual retinue that surrounds the nation's chief executive.

Mrs. Kennedy carried a bouquet of red roses, a momento of an overnight stop at Fort Worth.

Back in Hyannis Port, Mass., the Kennedy children awaited the return of their parents. John F. Kennedy Jr., was to celebrate his 3rd birthday on Monday. Daughter Caroline was to be 6 on the following Wednesday.

Texas was not Kennedy territory, not really. True, he had carried the Lone Star State in 1960 by 1,167,932 votes to 1,121,699 for Republican Richard M. Nixon. But now the Democratic party in Texas was split.

It was generally assumed that this trip was a fence-mending mission, a prelude, if not an opening to Kennedy's 1964 campaign for re-election.

Some of his advisers had cautioned against the visit. The political climate in Texas, they felt, was not auspicious.

However, as his big plane droned along on the short hop from Fort Worth, the President could savor a feeling of accomplishment. Bareheaded, without a coat, shaking hands that morning in the rain with a warm and friendly outdoor audience in Fort Worth, Kennedy had been moved to remark: "All this makes me very glad to be here."

Flown in advance from Washington was the President's familiar White House limousine, a dark-blue, bubble-topped convertible. The bubble top was removed for the Dallas motorcade, because the weather had turned bland.

President Kennedy as he stepped into the car with his wife, carried a soft felt hat. He also carried the speech he was to deliver to 2,500 luncheon guests at the Dallas Trade Mart.

The theme of the speech was a familiar one. As he had so often before, Kennedy envisioned a nation on the move, facing a time for courage and a time of challenge. His address was to end with a quotation from the Bible's Psalm 124: "Except the Lord keep the city, the watchman waketh but in vain."

Kennedy's motorcade moved along a roundabout 11-mile route, between thousands massed in the Dallas business district. The crowd cheered the President and there was no evidence of rancor.

"You can't say Dallas isn't friendly today," remarked Mrs. John B. Connally, riding in the presidential limousine with her husband, the governor of Texas.

Kennedy started to reply.

At that instant, 12:30 p.m., three sharp explosive cracks were heard. Some in the motorcade took them to be firecrackers.

But in the presidential car, Kennedy fell face down in the back seat with assassin Lee Harvey Oswald's bullets in his neck and the back of his head.

"Oh, no!" gasped Mrs. Kennedy, cradling her husband while his life's blood stained her pink skirt. The president's felt hat lay on the floor of the car. Between the seats were wedged three twisted and crushed roses from Mrs. Kennedy's bouquet.

The motorcade made a careening dash to Parkland Hospital, but at 1 p.m. that Friday afternoon President John Fitzgerald Kennedy, aged 46, was officially pronounced dead.

The date was Nov. 22, 1963. The 35th president of the United States had become the first White House martyr in 63 years.

Oswald Shot

Kennedy's assassin, Oswald, was himself shot to death Nov. 24, 1963, by Jack Ruby, now in the Dallas County Jail appealing a death sentence decreed in March 1964, by a jury.

Mrs. Kennedy lives quietly in New York. She occasionally is seen in public, most recently this week when she visited Princess Margaret of Great Britain, upon the latter's arrival in Manhattan.

John Kennedy Jr., will be 5 years old on Thanksgiving, and Caroline's 8th birthday falls on Nov. 27. Both are in school — John at kindergarten classes near his penthouse apartment on Fifth Avenue, Caroline at the Convent of the Sacred Heart not far away.

"We treat her like anyone else," said a spokesman at Caroline's school.

$145,385 Spent On Calumet Roads

County Highway Department Lists Costs, Future Projects

CHILTON -- A total of $14,385 has been spent so far this year for construction and maintenance of Calumet County trunk highways, according to the county highway department

Projects completed in 1965 were 2½ miles of blacktop paving and shoulder gravel on County Trunk T north from County Trunk X. This project cost $25,652 for the 22-foot roadway with 4-foot shoulders

Blacktop surfacing on one mile of County Trunk K cost $6,531. This road is 24 feet wide with four-foot shoulders.

Also on County Trunk T, 2½ miles of grade, dram and base has cost the county $66,022.

Surveys for future projects were completed this year, with $2,430 spent on County Trunk G in readiness for next summer's project which includes widening 2½ miles of the road Of this, about one-half mile is within the Chilton city limits and will be let on contract because it includes some curb and gutter and storm sewers Work on the remaining two miles will be done by county crews.

Surveys also were conducted on Calumet County's share of the State 55 expressway project, which cost $156, and on the county's portion of the proposed tri-county expressway, at a cost of $2,445.

General maintenance has cost the county $40,500 so far with a total of $14,088 spent on administration.

During the winter season, snow removal cost $1,293, $2,006 was spent on drift prevention and $6,107 on ice control.

Official of Phone Firm In 40th Year

Norman A. Golz, 1508 W. Grant St, plant manager for the Wisconsin Telephone Company's Northern Division, will mark his 40th service anniversary with the company today.

In recognition of his long service, Golz will receive a diamond emblem from J. E. Kremers, general plant manager.

Golz joined the company in Appleton in 1925. He later filled plant assignments in Eau Claire, Milwaukee and Madison. He was promoted to general plant personnel supervisor in Milwaukee in 1950. Two years later, he was promoted to Milwaukee division plant manager and, in 1954, he was named division traffic manager in Milwaukee. He returned to Appleton, in 1956 as division plant manager.

Golz is a member of the Elks, Kiwanis and the Chamber of Commerce. He is a director of the local Community Services organization and headed the group's fund drive in 1964. He also is president of the congregation at Zion Lutheran Church and a past president of the Wisconsin Chapter of Telephone Pioneers of America.

Democrats Elect

CHILTON — Alex Pudlo, New Holstein, has been elected Calumet County Democratic Party Chairman for the coming year. Other officers selected at a meeting last week included Mrs. Ray Krautkramer, Hilbert, vice president; Mrs. Jerome Fox, Chilton, treasurer; and Gerbase Hephner, Chilton, secretary.

Firms Receive Permits for Expansions

Two Appleton industries have obtained building permits adding up to $360,000 in expansion projects.

Director of Inspections Charles Magnette said today additions are underway at Zwicker Knitting Mills, 416 N. Richmond St., and the Appleton Coated Paper Co., 825 E. Wisconsin Ave.

The permits show the Zwicker project will cost an estimated $200,000 and Appleton Coated, $160,000.

Oscar Boldt Construction Co., Appleton, is the general contractor for both.

The addition on the northwest corner of the Zwicker plant will be of masonry and steel construction, consisting of an estimated 29,300 square feet of floor space.

At Appleton Coated an 18,900 square foot building is being erected for the firm's color and chemical division. It will also be of masonry and steel.

The permit for the new city garage was also issued this week, raising new construction starts to over the $1.1 million mark since Monday.

Politicians Named to Interim Study Group

GOP, Democratic Party Leaders to Assist in Rewrite of State's Corrupt Practices Law

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON -- Chief officers of the two major political party organizations Friday were drafted for service in a legislative commission's attempt to rewrite and improve the state's corrupt practices laws.

The Legislative Council chose four private citizen members of the legislative interim study group, including Chairman Louis J. Hanson of the Democratic state committee and Chairman Ody Fish of the Republican state committee.

Inclusion of these ranking state organization politicians in the study groups membership evidently was intended to underline the seriousness of purpose of the effort to rewrite the many state laws governing the conduct of parties, the operation of candidate and party campaigns, the use of money in voter persuasion, and many other subjects. The laws have been subject to increasing criticism, and have not been reviewed for decades

Citizen Members

Two other citizen members appointed are Mrs C. W Threinen of Middleton, best known for her work with the League of Women Voters, and Gordon Samuelson, a member of the staff of the state attorney general's office.

Among the legislators on the committee, Democrats will be in control by a six-five margin. Committee officers will be elected when the group meets for the first time, but the chairman presumably will be a Democrat The controlling Legislative Council is also working with a Democratic majority.

Democratic legislators chosen were Sen. Carl Thompson of Stoughton and Assemblymen Elfers of Kenosha, Kessler and Kordus of Milwaukee, Mathews of Waukesha and McDouglas of Oconto Falls. The Council also chose Republican Senators Knowles of New Richmond and Roseleip of Darlington.

Republican Assemblymen are Stalbaum of Racine County, Steiger of Oshkosh and Warinbee of LaCrosse Assemblyman Steiger was the chairman of another election law study during the last two years which concentrated on mechanical improvements in the election administration process.

Tax Levy for Waupaca County Apportioned to Municipalities

WAUPACA — Town clerks and city treasurers of Waupaca County will receive statements listing municipal shares of the county tax this week, according to County Clerk Robert Backer.

The statements will show each municipality its special charges aside from the levy apportionment.

The total county levy this year, approved last Monday by the board of supervisors, is $970,237. The amount which the tax districts of the county will pay is $1,032,943 The difference between the county tax levy and the amount collected from the various districts is the state tax for forestry purposes and payments on principal and interest on state school loans.

Forestry Rate

The two-mill forestry tax amounts to $33,748 for the county and the school loan interest and principal payments are $28,657.

Clintonville will head the list of cities with a tax statement that totals $175,375. The Town of Farmington leads the towns with $55,675.

The complete tax distribution, listed by municipalities, is as follows.

Cities and villages: Clintonville, $175,375; Manawa, $32,614; Marion, $30,395; New London, $117,258; Waupaca $1 3.27 ; Weyauwega, $44,559; Big Falls, $1,455; Embarrass, $5,964; Fremont, $18,663; Iola, $21,290; Ogdensburg, $2,355, and Scandinavia, $5,394.

Towns: Bear Creek, $30,693; Caledonia, $17,014; Dayton, $37,658; Dupont, $17,803; Farmington, $55,675; Fremont, $14,843; Harrison, $14,183; Helvetia, $11,977, Iola, $16,752; Larrabee, $30,857; Lebanon, $19,642, and Lind, $19,842

Little Wolf $23,135; Matteson, $15,905; Mukwa, $22,330; Royalton, $21,798; Scandinavia, $16,996, St. Lawrence. $11,274; Union. $22,784; Waupaca, $22,036, Weyauwega, $13,526, and Wyoming, $7,609.

Hunting Partner's Gun Discharges, Man Shot in Foot

Robert A. Janssen, 31, of Milwaukee, was shot in the right foot when his hunting partner's gun discharged while the two men were talking Sunday morning in the Town of Bloomfield in Waushara County.

Janssen was treated at Waupaca Riverside Hospital and then transferred to Appleton Memorial Hospital The accident was investigated by Conservation Warden Rex Oatman.

$2.09 Increase

Appleton Sets 1965 Tax Rate at $52.15

The Appleton City Council hammered out a $52 15 tax rate for 1965 Wednesday night — up $2 09 over this year.

Meeting until midnight, aldermen approved a total budget of $11.8 million, including all city, county and state financial requirements for the coming year.

In addition, the council authorized blanket pay increases for municipal employes and hiked the salaries of the mayor, assessor, clerk and treasurer, effective May 1, 1966.

Oppose Salary Hike

Although members of the Outagamie County Board recently voted themselves pay hikes, local aldermen were vocal in their opposition to increasing aldermanic salaries and killed the suggestion during a committee of the whole session.

The levy to be raised by property taxes to cover the '66 budget is $8,055,327, including $1,117,773 earmarked for county and state purposes.

While the biggest share of Appleton property owners will be paying the $52.15 rate, those residing in the second precinct of the Ninth Ward (Calumet County portion) will be paying $52.93 per $1,000 assessed valuation. This is due to the increase in the Calumet County levy.

Originally, budget requests topped the $12 million mark and called for a rate boost of approximately $6. However, the budget reviewers scaled down several requests and with the application of a surplus were able to stay within close range of the predicted $2 increase.

Further Relief Expected

Taxpayers can expect further relief sometime next month when the Wisconsin Department of Taxation announces Appleton's share of the sales tax credit refund. This year it amounted to $3.50 per $1,000 assessed valuation, making the net tax rate $46.56 in Appleton Calumet County residents got a $5 21 refund.

The makeup of the adopted $52 15 tax rate follows:

—City government operation, $9 31

—Appleton School district, $32.15.

—Vocational School, 82 cents

—Park board, $1 58

—Public library, $1.07

—County-state levy $7 22.

$3 Increase in Tax Rate Is Expected for Black Creek

$116,555 Budget Is Proposed; Hearing Scheduled for Nov. 29

BLACK CREEK - A budget of $116,555 for Black Creek in 1966, with a tax levy of $92,239, has been proposed by the finance committee of the village board The proposed budget will necessitate a $34 tax rate, an increase of $3 per $1,000 assessed value from this year.

Public hearing on the proposed budget has been set for 7 30 p m Nov 29 at the village hall Increased expenses for schools, streets and sewers account for the higher rate

The $92,239 levy will be spread over an assessed valuation of $2,712,916 The assessed valuation is up $155,818 from $2,557,098 for 1965 The amount to be raised for village purposes is $32,650

School Costs

Largest item in the budget is $47 653 for the village share of the cost of operating the Seymour Community School District, an increase of $2,246 from this year. State and county taxes amount to $11,463, up $350 from the current year. The vocational school tuition assessment is up $60 to $472.

Local government expenses are estimated at $56,966 for 1966 Items included in the account are $975 for health and sanitation, up $105 from 1965, $200 for poor relief, up about $160; $350 for education and library, same as this year, $3,000 for recreation, park and community hall, up about $400; $6,257 for protection of persons and property, up almost $900; $27,300 for highway expenses, down $25,000 from 1965 but up $18,000 from 1964; and $6,030 for general government, up about $500 Debt retirement will take $12,853 in 1966, up more than $5,000 over the current year

Revenues other than property taxes are estimated at $24,316 for 1966. They include $12,566 from state allotments, up approximately $3,800 from this year, $2,375 for licenses and permits, virtually the same figure as this year, $7,825 in gifts and grants, up $1,600 over this year, $700 for commercial revenue (rent of the community hall), and $850 in commercial receipts, down approximately $300.

Flu Outbreak Predicted for Appleton Area

Health Director Urges Residents to Take Precautions

An influenza outbreak appears likely this winter in the Appleton area, Health Commissioner Dr. James W. Laird warned today in urging residents to obtain flu shots.

While there has been an outbreak of severe colds and throat and respiratory infections in the community in recent months, there appears to be no cause for alarm

Appleton Memorial and St Elizabeth Hospitals were checked today and reported "a normal patient load" for this time of the year. Authorities reminded there are various types of flu.

Pneumonia Cases

However, weather and other conditions have resulted in an increase in the number of pneumonia cases in the Appleton area.

The monthly report of the Appleton Health Department noted that six deaths in October were attributed to pneumonia.

Dr. Laird said he based his flu warning on the two to three-year cycles of the disease, the last major outbreak being in 1962 and 1963.

"Flu vaccination is the most effective known protection," Dr. Laird said, "The vaccination is easily accomplished and takes little time."

Two Doses Needed

It is administered in two doses, about two months apart, but those vaccinated within the past two years will need only one shot, Dr. Laird said. He said shots could be obtained through the family doctor.

Dr. Laird emphasized that immunization is particularly recommended for older persons, expectant mothers, diabetics, patients in nursing homes, and people suffering from chronic heart, circulatory or respiratory ailments.

With colds becoming more frequent in the community and sometimes leading to the flu, Dr. Laird offered this advice: "Wash hands frequently, avoid crowds, and be particularly careful if your job requires that you come in contact with large numbers of people. Try to keep a safe distance from those who are coughing or sneezing."

All city employes, for the first time this year, were given flu shots at city expense on the recommendation of Dr. Laird and the board of health

Food Chain Buys Site Near Valley Fair

What was formerly the site of the old Normandie Supper Club on S. Memorial Drive has been sold to the Godfrey Co. food chain, it was learned Saturday.

The land, located southwest of Babe Van Camp's, was sold to the Waukesha-based firm by the Skall family of Appleton.

Godfrey Co., owner of the Sentry Food Store chain, plans to construct a supermarket on the two lots and expects to make a formal announcement soon.

Site of the proposed new supermarket is across from the Valley Fair Shopping Center.

Earlier in the year the Godfrey Co. purchased several parcels of property on E. Wisconsin Avenue for a new Sentry store but construction has not been started.

There is an unconfirmed report that Godfrey has plans for building three new Sentry stores in this region during the coming year

Company officials could not be reached for comment.

Transportation Costs Decline At Shiocton

Cost Per Mile And Per Student Both Show Decreases

SHIOCTON — Transportation costs per mile and per student were both down in the district this year, according to figures released by Supt. Marvin Obry.

A total of 727 students are being transported to and from school daily, Obry said. Cost for the operation of the 11 school buses will be $42,410 or $58.33 per pupil Obry said the cost in 1964-65 was $60 67 per pupil or $2 34 more than the current operation

The mileage to be registered by the bus fleet in the 1965-66 school year is estimated at 102,420 miles for a cost of 41.4 cents per mile Last year it cost 43.8 cents per mile.

Forty-nine of the 727 students transported live within the two-mile limit, Obry said. State aids are not given for students transported by buses within a two-mile radius of the school. The remainder of the students have their transportation partially paid for by the state. Of these 328 live between two and five miles from school and 350 over five miles from school

Noon Trip

A noon hour transportation program ran with two school buses takes home and picks up 58 students for kindergarten classes.

Each of the noon buses travels about 49 miles. Total cost of the noon hour program is estimated at $2,784 or 9 cents a mile plus drivers salaries.

The school system operates 11 school buses, nine are privately owned and two publicly. The school board recently ordered a nine-passenger sport van to be used primarily for noon hour transportation of small children. This unit will relieve a large bus from transporting only a few children.

Ice Will Seal Stream

Wolf River Nearing End Of Unusual Fluctuating Year

NEW LONDON — When the Wolf River is sealed over with ice later this year it will mark the end of an unusual season for the busy stream

The water level has risen and fallen at will this season The river was not expected to reach flood stages in the spring, but during the early thaw, the river level shot up to a 9.6 foot reading

High water has been common all year Water levels remained much higher than a year ago In 1964 the water level dropped to a near zero reading on the level gauge The low this year was about 1 5 feet

Late Spring Plunge

After taking a plunge in late spring, the gauge recovered in September for a seven foot reading The level had fallen back to 2 5 feet before it moved up to five feet again

Five feet on the level is considered as flood warning stage by the U S Army Corps of Engineers

The high water has not brought any protests Fishermen, boaters and hunters have enjoyed one of the best seasons on the river

Flowers of Visitors Memorial in Dallas

People From Many Nations Come To Pay Tribute to Fallen Leader

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The spot where President John F Kennedy was assassinated two years ago today is marked, so far, only by flowers and objects left by hundreds of visitors.

Next year, however, the City of Dallas plans to complete two memorials. One will be a 30-foot marker costing $20,000 The other will be a new plaza a block north of the assassination site.

The visitors come from all over America and from many foreign countries.

As the flowers they leave wither, the city has them taken away to be preserved in a cedar-paneled storeroom

The flower wreaths number in the hundreds now. The stored collection includes many flags, plastic crosses and Bibles.

'Image Will Not Die'

A large wooden chest contains the notepaper, postcards, and paper sacks on which visitors wrote about the feelings they experienced at the assassination site.

On the back of a Japanese fan, a Tokyo visitor wrote: "I loved you. I admire you forever. I will not be able to forget you Your image will not die."

Two Michigan families signed a note that read. "We came a long way from Michigan to pay tribute to our late president Kennedy. May he rest in peace."

On a brown paper sack: "The flowers here will be no more soon, like our late president. But his memory will never be forgotten as long as good, kind men live on this earth."

Within six months, Dallas city park director, L B Houston, hopes to unveil the marker memorial, consisting of three bronze panels set in native red granite, and containing a description of the tragedy using words and maps from the Warren Commission report.

Near Site

The marker will be paid for from park department funds It will be about 200 feet from the spot where the president was shot. Visitors will be able to glance up at the orange-brick Texas School Book Depository building from which Lee Harvey Oswald fired his rifle

The plaza north of the assassination site will be known as Kennedy Memorial Plaza It will contain a modest and dignified memorial in keeping with Mrs. Kennedy's wishes

County buildings now on the site will be razed Officials say the plaza should be completed by late 1966

On the 48th anniversary of Kennedy's birth May 29, 1965, a John F Kennedy Living Center for Retarded Children was dedicated in Dallas.

A striking bronze image of an eagle in flight stands in front of the Dallas Trade Mart, where Kennedy was headed when he was shot. The inscription on the memorial is taken from William Blake·

'Lift Up Thy Head'

"When thou seest an eagle thou seest a portion of genius. Lift up thy head."

There is talk of a memorial of some sort in the room at Parkland Hospital where Kennedy was pronounced dead.

They still call it simply "Trauma Room No. 1."

In hospital jargon a trauma room is for emergency treatment of a bodily trauma, or wound.

Parkland is being remodeled. The people who work there think Trauma Room No 1 should at least be preserved exactly as it is.

"Employes of the hospital have asked that they be allowed to memorialize the room, possibly with a plaque," said Parkland administrator C. J. Price "It seems to me we should do more than that.

"I have no specific plan, but the medical staff has appointed a committee to work with me on this."

Price said the room has been closed twice — once, briefly, after Kennedy died there and again on Nov. 22, 1964, the first anniversary o fthe assassination.

Oswald, the president's killer, himself died in a trauma room a few feet away in the same emergency ward after he had been shot down by Jack Ruby.

Migrants Make Restitution for Clintonville Theft

CLINTONVILLE — A family of 14 migrant workers continued on its way to Florida Sunday night after "making restitution" for $57 taken from a service station here.

Police Chief James Beggs said he was called about 4.30 p.m. when the family, traveling in a broken-down car being towed by a truck, asked directions on how to get on the best route south. After they departed, an employe at Rhode's Mobile called police and said money had been taken from the safe, Beggs said.

New London police stopped the vehicles and held the family for Beggs and Waupaca County Sheriff Loran Frazier. The investigation was completed at New London, Beggs said, and the family was permitted to continue its trip after turning over $57 to authorities.

No charges were pressed, Beggs said, because it was not known which member of the family took the money.

HFC Donation List Includes Gift to Lawrence University

Presidents of 687 privately supported, liberal arts colleges and universities throughout the United States have received checks totaling $113,100 as gifts from Household Finance Corp., the Appleton HFC office has announced.

Valley institutions receiving the gifts include Lawrence University of Appleton, Holy Family College of Manitowoc, Lakeland College of Sheboygan, Marian College of Fond du Lac and St. Norbert College of De Pere.

The gifts ranged from $100 to $1,000 and were based on the full-time enrollments of the colleges.

Fire Fatal to Seven Children; Police Investigate Gunshot

SUNBURY, Pa. (AP)—State police were investigating today the shotgun wounding of a farm couple and the cause of a fire that killed seven of their 13 children.

The parents and six older children escaped the flames that destroyed their log house in a remote farm area Saturday night.

State Trooper John Sherosick, a fire marshal heading the investigation, would say only that it was a "mysterious fire."

The father, Paul Bordner, 38, said he did not know the source of the shotgun blast, only "that it was a shotgun." He said he kept several guns in the house.

Saw Blast

"The woman (his wife) said she saw the blast, but we don't know who fired it," said Bordner. He was treated for pellet wounds in the arms at a hospital and was discharged.

Bordner and his oldest son, Harold, 17, tried in vain to save the victims, who ranged in age from one to 10.

Bordner said the blast aroused him and his wife from their sleep and enabled them to flee to safety along with their six oldest children.

Critical Condition

Mrs. Bordner underwent surgery at Sunbury Community Hospital. She was listed in critical condition. Harold also was reported in critical condition with burns suffered while attempting a futile rescue.

Calumet Registers 94 Deer Killed Over Weekend

A total of 94 deer killed in Calumet County were registered at the three county check stations as of early today.

The Chilton checking station reported 20 bucks registered Saturday, 16 Sunday and two today for a total of 38.

A total of 26 bucks were registered at the Kiel checking station, with 20 on Saturday and six Sunday.

The Hilbert checking station reported 20 bucks registered Saturday, nine Sunday and one today for a total of 30.

Ike Moving to Walter Reed

Doctors Pleased With Progress After Second Heart Attack

FT. GORDON, Ga., (AP) — Former President Dwight D Eisenhower was to head for Washington late today aboard a special train.

The 75-year-old general is recovering from his second heart attack, and doctors report they are pleased with his progress He has been hospitalized at the Army- hospital here since Nov. 9.

An Army ambulance will take Eisenhower to the railroad siding where he will be placed in his special compartment aboard the Army-ordered eight-car train. Another Army ambulance will meet the train about 14 hours later somewhere in the Washington area to move him to the Walter Reed Army Hospital.

Eisenhower's 8 - by 11 -foot compartment in the train's third car has been equipped with a hospital bed and assorted emergency and heart monitoring equipment.

The rest of the car will be occupied by doctors and nurses.

Mrs. Eisenhower and members of the general's staff will travel in the fourth car — a private car belonging to an official of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad.

Head of Medical Department at Marquette Quits

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Dr. Edwin H. Ellison resigned Saturday from Marquette University's medical school faculty amid published reports that he had been told he would be removed as the chairman of its department of surgery if he did not quit.

Dr. Ellison, 47, is chairman of the American Medical Association's section on surgery and is a nationally prominent medical educator.

Both he and Dean Gerald A. Kerrigan of the medical school refused to comment on reports that the dean had given Dr. Ellison an ultimatum to resign because of a dispute over what the school considered unorthodox actions by the surgeon in recruitment of personnel and research funds.

Parents of Dead Marine Formerly From Appleton

A Wauwatosa Marine, son of former Appleton residents, was killed by a Viet Cong sniper four days before he was scheduled to leave Viet Nam, according to information received by relatives here. Cpl Richard W Schwendler, 21, died Nov. 16 in Da Nag. He had been in the marines for a year and a half.

Survivors include his father, Ralph Schwendler of Milwaukee, his mother, the former Rosemary Holst of Appleton who now is Mrs. George Manoil of Florida, and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. George Schwendler of Appleton.

The Krause Funeral Home, 9020 W. Capitol Drive, will be in charge of services when the body reaches Milwaukee.

3 Injured In Crash At Calumet

Drivers and a passenger in cars which collided at 1.26 a.m. Sunday at the intersection of State 114 and Calumet County Trunk N about 5 miles west of Sherwood are being treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Appleton.

James Campbell, 18, route 1, Hilbert, driver of one of the cars, suffered a broken jaw and a concussion.

Dorris E. Farr, 18, 395 Naymut St., Menasha, driver of the other auto, and a passenger in her car, Sandra Lee Gibson, 1194 Prescher St., Menasha, each suffered concussions and cuts.

Police said the Campbell car was traveling east and the Farr auto west when the accident occurred. Police were unable to obtain a statement from either driver on the nature of the mishap.

Jewels Taken From British Shop

LONDON (AP) — Jewelry worth more than a quarter-million pounds ($700,000) was taken from the strongroom of a fashionable West End shop today by a gang that worked its way in with acetylene torches.

A spokesman for Carrington's and Co., on Regent Street, made the estimate and added: "It is probably far in excess of a quarter of a million."

Insurance valuers, whose standard reward for stolen goods is 10 per cent, posted a reward of 30,000 pounds ($84,000).

Arson Case Continued Until Friday

Cornelius Bid For Different Attorney Denied

A request for a different attorney was temporarily denied Richard Allan Cornelius, 19, Milwaukee, when he appeared in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 this morning for what was to have been the reading of information on three counts of arson and one of criminal trespass.

Cornelius, a former West DePere resident charged in connection with fires that destroyed the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church and two barns in the Town of Oneida early the morning of Oct. 31, requested this morning that County Judge Gustave J Keller grant permission for Atty Allan Cain to represent him.

Cornelius now is being represented by Atty. Hugh F Nelson whom the court appointed after the Milwaukee man was found to be indigent.

Judge Keller told Cornelius that he would not enter an order for a different attorney unless he (Cornelius) had sufficient funds to retain his own counsel

Cornelius said he "can get sufficient funds if I can get in contact with the right people"

Man Guilty of Tipsy Driving

Jury Deliberates 4 Hours on Case of Weyauwega Driver

WAUPACA — Roger Prahl, 25, route 1, Weyauwega, was found guilty Friday of driving while under the influence of intoxicants by a six-man Municipal Court jury.

The jury deliberated three hours and 52 minutes after hearing six hours of testimony.

Prahl was ordered to pay a fine of $150 plus $184 costs for a total of $334. Municipal Justice George Whalen stayed the sentence five days pending an appeal to a higher court.

Prahl was arrested Aug 28 by Weyauwega police after an accident on Pine Street. He was taken to the sheriff's office in Waupaca where he was given a breatholizer test which resulted in a reading of .20. A reading of 15 is considered evidence of intoxication.

A plea of innocent to the charge was entered when Prahl appeared in court Sept. 13.

Capacity Audience Approves Comedy

'Barefoot in Park' Scores as First Variety Theatre Offering

Post-Crescent Sunday Editor

The traffic was heavy on the streets around Appleton High School auditorium Sunday evening as Variety Theatre, in association with the Appleton Gallery of Arts, presented its first attraction of the 1965-66 season, Neil Simon's effervescent Broadway comedy, "Barefoot in the Park."

The traffic was also heavy on the stage of Appleton High School auditorium as director Harvey Mendlinsky, following in the path blazed by the amazingly resourceful Mike Nichols, sent his energetic cast leaping, dashing and grimacing through the verbal hoops set up by the ever-inventive Mr. Simon.

It was, in sum, a busy, hectic, laugh-filled evening, as a near-capacity audience roared its approval of this deceptively simple charade, the gag-studded story of the first few weeks in the marriage of a girl who "jumps into life," and an attractive but practical lawyer who "looks first" before boarding the Staten Island ferry at midnight, or taking his shoes off for a stroll through Central Park.

Thread of Character

"Barefoot in the Park" is one of those rare scripts that hangs its farcical lines and situations on a slender but sturdy thread of character, and a a result, it strikes the average theatergoer as not only amusing but reasonably true to life. The figures hurling themselves about the stage are, despite all their frenetic activity, recognizable as human beings, and the humor has been drawn from the shared experiences of our common existence.

As the well-matched, though temperamentally contrasting couple, Joel Crothers and Joan McCall must have set some kind of mileage record as they bounded back and forth across Oliver Smith's wonderfully dilapidated apartment set.

Crothers, a veteran television actor who also, the program tells us, happens to be a Summa Cum Laude graduate of Harvard, proved a skillful and attractive farceur whose rapport with the other cast members was one of the keys to the play's success.

Miss McCall, a graduate of Kentucky' Berea College, was equally energetic though considerably less persuasive as the impulsive wife. Her voice has been strained almost to the breaking point perhaps by the rigors of the present tour--and she frequently appeared to rely on sheer technique, rather than sensitivity, in building her characterization of the willful Corie.

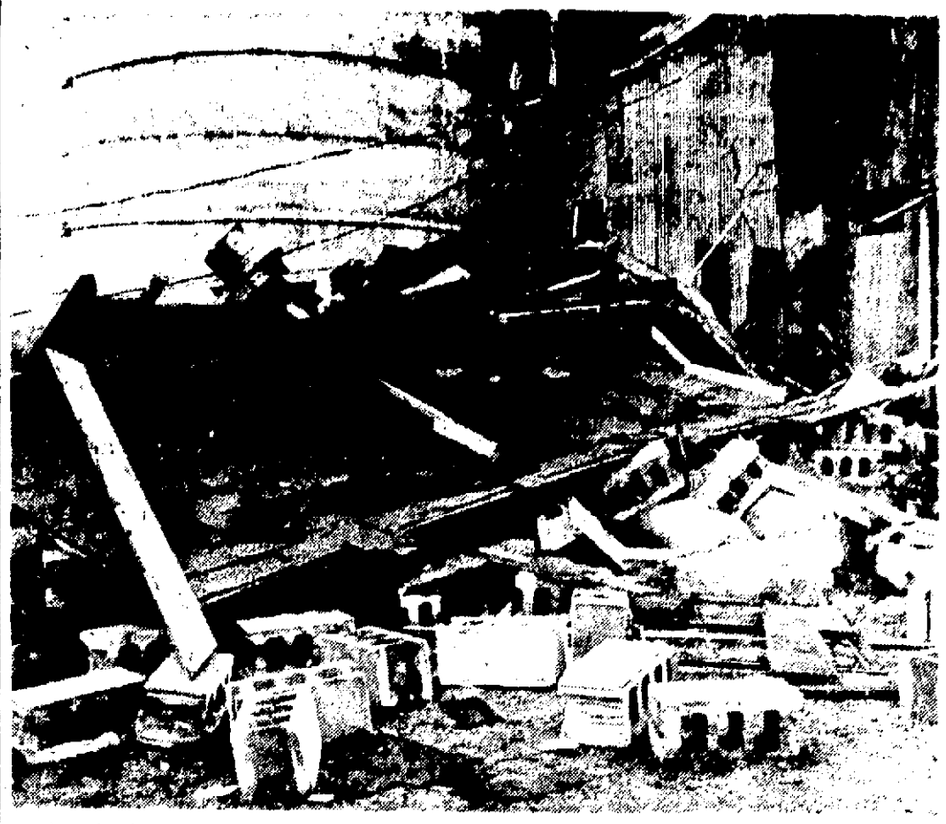
Vibrant Woman

Cast as Corie's widowed (we assume) mother is veteran film actress Lynn Bari, seen on local television the morning of the performance as a silent screen vamp in "Abbott and Costello Meet the Keystone Cops." Miss Bari, still an attractive and vibrant woman, demonstrated that she has more then enough talent to bridge the gap between ingenue and mature roles. Her scenes with Crothers were particularly delightful.

Woody Romoff, a flamboyant veteran with a Shakespearian style, had great fun with the colorful part of Victor Velasco, an impoverished sportsman and gourmet who occupies the flat above the newlyweds in the landlord's "middle income prison camp."

In lesser roles Allan North was ingratiating as the Telephone Man, and Don Fenwick, the company's stage manager, scored briefly as the Delivery Man.

It's a bit late in the day to predict success for "Barefoot in the Park"—it's already had it, in spades. But one can look ahead with considerable optimism to the balance of the Variety Theatre season, which provides for evenings with Phyllis Diller, Pearl Bailey and Pete Fountain early in the New Year.



A Liquid Petroleum Gas explosion about 9:45 p.m. Sunday at the Gerald Hoier farm in Hortonville blew out the walls of the combination milk house, pump house, granary, leaving this pile of rubble. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Blast Levels Building at Hortonville

HORTONVLLE — A liquid petroleum gas explosion destroyed the cement block combination milk house, pump house and granary at the Gerald Hoier farm on U.S. 45 inside the village limits about 9:45 p.m. Sunday. There was no fire, although Hortonville volunteer firemen were called as a precautionary measure.

A gas heater was located in the 20 by 20-foot building, situated close to the barn. Officials theorized that gas accumulated from a leak and exploded when the water pump kicked in, blowing out the walls of the structure. Fire Chief Lawrence Moder had no estimate of the loss.

A City Looks to the Future . . . II

Appleton Studies All Paths To Finance Needed Projects

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

If every man, woman and child in Appleton would turn over $640 to the city tomorrow, it would be a miraculous solution for carrying out a six-year multi-million dollar capital improvement program.

But this will never come to pass, so the municipal government will have to explore all practical avenues to finance on a long and short-term basis the projects which will eventually have to materialize.

Harland Bartholomew and Associates of St. Louis, the city's planning consultants, have made it very clear how monies can be raised to underwrite an estimated $32 million worth of improvements between now and 1971 without throwing Appleton's financial structure out of whack.

Basically, projects can be financed from general taxes, special assessments, revenue bonds and general obligation bonds. Recommendations have been made to guide the city in an orderly fashion so that it can derive the most from its investment dollar.

Fall in Place

However, before any capital improvement program can be tackled it is up to the local governing body (common council) and the general public to say whether or not a comprehensive plan and capital program should be adopted as "the bible for the future", subject to review and updating on a periodic basis.

Once the community gives the go-sign, then much of the advance planning can start and things will automatically fall in place, providing there is leadership from city hall and a cross-section of the citizenry.

While Appleton has a $32 million price tag on its capital improvement program, it should be remembered all will not be tagged to the community's bonded indebtedness. In fact, the plan calls for floating $17 million in general obligation bonds over the next six years while obtaining additional revenues elsewhere.

Revenue bonds are becoming increasingly popular and can be issued for the proposed Lake Winnebago pipeline and future parking ramp construction.

Credit Not Pledged

Since water and parking provide revenues (rates are set and users pay accordingly) are sufficient to amortize the bond issue, the city's credit is not pledged and the bonds are not subject to the legal debt limitations applying to general obligation bonds.

And it should also be remembered that street and other types of construction call for special assessments, with the city recouping a good percentage of its investment.

However, consultants have come up with a financing angle seldom used in Wisconsin although statutes permit it. Instead of floating general obligation bond issues for major street and other utility construction projects which produce special assessments, Appleton officials have been advised to issue Series B bonds.

These bonds are short-term and are not charged against the city's general debt.

"The method of issuing Series B bonds is better suited to the needs of a rapidly growing community faced with the necessity of financing many capital improvements. Such is the case in Appleton," consultants said.

Age Old Habit

At the same time city officials were urged to discontinue an age-old habit of bonding for normal recurring projects rather than including the appropriations in year-to-year budgets. Budgeting tends to raise the tax rate but at the same time takes the pressure off the bonded indebtedness.

Bonding should be done, financial experts emphasize, when the specific project requires it not merely for keeping the tax rate from going up a dollar or two.

For example, if the city sells bonds worth $1 million and agrees to repay the loan over a 20 year period, it pays $50,000 annually in principle. The interest payment alone on the life of the loan is $367,500 at a 3.5 per cent interest rate. This represents 36 per cent of the original loan.

With emphasis on budgeting, rather than bonding for recurring projects, the capital improvement program recommends increases in annual paving, sanitary sewer and storm sewer work appropriations.

The impact the six-year plan would have on the tax rate has also been projected, taking into consideration that Appleton's assessed valuation has been climbing close to $5 million a year and should continue to do so.

Projected Raises

In 1966 the capital improvement program would result in a $1.55 increase in the tax rate. In 1967 the increase would be $2.77 and in 1968, $3.22. Thw 1969 boost would amount to $3.77 and then in 1970 and 1971 leveling off to $3.60 and $3.50, respectively.

When it comes to bonding programs, Appleton should be at 80 per cent of its legal bonding limit by 1971, according to projections. Consultants say this will not affect the city's financial rating but the thought of boosting indebtedness that high tends to make municipal officials uneasy.

It is interesting to note that after reviewing Appleton's financial past with a fine-tooth comb, consultants say the cost of general city government has actually decreased since 1960. However, skyrocketing school costs have raised tax rates appreciably, a general trend through the country.

On the revenue side of the ledger, Appleton has things going for it, according to a summary covering 1960 through 1964. During this period the city's revenue jumped $9.5 million, an increase of 140 per cent over 1960.

Different Amount

"The trend of increasing revenues is certainly compatible with that of other cities, but the amount is quite different," the report says.

"Very few cities have had population increases of the magnitude experienced in Appleton which is primarily responsible for the tremendous gain," consultants observed.

While tax rate increases and continued bonding are generally viewed with alarm, the men responsible for charting the best interests and future needs of Appleton contend the projects listed in the capital improvement program are necessary to the progress of the city.

Consultants are the first to admit they aren't about to tell the people what to do; they merely advise. This leaves the fate of the proposed capital improvement program in the hands of Appletonians who can either take it or leave it, bearing in mind the consequences usually associated with a negative approach to positive prospects.

Political Writer Dies at Madison

Llewellyn Roberts Born in New London, Educated in Oshkosh

MADISON (AP) — Llewellyn G. Roberts, 44, political writer for the Wisconsin State Journal for the past 10 years, died Sunday.

Roberts suffered a heart attack Thursday night while talking with friends and fellow newspapermen at a restaurant near the newspaper. He was taken to Methodist Hospital and never regained consciousness. He had suffered a previous heart attack in 1959.

Roberts was born in New London and attended schools in Oshkosh, including Oshkosh High School, where he was graduated Jan. 26, 1939. He was the second of three brothers to attend OHS, all of whom were very active in school activities.

Roberts' mother, the late Mrs. Ina C. Roberts, had been a teacher at Oshkosh High School.

After graduation Roberts applied for college but shortly entered the Navy, where he served during World War II. He entered the University of Wisconsin after discharge and was graduated in 1948.

At Oshkosh High School, Roberts was on the student council for three years, president of the National Honor Society, editor of the yearbook and orator of his graduating class.

Roberts, who covered the state Capitol, joined the State Journal in 1953 after working for the Freeport, Ill., Journal-Standard.

Roberts is survived by his widow and four children and a brother, Theodore, of Appleton.

Private family memorial services will be held.

Sometimes it's the only way. People with electric blankets just don't want to get out of bed on cold, wintry mornings. But they can't wait to crawl into a toasty pre-warmed bed at night. Dialed to just the temperature they like. A feather-light electric blanket keeps them warm without being buried alive under ordinary blankets. (Too bad they can't stay awake to enjoy it.) Wisconsin's Health

Precaution Best Preventive For Carbon Monoxide Poison

BY E. H. JORRIS, M.D.
State Health Officer

Thanksgiving, our traditional American holiday, finds few of us who cannot offer sincere thanks. Among the almost limitless list of reasons for giving thanks is the awareness of some of the hazard that modern life has bestowed on us and the means of preventing or overcoming these hazards.

This season of the year should arouse an awareness of the danger of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Carbon monoxide is an insidious gas that cannot be detected by taste, sight, or smell. Among the symptoms of poisoning from this gas are headaches, dizziness, drowsiness, nausea, and weakness in the arms and legs. These, unfortunately, may be so slight as to be unrecognized.

Engine Exhausts

Because we have heard the warning many, many times, most of us are aware that carbon monoxide gas is always present in the exhaust from automobile engines. We've been told to open the garage door whenever the motor is running and to have the car exhaust system checked regularly. And it's a healthful as well as safe habit to become accustomed to keeping at least one car window partly open.

Carbon monoxide isn't limited to automobiles. Carbon monoxide gas is formed any time something containing carbon is burned. In the home all heating equipment should be checked by a competent repairman. There should be no ill-fitting pipes, clogged chimneys, or improperly operating dampers.

Vent Heaters

Gas water heaters should be vented to the outside. Hunters should be sure their cabin stoves and heaters are exhausting to the outside and for safety they should keep at least one window partly open at all times.

Food fanciers who can't wait for the return of warm weather for charcoal broiled steaks should be cautioned that using a charcoal grill in the garage, basement or closed-in patio can be dangerous. In an enclosed area the oxygen supply can be depleted rapidly and the burning charcoal can produce deadly carbon monoxide.

Let's be thankful that we are aware of the dangers of carbon monoxide and that we know that the best remedy is fresh air. Best of all, let's remember that a little precaution can make remedies unnecessary.

Marine Plane Carries Goodies To U. S. Warriors

Typical contents of each carton included: one can each of tuna, Vienna sausage, tomato juice, fruit juice, fruit, vegetables and shoestring potatoes; popcorn confection, chewing gum, candy, peanuts, soft-drink mix, sunflower seeds, bouillon cubes, honey, mustard, raisins, salt, pepper, playing cards, razor blades, envelopes, writing tablets.

"And flavored toothpicks just for novelty," added Dave Balsiger, Pepperdine College student and project sparkplug.

Sen. Proxmire Asks Purchase of Cheese For Lunch Programs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., urged Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman Saturday to buy processed cheese at market prices for donation under the school lunch program.

The senator said at the present time processed cheese is not available for donation from Commodity Credit Corporation stocks although it has been a staple of the school lunch program in past years.

"The most significant reason for exercising the powers given you by law to purchase processed cheese is the value of this product in preparing a nutritious and well-balanced school lunch," the senator wrote Freeman.

The New Policy on Price Controls

The Johnson Administration's move to freeze and possibly roll back copper prices, coming as it does soon after forcing the aluminum industry to abandon announced price increases, makes it abidingly clear that the federal government is enforcing an informal system of price controls, using the Vietnamese War as justification.

In the case of copper prices, which were raised within the month, Defense Secretary McNamara has announced a four-point attack which is considerably broader than the tool he used against aluminum manufacturers. He said the government would sell 200,000 tons of copper from the national stockpile, ask for duty cuts to encourage imports of the metal, raise stock market margin requirements to discourage copper stock speculation, and put new controls on copper exports.

Copper currently is in very short supply, so there is doubt whether releasing metal from the stockpile would have a dramatic effect on prices. As a matter of fact McNamara himself could authorize sale of only about 155 tons without Congressional authorization. And since Congressional action would also be needed to reduce import duties or control exports, McNamara's pronouncements on those points must be regarded purely as threats.

The Administration intent may be more to discourage further price increases than to roll back those already announced. But in either case the combined moves against aluminum and copper make it clear that price control on basic commodities is now an established if unannounced government policy.

One of the most influential national unions recently advised its locals across the country that they could forego cost-of-living clauses in their new contracts in return for better terms now. Information available to this union indicates that the government might take steps to control wages as well as prices.

Any surge of inflation at this time could be disastrous to many policies of the Johnson Administration. Billions of dollars are being spent domestically on Great Society programs at the same time that the Vietnamese War promises drastic increases in the need for military spending, at the same time that taxes have been reduced and more reductions have been promised, and at the same time that the government's interests are best served by an easy money policy.

In a free economy the combination of all these potent factors must lead to inflation and rising prices. Yet going to Congress and officially asking for wage-price controls would be most damaging politically.

Under these circumstances Secretary McNamara has apparently been given a new job in addition to the duties of running the Defense Department. He is now the unofficial government price controller.

Fire at Sea

The tragic fire at sea on the Yarmouth Castle should alert American tourists to the fact that the rigid American safety regulations concerning passenger ships do not necessarily apply to those registered in other countries. And at this point it appears that such a warning is all that will come out of that tragedy.

The United States Coast Guard is attempting to investigate the fire and the high loss of life but even here it is being challenged because the tragedy happened in Bahaman waters, out of the Coast Guard's jurisdiction. Even the international treaty of 1960, called the Safety of Life At Sea Convention, doesn't set particularly high standards especially for old ships reconditioned for the tourist trade. And whatever rules there may be, many of them apparently were ignored on the Yarmouth Castle.

Reports from survivors say that there was no fire drill as supposedly required, no information given on life preservers and not even a fire alarm when the blaze did break out. Not more than six of the ship's fourteen lifeboats ever got into the water and the failure of the boat davits to work seemed to be responsible. While there were commendations for the efforts of the crew to help passengers, there apparently was no preparation for emergency, no organization.

The United States Coast Guard has the responsibility of inspecting ships of other countries which pick up passengers in the United States. But it can only enforce the safety standards of the country whose flag the ship flies. And one reason for the decline of the American merchant marine and its passenger service is that our safety regulations mean higher costs and higher rates.

If all foreign tourist ships become suspect due to the Yarmouth Castle tragedy it is unfortunate since many are in fine condition and maintain sound safety regulations. But it may result in more uniform conditions and stricter rules on an international scale.

Congo Politics

President Kasavubu of the Congo was quite right about Moise Tshombe; he does pose a threat to the president's continued tenure in office.

Last month Kasavubu abruptly dismissed Tshombe from his post as premier and asked Evariste Kimba to form a new government. The reason, Kasavubu lamely explained, was that Tshombe had been brought to his position specifically to defeat the rebels and the job was done. But in truth Kasavubu reasonably feared Tshombe's candidacy for the presidency next year.

But Premier Kimba was not confirmed by the Congolese Parliament. Tshombe's Congolese National Convention Party managed to get enough converts for the tally to defeat Kimba's bid by 13 votes. Now Kasavubu must try to find another candidate and try to avoid a parliamentary vote before the legislative body recesses early in December. Meanwhile, of course, the machinery of government is running very slowly.

Politically Kasavubu's move appeared to have merit as long as he wanted to continue as president. But it has backfired, more support has been developed for Tshombe and it is certain to be felt in the provincial assemblies which vote for president next year.

Stopover in Florida On Way Home Almost Becomes Permanent

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. — Memo to the Editor:

It was my solemn intention to hurry home from my little trip to the convention in Puerto Rico, but I had a lucky accident. In Miami yesterday an old friend insisted that I spend a few days with him at his home on this serene and sunlit island off the southeast Florida coast. My justification for being lured here by Victor A. Johnson was to listen to his stories and his impressions on the current state of American politics. You will remember Vic Johnson, politician extraordinary who is perhaps as well known in Wisconsin as many past governors, raconteur, amateur historian and superb tourist guide.

Wyngaard

But while I came to listen, I stayed to look. I had not known there was such a beautiful retreat, even in this hugely diverse country. Vic and Margaret Johnston have made a home here in anticipation of eventual retirement. I mean only to compliment them on their taste and their choice when I confess that I am vulgarly envious. Just about everyone here, as far as I can conclude after a few days of avid inspection, is wealthy or retired, and probably both. Even in this off-season for the Florida tourist trade. Miami across the bay bustles fiercely. At night the millions of lights from the fantastic rows of hotels in the real estate broker's dream that is Miami Beach create a brilliant skyline.

But here where the conquistadores came more than four centuries ago I sit on a peaceful beach and try to explain why I tarry.

LEGEND

Like other former Spanish provinces in the hemisphere, the florida coast and islands throb with legends and romantic history, but none quite with the fascination of Key Biscayne and Cape Florida. To walk the beach of this little island created by the storms and the seas and sands of a million years is to recapture the thrills in the historical narratives read as a school boy long ago. As they say here, Columbus discovered the West Indies, not far away, but John Cabot discovered America, and here came the Italian mariners under the English flag of 1497. Here also came Ponce de Leon a little later. I am inclined to believe, after savoring this beauty and this climate, that the tale of his search for the fountain of youth must have been more than a pretty story.

Within sight of my window as I peck out these lines on a reluctant typewriter is one of the most important of the shipping lanes of the world, related as it is to the Gulf Stream, which has shaped the history of the hemisphere since the first white navigators came. Pirates flourished in these waters for generations. Fortunes were made over the centuries as adventurers and early settlers harvested the cargoes of wrecked ships—some of them lured to their doom for that purpose before the young United States government established the first lighthouses in the early 19th Century. Here were fought some of the bloodiest and longest U.S. Army campaigns against some of the fiercest Indian tribes on the continent.

WISCONSIN FOUNDER

Key Biscayne slumbered in peace and isolation for centuries, until a Wisconsin-born capitalist saw it around the turn of the century and succumbed. William J. Matheson, who spent his early years in Wisconsin, became a sugar planter in South America, enlarged his fortune in American business, and at the age of 46 devoted his career to philanthropy.

About 60 years ago on a yachting trip along the Florida coast he found here the tropical island of his boyhood dreams. Today his memory is revered, not only for his development of one of the loveliest communities in the country but for his foresight in deeding in Dade County a large share of his original holdings and frontage which now constitute one of the unique and literally priceless public parks in the United States.

Today we breakfasted at the famous island hotel and were greeted by the manager who matter-of-factly related the enormity of the hurricane disaster earlier in the fall. Suffice it to say that his single establishment has budgeted half a million dollars for repairs. Robert Neale will be remembered in many communities of Wisconsin where he formerly worked as an educational consultant. His late father, a longtime member of the faculty of Wisconsin State University at Stevens Point, was elected to the State Senate for the Portage-Waupaca County district about 15 years ago.

Yes, sir, I'm coming home. Manana.

Jehovah's Witness Explains Why He Is Conscientious Objector

Editor, Post-Crescent:

The purpose of this letter is to clear up any misunderstandings about myself. Also to explain why I am a conscientious objector and claim exemption as a minister.

To become one of Jehovah's Christian Witnesses is not to simply sign membership and be put on a church membership list, rather a person must take a vow. The individual is assisted in personal Bible study so that he acknowledges that God is the Supreme Being and that God's Son, Jesus Christ, is his Savior.

With this knowledge the person makes a vow or dedication to Jehovah God and to do His will. This vow or dedication is made directly to God in prayer. Later he is baptized completely in water to make public his dedication. This baptism is recognized as his official ordination as a minister of God.

As a minister of God he now realizes that 1 Corinthians 6:19, 20 applies to himself, "What! Do you not know that the body of you people is the temple of the holy spirit within you, which you have from God? Also, you do not belong to yourselves, for you were bought with a price. By all means, glorify God in the body of you people." Because of this absolute dedication to God the Christian Witness of Jehovah God objects to military service and takes advantage of provisions allowing for exemption. In the United States of America the Selective Service Act of 1948, which controls the decisions of draft boards and public officials, provides for the deferment of conscientious objectors and also for the exemption of those under vows to God. Section 6j provides for deferment of " any person. . .in relation to a Supreme Being involving duties superior to those arising from any human relation" prevent such person from turning aside from those superior duties which he owes to the Supreme Being.

It should be reassuring to all to know that Jehovah's Witnesses are strictly neutral in government affairs anywhere on earth today. Unlike other religious organizations who supported and blessed the guns on both sides in two world wars, the Christian Witness of Jehovah remains obedient to the command Jesus Christ gave to all Christians at Matthew 24:14, "And this good news of the kingdom will be preached in all the inhabited earth for a witness to all the nations; and then the end will come." This is the scriptural basis for the public ministry which Jehovah's Witnesses carry out and are so well known for.

Jehovah's Witnesses do not interfere with government activities nor do they share in anti-government demonstrations. The Christian minister obeys the principle stated at Mark 12:17 "Pay back Caesar's things to Caesar, but God's things to God." Jehovah's Witnesses therefore obey traffic laws, tax laws, etc. But where their life is involved this they owe to God because it has been vowed or given to God, to be a minister to His Kingdom.

Morals of Our Movies Doing America No Good

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Last Sunday, in my quest for entertainment, I attended a movie theater in the area. The double feature I viewed was billed as comedy. One picture depicted pre-marriage sex as good, wholesome and even desirable and necessary for the happiness of the couple. The other pictured divorce as a nonchalant way of life.

Our youth are impressionable! Is it any wonder our illegitimate birth rate and divorce statistics are fantastically high and soar higher each year. Why does the American stand still? The boys in Viet Nam are fighting for us and our children and our freedom. Don't we have the freedom to see a clean movie. Must American morality be presented to foreign countries in this way?

Dec. 7 Marks New Year for Motor

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Motor for Dec. 7, 1865.

A new Volume of The Motor is commenced with the present number. We shall make no rash promises in relation to what we propose to do. But will say that we shall make some improvements and their extent will be determined by the amount of support and substantial encouragement received.

We believe we have sufficient pride in our business to give as good a paper as our patronage and funds will warrant. We can do no more. We desire the assistance of all Republicans in extending our circulation to paying subscribers and in procuring advertising, job work, etc.

Our circulation in City and County falls but very little, if any, short of that of any other paper circulated here We are aware that those whose interest it is to do so are industrious in their endeavors to create the impression that our circulation is very small — comparatively nothing.

Even a professed Republican volunteered the information not many months since that not a half dozen Motors were taken in the Third Ward. The facts were that we had between 30 and 40 subscribers in that Ward, which, it is known, is a strongly Democratic Ward.

Our circulation is constantly increasing and we claim that our paper furnishes as valuable an advertising medium as any weekly paper circulated in this County. However, we are determined it shall be larger. All are invited to subscribe. Terms are $2 per year, payable in advance.

Pleads With Drivers To Stop for School Bus

Editor, Post-Crescent:

I am going to ask, plead and beg all drivers to be more cautious when you see a school bus. On Nov. 17, our daughter stopped at the end of the driveway and was ready to walk onto the pavement when this blue car zoomed right in front of her. She was not the only child that day. The bus driver informed me that it happened five times that day. Five times!!

Parents, can we afford to kill five innocent children every school day? Four of these incidents happened on Highway 10 and one on Highway 76. Commuters, please observe these school bus laws. If you have the privilege of having a driver's license, you also have the responsibility to use it wisely. The children are instructed to stay in their driveway until the bus has completely stopped. Then, they are to cross the road in front of the bus. If they do their part, will you please do your part by obeying the red flashing lights? A child's life may depend on it!

A Worried Mother

Strictly Personal

Why Does Car Change Driver's Personality?

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

The man and I stepped into the elevator together, and he was a model of courtesy: he let me go first, he punched a button for a woman passenger, he was all relaxed affability.

We walked out of the building door together, and into our respective cars, which were parked across the street. He took off first, and I followed him. It was like watching John Barrymore change from Dr. Jekyl to Mr. Hyde.

Harris

Within the first block, he passed a car on the right side, blasted his horn at a motorist who failed to start the moment the light turned green, and tail-gated another car as if he were chained to it. When he turned off, I breathed a sigh of relief: he was looking for trouble, and was bound to find it sooner or later.

It's a wonder that some enterprising team of social psychologists hasn't done a study in depth on the emotional implications of the automobile as a means of aggression. I'm utterly convinced that most of what we call "accidents" on the road aren't true accidents at all, but rather a form of warfare, using the car as a weapon.

What is it about the vehicle that turns an otherwise polite and considerate person into an hysterical anarchist behind the wheel?

This root question has never been answered, or even explored fully, to the best of my knowledge. Yet I think it touches the core of the problem of our mounting traffic fatalities—10 per cent higher last year than the year before—more than any discussions of superhighways or safety devices or driver's tests.

Somehow, most of our frustrations and tensions and hostilities (which we are afraid or unable to express in our personal transactions) become channeled into our driving attitudes. No pedestrian would dare to behave on a sidewalk as he behaves behind the wheel; and in no other social situation do presumably "normal" people act with such ruthless disregard for the elementary rules of safety and decency.

The car has become, somehow, both weapon and symbol. It is, perhaps, the one remaining way in which the powerless can assume power, in which others can be bullied and crushed with relative impunity, in which the henpecked husband or spurned lover or discontented adolescent or tyrannized employee can achieve "parity" with the rest of the world

There is no other rational explanation for the 40,000 auto fatalities a year, for the half-million injuries and $10 billion in property damage. It is a fantastic manifestation of mass hysteria, which the police are impotent to control, and which society itself scarcely frowns upon. Reckless homicide has become our legalized national sport.

Memory of Emotion

Kennedy Myth Image Of Hope for Mankind

BY JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) In two years President John F Kennedy has become a legend if not a myth

Day by day hundreds of people, sometimes thousands make a pilgrimage to the Arlington Cemetery grave of this witty, graceful, articulate, almost boyish president who was assassinated at 46 Nov 22 1963

To millions here and abroad he has become a shining figure perhaps because of his unspoiled enthusiasm a symbol of what they hope for in the future, either for themselves or mankind

He meant different things to different people and thus in different ways was the image of what they would like to be in telligent, rich, successful good-looking, or concerned about people

Work As President

But now, after two years, it might be asked as it is bound to be asked in the years ahead

Of all those who revere his memory, how many can say that they have any real recollection of what he did as president to earn this devotion? Perhaps not many, for their emotions are mixed up with memory

A few episodes of his presidency are easily remembered

The first was a disaster, which he honestly acknowledged, when he let Cuban exiles invade their homeland only to perish on the beaches at the Bay of Pigs because the American forces did not back them up

There was his great triumph when the faced down Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in the Cuban missile crisis The one was the great peak of his three White House years the other was his great valley

Days With Spirit

In between were all the other days of his presidency All of them had life and spirit but his accomplishments were hardly distinguished enough to rate him among the great presidents or even the near great

He was no match for President Johnson, for instance, in getting Congress to do his will although in fairness it must be remembered Johnson has had a far greater percentage of his own Democrats there to work with than Kennedy had

Congress ignored Kennedy on some of his biggest proposals a civil rights law, medical care for people 65 and older, federal aid to public elementary schools Johnson got them

In foreign affairs, it seems fair to say, the attitude abroad toward this country was better under Kennedy than under Johnson, although here again the magic of his personality was probably more the reason than anything he did

Johnson Raised Antagonis

By getting involved in the Dominican Republic revolt and deeply involved in the Vietnamese war Johnson has antagonized many here and abroad But in both cases, certainly in Viet Nam Kennedy would almost surely have done the same

Kennedy was building up U S military forces in Viet Nam, and this country was steadily getting more directly involved by the time Kennedy died, although Viet Nam was crumbling Finally, to stop it, Johnson did what he is doing now

Kennedy would hardly have stayed out of the Dominican Republic if he felt, as Johnson said he felt, the Communists might take over In his dealings with Fidel Castro, Kennedy showed how he felt about communism in this hemisphere

Books about Kennedy are being gobbled up and devotion to his memory is still fervid and enormous

But President Abraham Lincoln was the more tragic, harassed and complicated figure, a president whose problems were beyond anything Kennedy ever encountered

For this reason over the years it is unlikely there will ever be for Kennedy the same vast literature and continuing interest as there has been for Lincoln

Nevertheless the reverence for Kennedy should last a long time A good young man brutally killed in his golden time is an old and respected story that has captured the minds and hearts of people through the centuries

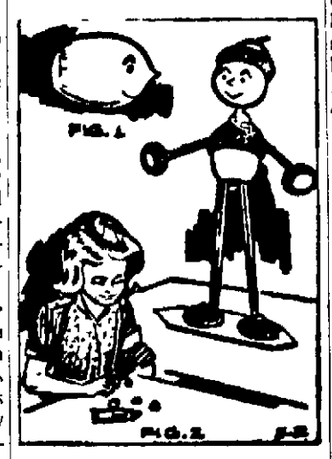
Try Making Acorn Brownies With Cardboard for a Base

BY CAPPY DICK

Try your hand at making acorn brownies (Figure 2) Hunt for acorns where several kinds of oak trees grow, each producing a different type of acorn



This is how to assemble.

Some acorns are long with small caps Others are short and fat with large caps to make a brownie you will need several kinds and several sizes of caps

You will also need a tube of fast-drying household glue, some heavy cardboard, pipe cleaners, toothpicks and spool wire A stout needle will be handy for punching holes at the right places

Choose a nicely-shaped acorn for the brownie's head With ink draw a face on it as in Figure 1 Find a large acorn cap that will serve as the brownie's coat a burr oak acorn will supply such a cap Make a hole through the center of the cap and another in the coat Make two holes through the brownie's head Run a wire up through the coat, then through one hole in the brownie's head, down through the other hole and finally back through the hole in the coat The ends of these wires may be passed through additional holes made in the coat so they extend downward at each side for arms

Glue a small acorn cap to the top of the brownie's head Glue a large acorn inside the coat for a body Make two small holes in the body and into them glue toothpicks or pipe cleaners for legs To the end of each leg glue an acorn cap for a foot The feet in turn should be glued to a cardboard so the brownie will stand erect

The arms may be wires projecting from holes in the coat, with an acorn cap glued at the end of each for a hand, or they may be toothpicks or pipe cleaners glued to the coat and re-enforced with wires extending from the coat like this, it's organized. I don't know who organized it, but it was an organized force whose efforts it was to kill us.

"No use fooling ourselves."

Kelly Alexander's two sons, Kelly Jr., 17, and Alfred, 13, were sleeping in a front bedroom of the brick, ranch-style home. The window over their heads was blown out with such force that splinters of glass were imbedded in the opposite wall. Drapes were shattered and glass sprinkled on the beds of the boys.

Couldn't See

"I thought it was thunder, maybe lightning," Kelly Jr. said. "I froze in my position. It smelled like sulphur or gunpowder. When I got up, I really couldn't see what was happening."

There was thundershower activity at the time.

Kelly Alexander said damages at his home would amount to "at least $2,000." Fred Alexander estimated "several thousand dollars damages" to his middle class home.

Fred Alexander, the first Negro elected to Charlotte's City Council in modern times, said, "We were just lucky. They meant to get whatever they could." The Alexanders said they had no idea who did it.

Kelly Alexander's sons attend predominantly Negro schools in Charlotte. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Alexander were the only occupants at their home. Their daughter is away at college.

Dr. and Mrs. Hawkins and their three children were sleeping in their house. Mrs. Hawkins said the blast occurred in their back yard and dug a hole a foot deep.

Window Broke

"The window broke directly over my head," she said. "It just so happens we have inside screens and the glass could not fall inside."

Dr. Hawkins has been active in voter registration drives in Charlotte and efforts to integrate public facilities.

Chambers, who graduated with honors from the University of North Carolina's Law School, recently was appointed a U.S. commissioner in Charlotte. Only last week, he filed suit in U.S. district Court in an unsuccessful attempt to block the annual Shrine Bowl football game. The all-star high school contest pits teams from North and South Carolina in a charity benefit at Charlotte each year.

Shrine Deadline

Judge Braxton Craven ruled the football game can be played as scheduled Dec. 4. He gave the sponsoring shriners until March 1966 to come with a desegregation plan for player selection.

The explosions were near the front doors of the ahomes of the two Alexanders. Chambers said the explosion at his brick home occurred under a window of the front bedroom.

Damage Estimates

Chambers said he and his wife occupied a rear bedroom. They were the only persons in their home. Chambers estimated damages at $800 to $1,000.

Hawkins estimated damages at about $500 to his home. He said, "From my service experience, I believe it was dynamite. It's no doubt in my mind they were experts. They were trying to get the bedroom."

Asked if he knew any reason behind the explosions, Chambers said: "I don't know anything about it. I wish that I did."

The lawyer said he did not think the recent Shrine bowl football game suit had anything to do with the explosion. "After the Shrine Bowl thing we received some telephone calls," he said, "but I really can't link this with it."

Car Bombed

In January, while Chambers was attending a civil rights meeting at New Bern in Eastern North Carolina, his car was bombed. The disabled car now sits outside his new home in Charlotte. Three white men pleaded guilty to state charges in the January bombing and were given suspended sentences.

Detective Capt. William McCall said he had called in ordnance experts to determine the types of explosives used in the blasts.

Goldner was born Aug. 20, 1905, at Hilbert and was a Neenah resident most of his life. He was employed by First National Bank of Neenah and previously was a member of the Neenah police department for 22 years.

He was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church and Elisha Kent Kane Lodge No. 61 F and AM.

The widow and his mother are the only immediate survivors.

Funeral services will be at 1 p.m. Wednesday in St. Paul's Lutheran Church with the Rev. Arthur R. Tingley officiating. Burial will be in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Westgor Funeral Home from 2 p.m. Tuesday until 10 a.m. Wednesday and then at the church from 11 a.m. until the time of the service. A memorial has been established in his memory.

Alvin Hensley, 19, Minooka, Ill., died Saturday as his car overturned in a creek north of Stevens Point as he was leaving a friend's wedding reception.

Mrs. Joseph Birbaum, 67, Delafield, was struck and killed by a Waukesha County sheriff's patrol car as she burned leaves at the curb in front of her home Saturday.

Stanley Wilson, 39, La Farge, died Friday night when his car overturned east of Viroqua.

Fighting in the valley Sunday was termed light to moderate, and the spokesman said the Americans suffered light casualties. Four North Vietnamese were reported killed.

This action took place near the site of a battle Saturday night in which a Vietnamese paratroop task force said it killed 180 North Vietnamese and suffered light casualties. There was no confirmation of the casualty claim.

Since Plei Me

The 180 Communists reported killed would raise to 1,952 the number of enemy dead during fighting in the central highlands near the Cambodian border since an attack on a Special Forces camp at Plei Me last month.

U.S. 1st Infantry troops killed 40 Viet Cong and suffered light casualties in beating off an attack along the edge of the Communist D Zone about 40 miles north of Saigon. U.S. planes destroyed a village from which the Viet Cong were operating, a spokesman said.

Small government units reported killing 15 guerrillas in scattered clashes in the Mekong Delta.

ons, many of them late-model types including recoilless rifles, light machine guns and Chinese-type assault rifles.

About 1,000 Viet Cong hit a Vietnamese regimental and artillery command post 40 miles northwest of Saigon. A few of the attackers penetrated the post's defense perimeter but were thrown back. The Vietnamese claimed they killed 100 of the attackers.

There was no report of government casualties in the action.

New Restriction

U.S. troops suffered light casualties and U.S. Army helicopters, refueling trucks and buildings were damaged by a 15-minute mortar barrage on the Soc Trang airfield 95 miles southwest of Saigon, a U.S. spokesman said.

The spokesman refused to disclose the extent of damage under a new restriction on press coverage of the war.

There were no reports of new fighting between troops of the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division and North Vietnamese soldiers in the Ia Drang Valley 220 miles north of Saigon.

ed Saturday, continues through Nov. 28. The over-all toll last year was 18 hunters.

An estimated 400,000 hunters trooped through Wisconsin woods on the first weekend.

Thomas Manfredina, 16, Coloma, was killed Sunday when a rifle discharged as his father, John, was unloading it. The bullet struck the youth in the chest.

The teen-ager was dead on arrival at a hospital after the accident 13 miles northeast of Friendship in Adams County.

Franklin G. Pfeiffer, 36, a Hartland school teacher, was shot and killed by a teen-aged hunter Saturday near Whitehall in Trempealeau County. A relative said Pfeiffer was wearing a red hat, red coat and red trousers. His own gun was unloaded.

Heart Attacks

Seven of the heart attack fatalities were reported on opening day and the toll continued to climb Sunday.

Clarence Woptowa, 53, Reedsville, was found dead of an apparent heart attack Sunday near Dunbar in Marinette County.

Donald Orgemann, 49, Frederick, collapsed Saturday in a swamp near the St. Croix River in Burnett County.

Lloyd Ranney, 77, Wheeler, was found dead in a swampy area north of Menomonie in Dunn County Saturday.

John L. Moore, 53, Wisconsin Rapids, collapsed Saturday west of Wisconsin Rapids in Wood County.

Paul G. Suelflow, 37, Milwaukee, died Saturday in western Oneida County.

Ralph Crabbe, 50, Delavan, collapsed northwest of Necedah in Juneau County Saturday.

Herman Meyer Sr., 70, Marshfield, was stricken Saturday in Jackson County.

John Durbin, 49, Livingston, was found dead at a hotel near Tomah in Monroe County after checking in with a hunting party early Saturday.

Crime Explosion Foreseen for U. S. by 1970s

WINNIPEG (AP)— The population explosion in the United States is creating a crims explosion that is "social dynamite," a Wisconsin official said Saturday.

By the 1970s more than 1.5 million persons will be either in adult jails or in juvenile custody because of simple but soaring numerical growth in population, said Sanger Powers, director of Wisconsin's Division of Corrections. The total now is about 900,000.

Powers said the only solution would be lowering of crime and delinquency rates. He warned, "The public is getting impatient with correctional programs that do not correct, reformatories that do not reform, with the continued use of shoddy and worn-out methods."

Girl Feared Kidnaped in Louisiana

BASTROP, La. (AP) — The FBI joined local authorities today in the search for Nancy Keller, 8, apparently kidnaped while playing near her home here about nightfall Sunday.

Morehouse Paris Chief Deputy Sheriff W. H. Freeland said witnesses reported that a man, about 20, forced the child into his car and drove off. She had been playing with another girl.

Nancy, a brown-eyed brunette, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Douglas Keller. Dr. Keller is a dentist.

Freeland said a three-state alert was out in Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas, and roadblocks were up in the north Louisiana area.

A search party, more than 100 strong, worked through the night.

The Air Force was called to organize an air-to-ground hunt, while the posse grew in numbers with state, parish and city police, National Guardsmen and citizen volunteers.

Rio Sergeant Victim Of Viet Nam Fighting

RIO, Wis. (AP)— Sgt. Joseph Schliesman, 24, was killed in action in Viet Nam on Nov. 16, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Schliesman, were notified during the weekend.

Schliesman, a member of the First Air Cavalry Division, died two weeks before his scheduled discharge.

He was a graduate of Columbus High School.

statement last April setting these conditions for peace talks:

1. Withdrawal of all U.S. forces and bases from South Viet Nam;

2. A policy of no alliances for North and South Viet Nam;

3. Acceptance of the Viet Cong's political program for South Viet Nam;

4. Eventual unification of North and South Viet Nam without outside interference.

Rusk declined to elaborate on an earlier State Department comment that peace overtures made by Hanoi last year did not indicate a serious desire to negotiate.

Thant's Advice

In the fall of 1964, U.N. Secretary-General U Thant advised Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson that North Viet Nam was willing to send an emissary to Rangoon, Burma, for a secret meeting with a U.S. representative. The United States rejected that bid.

Observers in Washington said the U.S. government believed it was in too weak a position, militarily and diplomatically, to negotiate. It is felt that the U.S. position has improved considerably, and the Mansfield mission to Warsaw, Moscow, Romania, Saigon and other points could be a sign that the United States is actively seeking peace talks.

Congress Asks Report On Job Corps Camps; Suspend Openings

BY ROBERT S. ALLEN AND PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Anti-poverty director Sargent Shriver is suspending the opening of additional Job Corps camps in urban areas while he tries to get at the bottom of the turmoil and scandals that have rocked the eight in operation.

Pending the outcome of this unannounced investigation, Shriver has ordered a slowdown in recruiting trainees for the existing camps.

These backstage decisions will halt the launching of two new Job Corps centers scheduled for the end of this month. Announcement of them was to have been made by Thanksgiving.

Leaders Disturbed

Two congressional leaders who voted for the anti-poverty program but now are deeply disturbed by the disorders and misdeeds afflicting it triggered Shriver's probe.

This bipartisan demand was made by Sen. John Sherman Cooper, Ky., ranking Republican on the Public Works Committee, and Rep. John Fogarty, D-R.I., chairman of the Appropriations Subcommittee in charge of the anti-poverty budget.

In separate letters they warned Shriver that unless he immediately initiates a thorough inquiry and forceful corrective measures, Congress will do so.

Until impelled to act by this blunt prodding, Shriver had minimized the numerous riots, demonstrations, irregularities and other disruptions that have plagued this phase of President Johnson's $1.5 billion anti-poverty program. But the stern admonitions from Cooper and Fogarty, and mounting bipartisan criticism from other members of Congress caused Shriver to change his mind.

Personal Visits

Not only is he going to investigate the job camps, but he will participate in that himself by personally visiting all of them. The eight centers are located at:

Camp Atterbury, Edinburg, Ind.; Camp Breckinridge, Morgansfield, Ky.; Camp Custer, Battle Creek, Mich.; Camp Gary, San Marcos, Tex.; Camp Kilmer, Edison, N. J.; Camp Parks, Pleasanton, Calif.; Camp Rodman, New Bedford, Mass., Camp Tung Point, Astoria, Oregon.

Senator Cooper particularly called for a prompt report on riot-torn Camp Breckinridge, where some of the worst incidents have occurred. Outside police authorities had to be summonded to quell recent outbreaks.

In his letter to Shriver, Cooper wrote:

"I am deeply disturbed about the situation reported to have developed in the operation of the Job Corps center at Camp Breckinridge, Ky. This is a serious matter, and I would request that you immediately examine the operation of other centers around the country so that we will have assurance that this kind of problem does not exist and will not be permitted to develop elsewhere.

Asks Full Report

"I would also appreciate your making available to me a full report on both the situation at Camp Breckinridge and the steps being taken by your office and the University (Southern Illinois, which operates the camp) to correct it."

Representative Fogarty disclosed in his letter that he is undertaking a nationwide undertaking a nation wide scrutiny of the Neighborhood Youth Corps, another aspect of the anti-poverty program. Fogarty cited a number of improprieties and violations that have come to light, among them the following:

—More than 40 youths employed in Kansas City, Kans., who were ineligible on the basis of need. One, a student at the University of Kansas, owned an expensive 1965 sports car.

—In Carlinville, Ill., the Youth Corps employed only individuals recommended by the local Democratic machine.

—Employes of a Youth Corps in Cranston, R. I., included city officials, a building contractor, liquor store owner, vice president of a bank, a dentist, a doctor, three well-paid state officials.

Floundering Program

The eight urban Job Corps camps have a capacity of 16,000 trainees, but only 7,100 are enrolled. Most of the camps are operating at half capacity on orders from Shriver.

Similarly, only 57 of the 93 authorized Job Corps Conservation camps are in operation. They have a capacity of 10,000 trainees, but only 6,000 are enrolled.

There are five Job Corps centers for women. No serious disturbances have occurred in these camps. However, they are being included in Shriver's investigation and will be visited by him.

launching the Job Corps last

In the official announcement April, Shriver declared:

"It is aimed specifically at one million young people who have not completed secondary education, who have been unable to find a satisfactory job, and whose reading and arithmetic skills range from the fourth to the seventh grade levels. Some high school graduates will be enrolled in exceptional cases.

"About 40,000 young men and women, from all sections of America, can be enrolled in the first year, and 100,000 in the second year. They will include members of different religious, racial and ethnic groups. Criminals, addicts, and others with serious emotional or psychological disorders will not be eligible for the Job Corps."

Shriners Journey To Egypt for Rite

CAIRO (AP). — Some 300 Shriners, garbed in fezzes and colorful robes, gathered recently between the massive paws of the Sphinx to initiate 32 members into the ancient arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

The Shriners, mostly from the United States, went by camel caravan to a tent city provided for them by the Egyptian government. There they were entertained by belly dancers and whirling dervishes.

Property Values Up To $23,455,638,550

MADISON (AP)—The Wisconsin Department of Taxation reports that property values in the state rose to $23,455,638,550 in 1964. This is an increase of about $1.1 billion over the previous year.

The figures represent true value as estimated by the department in contrast to the assessed value figures used by local governments for taxation purposes.

Seven-Year-Old Doesn't Like Dancing With Young Partners

LONDON (AP) — At the age of 7, Kevin Lack has a man-sized problem — finding the ideal partner to help him win prizes for ballroom dancing.

She must be as good as he is. She must also be his size.

"It's really very difficult," said Kevin. "The girls who are my size are 5 and 6 years old. I find it very difficult trying to concentrate while dancing with girls of that age."

Older girls are generally more accomplished dancers, but they tend to tower over him.

Kevin is 4 feet tall.

In competitions held by the Dance Teachers Association of Britain, the boy has won gold, silver and bronze medals.

"When I won my gold medal the other day, my partner was more than a foot taller than I am," said Kevin. "This is not what I want."

Kevin's mother, Margaret Lack, is a dancing instructor, and the boy started dancing when he was 2½.

"He has great talent," said the mother. "He can go very far."

"Even as a tiny baby, Kevin had a sense of rhythm. He used to beat out time to music with his baby spoon."

Pope Paul Says Canon Code Will be Brought Up to Date

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI said Saturday the Code of Canon Law — the body of laws of the Roman Catholic Church — would be revised in accordance with the modernization measures of the Vatican Ecumenical Council.

The need to update the rules and regulations concerning the conduct of ecclesiastical affairs, was expressed by the pontiff in a special audience granted to 60 cardinals and 70 experts of the Pontifical Commission for the Code of Canon Law.

The commission was founded by Pope John XXIII but its work will get under way after the council ends Dec. 8.
